ROOSEVELT WILL ASK 1½ BILLIONS FOR U. S. RELIEF

Congress Jittery at Tax Hike Threat.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 19.—[Special.]—A group of subdued leaders of congress emerged from the White House tonight after a protracted conference with President Roosevelt to announce that the executive's message to congress tomorrow would call for expenditures of one and one-half billions for relief during the next fiscal year.

The statesmen, led by Vice President Garner and Speaker William B. Bankhead, had been in a hilarious mood when they assembled at the President's call. The meeting had been delayed by an exciting ten inning baseball game between the Washington and Philadelphia American league teams at which most members of congress had been able to forget momentarily their apprehensions concerning the coming battle over relief appropriations and new taxes which is deemed inevitable.

Confer for Two Hours.

In a serious talk by Mr. Roosevelt, lasting two hours, the legislators were told that a balanced budget was as far away as ever before and new taxes at this session loomed as a very real possibility.

The figure of $1,500,000,000 fixed by Mr. Roosevelt for next year's relief appropriations appeared to satisfy none. Some of the conferees, it was learned, objected that it was too high and Senator Joseph T. Robinson [D., Ark.], majority leader of the senate, remarked:

"Some of those present felt that the figure might well be reduced to one billion."

Senator James F. Byrnes [D., S. C.], known as the President's "spokesman" on the appropriations committee, recently announced that he would fight against any relief appropriation for more than one billion. Byrnes was one of the conferees but hurried away when an attempt was made to question him.

Radicals Seek Two Billions.

The radical bloc in congress already has announced that it will bitterly contest the one and one-half billion recommendation. This group's ideas of relief appropriations range from two billions upward.

The mayors and governors of the 48 states have petitioned the President for a minimum relief appropriation of 2 billion, 200 million dollars.

Sadness tinged Senator Robinson's tones as he announced that "it is the feeling of all that every practical effort be made to limit expenditures and appropriations so as to close as soon as possible the gap between income and outgo."

There was evident in the majority leader's attitude a despair that such an ambition could be realized.

"The reduced receipts from income taxes have accentuated the importance of limiting in every reasonable way the appropriations during this session," Robinson added.

Refers to 1938 Budget.

"Indications are that if the estimates approximately are conformed to in the appropriations, the budget will be out of balance for the next fiscal year, but it is thought that ways may be found, without increasing taxes, to bring the deficit to a very narrow margin."

There was a gasp at this statement until Robinson hastily added: "Of course, I am talking now about the 1938 budget."

Senator Pat Harrison [D., Miss.], chairman of the finance committee, another of those who participated in the conference, announced he would continue his drive for passage of a 100 million dollar education aid bill at this session. He and Robinson clashed recently over this measure, Robinson protesting that it was time for congress to begin practicing economy.

Warns of Collapse.

The fears of congress about new taxes to meet increasing deficits were not soothed by a fiery speech in the house today by Arthur P. Lamneck [D., O.], member of the ways and means committee, a leading advocate of expenditures to promote "recovery" until recently.

"Our plan of spending more money than we receive in the way of revenue must stop in the immediate fu-

WORKERS SPURN PACT ACCEPTED BY LEWIS AIDS

Ontario 'Surrender' Beaten Down.

Washington, D. C., April 19.—[Special.]—Two serious setbacks that left John L. Lewis' United Automobile Workers in a quandary were the result of hectic activities today in the capital and in Oshawa, Ont. How the auto union leadership will meet the puzzle tomorrow was the subject tonight of much speculation among observers.

Mayor Alex Hall.

First in importance came the rejection in Oshawa tonight of wage and hour concessions offered by General Motors of Canada to the strikers at its Oshawa plant. Lewis' leaders, so severe has been the pressure applied by Premier Mitchell Hepburn of Ontario, had accepted the company's offer, even though it refused recognition of the union. But to this extent the Oshawa strikers were unwilling to go, although urged to do so by Mayor Alex Hall of Oshawa, a union supporter, and Hugh Thompson, U. A. W. A. organizer at Oshawa. The strikers, by unanimous vote, overrode their own leadership's surrender.

Dodge Vote on Strike.

In Washington, where the executive board of the union had been called into session, particularly for the purpose of voting on a complete tieup of General Motors plants in the United States in support of the Canadian strikers, the voting was postponed in the hope that the strikers would accept the "compromise" agreement and thus remove the heat from the U. A. W. A. leadership.

While the board was marking time in this hope, it did get down to business long enough to decide not to rush its unionization drive against Henry Ford. This was postponed until November. It was reported that the closed meeting saw many bitter wrangles and that Homer Martin, the union president, was under fire.

There were reports that the union executive board did not relish the prospect of going half prepared, as in some recent campaigns by Martin, against the strongest individual in the automotive industry. Ford's refusal to scare easily and the recollection of his victory over Gen. Hugh S. Johnson and his Blue Eagle were said to give cooler heads in the board considerable pause.

Blamed for Canadian Fiasco.

Martin was reported questioned concerning his campaign in Canada, which older heads felt was inadvised from almost every labor standpoint, to say nothing of international diplomacy. This was believed the real reason why the union was willing to concede much, including union recognition, to get out of the situation. One proposal today was that the union should not call a strike in the United States, but should offer the Oshawa strikers "financial aid." The board has not yet voted on this, but it may do so tomorrow.

Early this afternoon Martin announced officially that his union had cited Ford to the labor relations board. Later he denied this statement and said tonight the union would do so, but he set no time. The board itself is forbidden by regulations to reveal whether or not such a citation has been brought.

While the C. I. O. groups, including the automobile union, were holding their executive meetings in Washington today, the council of the American Federation of Labor likewise was in session nearby to consider summoning a special convention to vote expulsion of Lewis and his rebels. At the end of the meeting President William Green said no action had yet been taken.

STRIKERS VOTE NO

Cyclist Slays Motorist After Road Quarrel

A boy on a new red bicycle rode southwest in Archer avenue yesterday, arguing with two men who were following him in an automobile. Mrs. Annabelle Roman, sitting with her baby in her arms on her porch at 4934 Archer avenue, saw the car stop, and saw one of the men engage the boy in a fight.

The boy was being beaten down when a knife gleamed in his hand in the bright afternoon sunshine. With one swift thrust beneath the heart the boy killed his adversary, Peter Valance, 39 years old, an ex-convict living at 1424 South Cicero avenue, Cicero.

"That will take care of you," the boy said.

Then he mounted his bicycle and pedaled back eastward.

Object of Wide Hunt.

The boy, believed to be no more than 19 years old, was the object of a widespread search by the police last night. They were of the opinion that he lived in the neighborhood of the killing.

There were two versions of the events leading up to the killing. One was told by William M. Bauman, 40 years old, a refrigerator salesman, living at 5337 West Van Buren street, the driver of the car in which Valance rode. The other was supplied by half a dozen witnesses along the street.

Bauman, who said he and Valance had been drinking in two taverns, said the boy had been deliberately zigzagging in front of the automobile to prevent its passing.

Car Gets Past, Stops.

When the car did get past, Bauman said, it was stopped and Valance went back to reprimand the boy. There was a brief dispute, according to Bauman, and then came the stabbing.

But Matthew Smolek of 5214 South Lorel avenue said the trouble began half a mile from the stabbing. He was sitting in a restaurant at Archer and Sawyer avenues, he said, when the bicycle and the car passed by.

The boy accused the men of starting the trouble, produced a hunting knife, and warned them.

"If you don't leave me alone I'll stab you."

Valance got out of the car, Smolek said, but the boy pushed him back inside and rode on.

Says Valance Slugged Boy.

Mrs. Roman, the eyewitness of the killing, said that Valance slugged the boy and then threw the boy's bicycle part way across the street. The boy fought back, she said, but was getting badly beaten when he drew the knife.

Richard Gast, who was near by building a fence, said he saw the slaying. Others completed the story.

Capt. Frank Denski of the Brighton Park police held Bauman for questioning.

Valance had a police record dating to 1919. He had served two terms in the Joliet penitentiary.

Witnesses described the boy as about 5 feet 8 inches tall, weighing about 150 pounds, and clad in a blue sweater and brown trousers. He had dark hair, and wore no hat.

'ALL IS CONFUSION' AS BOSTON PUTS ON PATRIOT DAY PARADE

Boston, Mass., April 19.—[Special.]—If Paul Revere and William G. Dawes were as confused during their rides to sound the alarm 162 years ago as Patriots' day officials in Cambridge today this country still might be a dominion.

Confusion surrounded Gov. Hurley and his party on Cambridge common, where they waited anxiously to view the parade. Maj. Ralph W. Robart came dashing up to inform the party they were at the wrong post. They sped to the site of the Sumner statue, the official reviewing stand.

Meanwhile, Sergt. Walter Mortenson — today's modern William G. Dawes—set a precedent by arriving not once, but twice in Cambridge. He reached Cambridge common on schedule, but found nobody there to greet him. So he beat a hasty retreat and reappeared fifteen minutes later—to find the reception committee.

This Fish Story Is About Landing a Deer in Shad Net

Peekskill, N. Y., April 19.—[Special.]—When Emmett Keefe hauled in his shad nets on the Hudson river here today he discovered he had caught, in addition to a few shad, a young buck deer, weighing about 70 pounds. Swimming in the river, the deer had become entangled in the nets, but was unharmed. Keefe turned it over to a deputy game protector, who set it free.

Su-lin, the world's only giant panda in captivity, yesterday bade her mistress a rough but affectionate farewell and became a permanent resident at the Chicago Zoölogical park in Brookfield. The clownish baby panda will greet visitors daily, beginning today.

Mrs. William H. Harkness Jr. of New York, who found Su-lin in a hollow tree on the Chinese-Tibetan border last November, presented the animal to the zoo without direct payment. But members of the Chicago Zoölogical society are reported to have contributed $10,000 to finance another expedition by Mrs. Harkness next fall.

Gets Best Care at Brookfield.

Mrs. Harkness in January was asking $20,000 for her panda. She said her decision to give Su-lin to the Brookfield zoo was made in the panda's own interests. The panda receives the best care possible there, she said.

"I almost dissolved in tears when I decided to part with Baby permanently," Mrs. Harkness said. "You know, I slept with her for many nights."

Su-lin, who eventually is expected to weigh more than 300 pounds, has increased her weight from 10 pounds to 31 pounds in the ten weeks she has been a visitor at Brookfield. Already a bundle of wild activity, she presented a problem yesterday when her mistress came to say good-by.

Claws Now Two Inches Long.

The little Himalayan bear, with its clownish black and white markings, has claws two inches long, as Mrs. Harkness found to her discomfort. Sitting cross-legged on the floor of the nursery, she hugged the panda as if it were a child until Su-lin's claws and teeth wrought havoc with her skin and hair.

"Talk to me, Baby," Mrs. Harkness crooned. "Are you tired? Are you sleepy?"

Su-lin only gnawed and scratched some more, until she was finally returned to her play-pen, where she stood up against the bars and played with the colored wood spools. Occasionally she varied her play by turning a sommersault.

The public may see Su-lin between 11 o'clock and noon and 3 and 4 o'clock in the ape cage of the monkey house.

Young Slayers Confess After Ruse by Police

Police invented a fake murder, and dangled an oral picture of the electric chair in front of two young robbery suspects as a ruse last night. The ruse more than worked. It solved a real murder. It made the two prisoners, police said, candidates for the real chair.

The prisoners who confessed are John Mikosz, 18 years old, 2459 Thomas street, and Walter Pekovitch, also 18, of 1101 North Hermitage avenue, both on parole from the St. Charles School for Boys after serving terms for armed robbery, according to police. Mikosz was released from St. Charles last November and Pekovitch last October.

They were arrested yesterday at Augusta boulevard and Wood street by Sergt. Patrick Griffin and his detective bureau squad for the minor shooting of George Kussan, 21 years old, 1639 Crossing street. Kussan was shot in both legs near his home Sunday night during an altercation.

Casual Mention of Death.

At the detective bureau last night, Chief of Detectives John L. Sullivan ordered Sergts. John Hanrahan and Thomas Fallon to question the prisoners. They confessed shooting Kussan, Mikosz handling the gun.

"I don't suppose you knew that Kussan died," mentioned Hanrahan casually. "It might mean the chair."

Kussan had not died, but Sergt. Hanrahan wanted to get the pair's reaction. It came swiftly. Mikosz and Pekovitch began to tremble and stutter. Their faces paled. Mikosz, in agonizing fear, sought to save himself and Pekovitch by confessing to lesser crimes. "We did a lot of street stickups," he blurted. Pekovitch nodded.

Then Sergt. Fallon went into action. He produced paper and pencils, and told the youths to pretend they were in school rooms and write down every robbery they committed. Mikosz scribbled down ten and Pekovitch eight. Both admitted there were others.

Memories Refreshed.

Fallon then got out the police blotter, and went through it page by page, mentioning robberies to refresh their memories. In this way eight more holdups were cleared. Towards the end of the book Fallon noticed the attempted robbery and shooting of Edward Niewerowski, 40 years old, 2451 Cortez street, a laundry driver. He was shot down in front of 2028 Thomas street the

LOYALIST SPAIN HITS BLOCKADE BY 27 NATIONS

60 Warships Mass to Stop Arms Supply.

LONDON, April 20 [Tuesday].—(AP)—As keen eyed observers of many nations scanned the land and sea frontiers of warring Spain early today, carrying into effect from midnight the control scheme adopted by 27 European countries to prevent the entrance of volunteers and war materials, the Valencia [loyalist] government defied the patrol set up by nearly 60 warships of four nations.

Valencia ordered its fleet and air force to protect all ships flying the Spanish flag and those of other countries asking protection in Spanish waters. Such protection, it announced, particularly would be applied to government held ports on the Mediterranean coast where German and Italian ships were assigned to patrol.

Does Not Affect Other Ships.

Charging that the international patrol was "unjust and contrary to international law," and declaring it was virtually a blockade of Spanish ports, Valencia reminded its fleet and air forces the international scheme did not affect ships of countries—particularly American—outside the pact nor Spanish ships.

"Though we may have to pay tragically for the consequences of political errors committed by France and England," Valencia said, "we are sure of their intention to adhere to their word and their eventual correction of policy. We cannot say the same of Italy and Germany." [The latter nations have been accused of aiding the Spanish rebels.]

Warships Steam to Posts.

All day yesterday warships of Great Britain, France, Italy, and Germany were steaming to their assigned positions off the Spanish coast. Vice Admiral Sir Geoffrey Blake, aboard Britain's mightiest battle cruiser, the Hood, commanded the patrol in northern Spanish waters from France to Cape Busto [near Gijon]. In his squadron were the cruiser Shropshire and nine destroyers.

A swarm of French war vessels, mostly destroyers, destroyer leaders, mine layers, and dispatch boats took up their allotted positions ten miles off the coast from Cape Busto to the border of Portugal.

Four British destroyers sailed from Gibraltar to take up the patrol along the southern Spanish coast from Portugal to Gibraltar. Other units of the British Mediterranean fleet are stationed between Gibraltar and Cape de Gata, east of Almeria.

German Base at French Port.

The German cruiser Leipzig, commanded by Rear Admiral Boehm, reached Algiers, which the French government has put at the disposition of German ships as port of call for provisioning. The pocket battleship Graf Spee, the cruiser Emden, and two submarines are also in the Mediterranean, policing Germany's strip of the coast from Cape de Gata to Cape Oropesa, north of Valencia.

Italy's patrol fleet guards the coast from Cape Oropesa to the Mediterranean Franco-Spanish frontier. It consists of the flotilla leaders Quarto, Aquila, Mirabello and Falco and the destroyers Nullo and Manin.

The outlying possessions of Spain have also been apportioned among the four powers: Britain watching the rebel held Canary Islands; France, rebel held Spanish Morocco and the Balearic Islands of Mallorca, Iviza and Formentera; and Italy, the government held Balearic Island of Minorca.

Fleets to Be Shifted.

Each of the four patrol fleets will be shifted and relieved from time to time, so it will be impossible for the captain of merchantmen to know which warships he is likely to encounter. There is no limit to the numbers of warships any nation may employ for patrol duties.

Freighters bound for Spain are to be directed to eleven control ports which are as widely separated as Dover, England, on the North Sea; Verdon, on the Gironde river, southwestern France; Gibraltar, and Marseilles, southern France.

At a control port, a neutral observer will board a freighter, check and examine its cargo. The observer will ride the ship to Spain, watch it discharge cargo, and ride the ship or some other back to a "convenient port" and return home.

If a ship is found to carry war materials, observers can report the infraction to the nonintervention committee here. If a ship fails to take observers aboard, it can be reported to the warships steaming along the coasts. Warships, however, have no power other than to report the infraction so that the nonintervention committee in turn can report it to the government responsible.

Vessels flying a flag showing two black circles on a white background may pass the international control warships without being queried. This flag means the vessel has an international observer aboard and has been granted a certificate declaring she carries nothing contraband under the nonintervention agreement.

Police Land Frontiers.

There are 130 neutral observers controlling the Franco-Spanish frontier, supervised by a Danish officer. These observers include many Danish, Dutch, British, Swiss and Scandinavian military officials. France also has several hundred provincial police at the Pyrenees frontier which has always been a sieve for smugglers.

On the Spanish-Portuguese frontier there are 80 British observers exercising control and the number will be brought up to 130. Observers on both frontiers have been invested with diplomatic immunity and have the right to circulate freely at any time of day or night. They may inspect docks, railways and maritime stations, and may demand to see any one's credentials or passports.

Ninety observers, including British naval officers, Dutch officers and even a Turkish captain, went on duty at Gibraltar to watch the short frontier between the British possession and Spain. Part of these observers will check ship cargoes.

VOTE TO INDICT DR. TRAINOR IN DIVORCEE DEATH

True bills charging murder by abortion were reported voted by the Cook county grand jury yesterday against Dr. Morgan L. Trainor, 57 years old, 6248 University avenue, and Mrs. Charlotte Witort, 38, a nurse who used her home at 2843 Pearl street, Franklin Park, as a small hospital.

Dr. Morgan L. Trainor.

The doctor, a former coroner's physician who is also a lawyer, and the nurse were seized by police after the death in the Witort home on Friday of Mrs. Frances Link, 37 years old, a divorcee who lived at 5328 Drexel avenue. Dr. Trainor signed a death certificate giving heart disease and goiter as the cause of Mrs. Link's death. Assistant State's Attorneys Morris G. Meyers and Benjamin Nelson said physicians' findings showed death was due to septicemia following an abortion.

Kills Girl, 15, Shoots Self; Youth Says 'It's Love Affair'

Washington, Ind., April 19.—(AP)—"It was a love affair, I want to die," 19 year old Henry V. Raney, near death from self-inflicted bullet wounds, told police after a shooting here tonight resulted in the death of Mary Hartman, 15, Washington High school student. Raney went to the Hartman home, shot the girl, and then ran into the street and shot himself three times in the chest. The girl died within a few minutes.

Killed by Elevated Train at Pulaski Road Station

Lisbon Is Jarred by Quake; Residents Flee Into Streets

LISBON, Portugal, April 20.—[Tuesday.]—(AP)—A slight earthquake here early today sent Lisbon residents scurrying into the streets in panic. No casualties or damage were reported.

MADRID SHELLED FOR EIGHTH DAY; TOLL RISES TO 100

Citizens Stroll in Streets Despite Danger.

MADRID, April 19.—(AP)—Rebel aircraft guns and artillery pumped shells into the streets and buildings of pockmarked Madrid today for the eighth consecutive day.

During these eight days 100 persons have been killed and more than twice that many wounded. Victims for the most part have been pedestrians struck down in the streets.

Many of those still clinging to their homes during the siege were numbered among the dead and wounded. The shells often penetrate buildings and explode inside.

Continue Fire in Night.

Rebel shelling continued until midnight, claiming a number of victims. Ambulances and fire trucks clanged their way through the darkened streets to remove the injured and extinguish blazes started by the shells. The missils were fired into scattered parts of Madrid—residential districts as well as the downtown section.

The government pressed its offensive against rebels on the Teruel front 150 miles to the east. Late reports said loyalists were closing in on rebels around Teruel, but making slow progress because of stiff resistance.

Destruction of Spain's largest arms factory, the Toledo plant where the famous Toledo sabers were made, was reported semi-officially tonight from the Toledo front. The report said the factory was destroyed by an explosion and fire caused by a government artillery bombardment today.

Rebels Threaten Bilbao.

HENDAYE, France, April 19.—(AP)—Spanish rebels tonight pictured Bilbao, northern Spanish port, as a city disheartened by lack of food and fearfully awaiting the crash of artillery barrage.

Rebel Gen. Francisco Franco warned the government defenders of the city that 500 artillery pieces were placed within range of their lines.

A rebel radio station said the Basques were ready to give up the fight unless the Valencia government supplies fresh troops and unless the naval blockade off Bilbao is lifted to permit importation of food.

The British freighter Thorpehall ran the blockade on another part of the coast today, however, arriving at Oviedo's Port of Musel under the protection of three British destroyers who watched from a distance.

Pullman Building Fire Attracts Loop Crowds

A smoldering fire ate through the north walls of the seventh floor offices of the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company in the Pullman building at 208 South Michigan avenue early today. Fire companies racing through the loop attracted a large early morning crowd. The flames were confined to the walls, and firemen said property damage probably would be small.

May Irwin, Comedienne, Recovering from Shock

Clinton, N. Y., April 19.—(AP)—Mrs. Kurt Eisfeldt, known for years as a comedienne on the American stage as May Irwin, was recovering tonight at her home, Rainbow's End, from what was described as a "severe shock" suffered yesterday.

SOVIET FLYER ARRIVES AT ISLAND 550 MILES FROM THE NORTH POLE

MOSCOW, April 19.—(AP)—The world' northernmost habitation, Rudolf Island, 2,500 miles from Moscow and about 550 miles from the north pole, reported the safe arrival today of P. G. Golovin, noted soviet flyer making an aerial survey of the arctic regions. When Golovin left Moscow for his flight March 23 it was reported he might test the feasibility of establishing an air base at the north pole.

Golovin, accompanied by a radio operator and two mechanics, reached Rudolf Island on a flight from Cape Desire, northernmost point of Novaya Zemlya land, accomplishing the crossing of forbidding Barents sea in 3 hours 25 minutes.

A soviet wintering party of 17 members has spent seven months on Rudolf Island, part of Franz Josef land. It is a little more than eight degrees from the pole.

CLIMBS HIGHEST ON LIGHT POLE; ELECTROCUTED

Carl Anderson of 749 Lorel avenue climbed the highest of all the boys who were trying to reach the top of the tall metal lamp post at the Merrick park playground in Austin last night. Carl, 15 years old, a student at the Austin High school, was 25 feet in the air, reaching for the top, when his fingertips touched a live wire.

While his admiring playmates cheered him on, unaware of what had happened, the current passed through his body. The boy fell to the ground, killed by the charge.

OSLO ALARMED BY MYSTERIOUS WAR MANEUVERS

Craft Reported Hovering Along Norway Coast.

OSLO, Norway, April 19.—(AP)—Foreign airplanes, warships, and submarines reported hovering mysteriously about the the Scandinavian countries brought a war scare to Oslo tonight.

Area in which strange maneuvers are reported.

Officials professed alarm over the frequently recurring reports, and Gen. Carl Erichsen, chief of Norway's defense in the north, urged the government to speed up defense measures.

German Operations Reported.

The mysterious planes and ships of war have been reported along the entire coast of Norway.

The newspaper Tidens Tegn said: "The North Atlantic has become the central scene for the next war, and Russia is now maneuvering for experience," intimating the mystery planes and ships were Russian.

The newspaper Aftenposten of Oslo has openly declared that Germany last fall sent warships to look for possible bases for air and naval operations in the arctic.

Fear to Weaken Defenses.

So grave was the situation considered that parliament's foreign relations committee doubted the advisability of a cabinet proposal to send a warship to protect Norwegian shipping in Spanish waters. The committee hesitated to weaken home defense.

Military authorities said yesterday at Bergen, Norway, that a fleet of warships, one aircraft carrier, a submarine, and an airplane of undetermined nationality maneuvered close to the coast on April 5.

$100,000 IN GEMS ROLL INTO LONDON GUTTER IN A DARING HOLDUP

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 19.—Gems valued at $100,000 rolled into a gutter of Regent place in London's swanky west end today when a robber tried to snatch them from a jeweler's messenger. The robber escaped.

The messenger was entering the door of a jewelry store with the jewels in a bag when a young man punched him in the face and knocked him down nine stone steps. The messenger clung to the bag, which burst, scattering the jewels along the pavement.

As the robber ran away a porter brought him down with a flying tackle. The porter asked spectators to hold the captive while he went for police. When he returned the prisoner was gone. None could explain how he got away.

WIDOW NAMED TO ROSS' POST IN OAK PARK

Mrs. Esther Ross, 414 Thomas street, Oak Park, widow of William B. Ross, Oak Park township collector for seventeen years, was appointed to that office last night by the village trustees. Ross died on April 8, the day after he had been reëlected. James A. Howe, president of the board, said the appointment was possible because the suburb and Oak Park township have the same boundaries. Charles E. Gawne, who opposed Ross, had been appointed collector by the outgoing township board, and contended that his appointment would continue under the new administration.

night of April 6. Fallon tried a long shot as Hanrahan had.

"You're pretty absent minded, Walter," he scolded Pekovitch. "Here you've covered two sheets of paper and never mentioned the stickup of Ed Niewerowski."

"That's right; I did forget that one," admitted Pekovitch. "And Johnny Mikosz shot at him."

He Writes That Down, Too.

Fallon hurried over to Mikosz, who was out of hearing, and obtained his confirmation of the shooting. "I fired three shots in the ground to scare Niewerowski," said Mikosz. "Wait, I'll write that down, teo."

Today they'll learn that Niewerowski is dead.

HELD IN DANCE KILLING

Two Chicago detectives, John Fallon and John Sheehan, were in Cincinnati last night preparing to return Emil Trimarco, 19 years old, a paroled automobile thief, to the city today to be charged with the murder of Frank Panfil, nortwest side grocer, on April 11. Panfil was slain in his store at 3756 Irving Park boulevard by two young bandits.

Harold Julian, 18 years old, who has a four year police record, confessed Sunday he was one of the bandits, and named Trimarco as the actual slayer. Julian said they wanted money to go to a dance. Trimarco fled to Cincinnati, where he was arrested in a cheap hotel early yesterday.

After denying for several hours that he had anything to do with the fatal holdup, Trimarco last night changed his story and admitted he had been in the Panfil store. But he reversed Julian's account and named Julian as the one who fired the shot that killed the grocer. A .32 caliber pistol was found in Trimarco's hotel room. He admitted, Cincinnati police said, that it was used in the slaying, but said he picked it up in an alley where Julian threw it.

Two Witnesses Found.

When Trimarco arrives under police escort he will be taken to the Lawndale police station, where Julian is being held, and they will be confronted with two witnesses. These men, Donald Miller, 5823 North Clark street, and Emil Stiglic, 3810 Irving Park boulevard, had bought bread and ham in the Panfil store just before the shooting. As they left they collided with the two bandits.

Last night Judge Grover C. Niemeyer, who sentenced Trimarco to prison in 1935, declared that there was no excuse for paroling him, in view of his known criminal tendencies. Trimarco, he said, received freedom at the earliest possible time.

ADMITS BEATING GIRL TO DEATH WITH HAMMER

Manager and Violinist Quarrel Over Love.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 19.—[Special.]—Mischa Rosenbaum, philandering mandolin strummer and Broadway booking agent, was charged with the hammer murder of Julia Nussenbaum, comely night club violinist, and lodged in a police cell tonight.

The short, powerfully built musician, known as Mischa Ross, admitted he struck the girl when they quarreled and left her dying behind the silken curtains of a rehersal studio yesterday, according to Deputy Chief Inspector Michael McDermott. Besides admissions of the weeping, hysterical prisoner, detectives uncovered a mass of evidence to pin the crime on him, McDermott said.

Spurned by Protégée.

Rosenbaum had been madly in love with the talented young violinist, his protégé, who used the professional name of Tania Lelevo, but the girl spurned his affections, police explained. The mandolin player is married and has a 5 year old child, but left his family two years ago.

After the crime Rosenbaum fled to Monticello, N. Y., to the home of his father-in-law, where he was arrested this morning. Rosenbaum was in a raving, drunken condition. Police sent out an alarm for him at midnight after his protégé died in a hospital without regaining consciousness. The blows had crushed her skull.

The floor of the studio was spattered with blood where the girl's body had been dragged around. There was blood on the walls and furniture. State police found blood on Rosenbaum's shoes.

Too Drunk to Remember.

The weapon used was a clawhammer but whether the slayer carried it with him to the studio or found it there has not been ascertained.

Rosenbaum admitted he had rented the studio and asked the girl to meet him there for a rehersal. He was too drunk to recall what happened, he said, except that they had quarreled and he had hit her. Then he boarded the bus for Monticello.

An elevator operator identified Rosenbaum as the man who had gone into the studio to meet the violinist yesterday.

Father Recalls Threats.

The dying girl was found by Moya Engel, acrobatic dancer, who had hired the studio for a following two hour period. The body was identified by the girl's father, Nathan Nussenbaum, wealthy Bridgeport, Conn., business man, who told the police that Rosenbaum had voiced threats because his daughter did not return his love.

RUNAWAY WIFE WOUNDED; SUITOR ENDS OWN LIFE

A runaway wife from Tennessee, Mrs. Hallie Killebrew, 22 years old, was shot and seriously wounded last night in a quarrel with her sweetheart, Keith Hiers, 23, of 1734 Barry avenue. Hiers then shot himself in the brain. He died later in Alexian Brothers hospital. Mrs. Killebrew is in County hospital, where she was taken from the Illinois Masonic hospital.

According to their landlady, Mrs. Nettie Leonard, the couple had lived in an attic flat at the Barry avenue address for six weeks. They told her they were married. Mrs. Killebrew's brother, William Bradley, 2145 Barry avenue, told police however, that she had run away from her husband, Jesse, in Dresden, Tenn.

HITLER AGREES TO JOIN WORLD ECONOMIC DEAL

British Labor Chief Wins Fuehrer's Pledge.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, April 19.—Secret preparations for a world economic conference at which the limitation of arms would be discussed neared a climax today. George Lansbury, British Labor party leader, won from Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler an agreement in principle to participate in the proposed conference.

"Germany is willing to take part in a united effort to establish economic coöperation and mutual understanding among the nations of the world if President Roosevelt or the head of some other great nation will take the lead in calling such a conference," said an official announcement.

Celebrates Birthday Today.

Hitler made public his decision on the eve of his 48th birthday anniversary, which will be celebrated throughout the land tomorrow.

Lansbury, who conferred with the Fuehrer for two hours, has been negotiating for an economic conference with President Roosevelt, Premier Leon Blum of France, Prime Minister Paul Van Zeeland of Belgium and the foreign ministers of the Scandinavian countries. He said he hopes Mr. Roosevelt will call the conference.

The British labor leader indicated that soviet Russia will join the parley. Hitler, it was said, raised no objection to Russian participation.

One of the purposes of the conference, it was reported, is "to remove the cause of war, to discuss why each nation is arming, what hope each sees in it, and what can be done to remove the reasons which are causing each nation to pursue its present course."

Delivers Message to Army.

In a birthday message to the German army Hitler said: "Soldiers! You and succeeding generations who join the army must write the future history of Germany. God grant that it may be even a greater history than the past."

The Fuehrer presented ninety flags to new units of the army, navy, and air force in a ceremony before the chancellery. He said the flags must remind the fighting forces of three things: "The glorious past; the great battle of the present—because what was so ardently desired for centuries is now an actuality—namely, the unity of the German people; and the rebirth of the German people."

One million boys and girls of the age of 10 were sworn into the Hitler Youth Organization tonight.

Tomorrow's celebrations will be featured by a parade in Berlin of 14,000 soldiers, sailors, and airmen. Hitler will review the troops.

LEAVE FOR CHINA

Two Chicago nurses, Miss Frances Little, 7013 Jeffery avenue, and Miss Caroline Finnegan, 1507 East 66th street, set out from Chicago last night for Peiping, China, to return Frederick B. Snite Jr. to Chicago in an iron lung. Young Snite, who is 23 years old, has been living in such a machine in China since he was stricken with infantile paralysis more than a year ago.

He is the son of Frederick B. Snite, 909 Ashland avenue, River Forest, president of the Local Loan company of Chicago.

The return from China will involve the use of a portable hand operated respirator to transfer the patient from the hospital to the train—from the train to the ship, and once again to a train in the United States. On trains and ship, electrically operated machines will be used.

$100,000 HEIRESS LOST FIVE DAYS; SUICIDE FEARED

Although she has been missing for five days, the police yesterday were without a single clew to the whereabouts of Miss Louise Brandon, 34 years old, 2480 Lake View avenue.

Fears that she may nave committed suicide were raised by Mrs. George Hope, owner of the house in Lake View avenue where Miss Brandon has lived for the last year.

On Wednesday evening Miss Brandon sought to get Charles Jackson, a writer, at Newark, N. J., on the long distance phone. When she failed to complete the call, roomers said they heard her exclaim:

"That ends everything."

At Kroch's bookstore, 206 North Michigan avenue, where Miss Brandon was employed, fellow workers were inclined to scoff at the thought that she had ended her own life. One of these, Mrs. Rachel Brand, 66 East Cedar street, an intimate friend of the missing woman, pointed out that She was the heiress to a $100,000 New York estate.

ROOSEVELT WILL ASK 1½ BILLIONS FOR U. S. RELIEF

Congressmen Jittery Over Threat of New Taxes.

ture or we are headed for another and perhaps worse collapse!" Lamneck told his worried colleagues.

Cutting down expenses or raising new revenues by new taxes are the only alternatives left to avert "the worst calamity in American history," Lamneck declared.

Speaker Bankhead sought to soothe members by a statement, but it was hardly worded in a manner to remove all their alarms.

"I do not see any prospect of new taxes at this stage of the game," said the speaker, cautiously. "There is not going to be any disposition to levy new taxes—unless an acute situation develops."

"Acute Situation" Is Fear.

Development of an "acute situation" is just what most of the Democratic leaders fear. Many blocs in congress already have formed to fight for huge appropriations for a various assortment of purposes. With a long session in prospect, mainly as a result of the President's Supreme court proposal, these movements will gain headway as the months pass.

Some of these new proposals and their costs were listed by Lamneck as follows:

Florida ship canal	$ 265,000,000
Farm tenant bill	195,000,000
Federal Works program [sponsored by radical group]	3,000,000,000
Housing Act	100,000,000
Crop Insurance	100,000,000
Old Age Pension Grants to States	500,000,000
Lemke Farm Mortgage Act	3,000,000,000
Lemke Home Mortgage Act	3,000,000,000
National Libraries Act	50,000,000
Deficiency Relief Appropriation to June 3	750,000,000
National Education Act	500,000,000
Venereal Disease Control	25,000,000
Weed Control	50,000,000
A bill to buy securities from states, etc	100,000,000
Flood Control for Pittsburgh district	2,500,000,000
Flood Loss Act	200,000,000
Military posts improvement	34,000,000
Dust Bowl Act	10,000,000
Roads Act	125,000,000
Dairy Relief	30,000,000
Drouth Appropriation act	500,000,000
Soil Survey	200,000,000
Slum Clearance	1,000,000,000
Livestock Feed	20,000,000
Total	$16,254,000,000

Can't Afford It, He Warns.

Many of these projects are probably worthy, but the nation cannot afford to approve any of them under present circumstances, Lamneck declared.

"It is a known fact," he added, "that the banks of this country have been selling government bonds for eight or nine months because they have begun to lose confidence in the future of United States bonds.

"This condition has caused the administration great concern. I do not know whether you know it or not, but the financing of the New Deal has been made possible by forcing the banks to buy bonds. How many times have you noticed, after a bond sale, that the issue has been oversubscribed? False propaganda, I say, because the public has not bought any to speak of and the banks bought them because of pressure by the government and from the further fact that it was not advisable to make private loans."

Lamneck said it was entirely possible that the federal reserve system would eventually be forced to take over all the bonds held by banks and would own 35 billion in bonds while circulating throughout the country 35 billions in additional paper money.

"To permit such a thing to happen spells ruination, and I plead with you while there is still an opportunity to prevent it to do so," he asserted.

One minority group in both senate and house is openly advocating increased taxes. It is led by Representative Maury Maverick [D., Tex.] and Senator Robert M. La Follette [Prog., Wis.].

ROOSEVELT'S RECORD AS TAX COLLECTOR

For 1937 President Roosevelt estimated tax receipts at $5,140,144,000. To date only $3,398,288,000 has been collected. What he will collect on his rosy prediction for 1938 is worrying Democratic leaders who fear development of "an acute situation." For his previous administration, receipts were far behind Roosevelt's predictions.

Warm weather brought a rush of business to sixteen vehicle inspection lanes operated by the city. Two more stations, in Marquette and Sherman parks will be in service tomorrow. CIRCUS MINDED BURGLARS GET KITCHENWARE

These burglars don't need to be burglars. They could be on the stage in a balancing act.

Early yesterday they smashed a skylight in the Montefiore School for Boys at 655 West 14th street and dropped 14 feet to the floor. Breaking a side window, they passed $182 in aluminum kitchenware out through the bars to accomplices on the outside.

Then they erected a tower of four tables, and, carefully balancing them, climbed up and out through the skylight again.

BRITISH GROAN; EXPECT BIGGER TAX ON INCOMES

BY SAM BREWER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 19.—The British public was waiting fearfully tonight for the annual budget announcement to parliament tomorrow by Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer. At that time they will learn how great will be the additional burden which will be piled on their own tax ridden budgets.

It is expected that the income tax will be raised by about 3 pence to the pound sterling, making the rate 25 per cent on all incomes above $500.

Lipsticks and other cosmetics, automobiles, tea, beer, tobacco, and even servants are among other luxuries on which new taxes or an increased tax have been suggested as a means of getting the extra 285 million dollars needed for the budget.

Public Expects the Worst.

Only Chamberlain and a few other trusted officials know the details. The cabinet was called into special session tonight to receive the news. The public expects the worst. The total needed is 4 billion 275 million dollars.

In three out of the last five years masterly financial juggling has enabled Chamberlain to show a heavy surplus, although at the cost of laying a heavy burden on the taxpayer.

In 1933 145 million dollars of the 155 million dollar surplus was accounted for by suspension of payments on the war debt to the United States. Despite fainthearted suggestions heard here and there that a settlement of the war debt might help improve British-American relations, which the British are cultivating so carefully, it is not expected that any provision for that will appear in the budget.

The budget year just ending showed a deficit of $27,985,000. It still was a triumph for Chamberlain, since only the huge expenditures for armaments, unexpected when the budget was planned, prevented the showing of another surplus. Chamberlain also did not make use of the privilege of borrowing for debt redemption.

See Rise in Income Tax.

Most of the suggestions for new taxes, such as levies on cosmetics and a revival of the "trousers tax" on any person employing a male servant, have been unpopular. It is believed that to avoid these the income tax will be jacked up again to the 1933 level.

This will be Chamberlain's sixth budget and his last. Soon after the coronation of King George VI. on May 12 the chancellor of the exchequer will resign to become prime minister, replacing Stanley Baldwin, who will retire.

David Lloyd George, who was Britain's wartime premier, is the only man who has a longer budget record than Chamberlain's in recent times. Lloyd George was chancellor of the exchequer from 1908 to 1915. He presented seven regular budgets and a special 1914 war emergency budget.

Manages to Show Surplus.

Chamberlain's first budget year wound up with a 160 million dollars deficit. By dropping the war debt payments and making small changes elsewhere he managed to show a surplus of 155 million dollars in 1933 and 1934, and surpluses for the next two years of 38 million and 14½ million dollars, respectively.

The year just ended again brought a deficit and any hopes of a surplus soon has gone glimmering, more or less, in view of Britain's high pressure arms program. It calls for an expenditure of 7 billion 500 million dollars on armaments alone in the next five years.

SCOUR BRITAIN TO GET GENTLE NAGS FOR CORONATION

Noise School Opened to Train Horses.

BY SAM BREWER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 19.—Horses will have their day at the coronation of King George VI., of England. Hundreds of them are being carefully trained now to make sure they will do exactly what they should on May 12. Despite this there is a derth of horses gentle enough for the many dignitaries to ride, and officials are looking far and wide for suitable mounts.

Automobiles may crowd horses out nearly everywhere else, but in any British ceremonial procession horses still are indispensable. Hundreds of them will take part in the coronation procession or as mounts for policemen along the route. They will draw the great state coach in which the king and queen will ride. They will draw the carriages in which Queen Mother Mary and the royal dukes and duchesses will ride to Westminster Abbey, and they will draw the coaches of officials of the city of London.

Army Lends Mounts.

More than a hundred horses have been lent to the police by the army to reinforce the mounted forces. These mounts have not been trained to police standards of gentleness and indifference to crowds. To make sure they get used to the din that is to be expected in a parade, they are being given daily doses of noise and color.

They are ridden up and down between lines of police imitating members of a crowd—waving flags, shouting or stepping suddenly in front of them. They are taught to get used to drums, if they are not already, and to the squeal of bagpipes.

Coach Has No Brakes.

By the time their training course is ended they will be able to face any amount of noise and disturbance with the complete calm required of a policeman's horse.

One of the biggest problems of a procession here is the speaker's coach. It is a cumbersome, ancient vehicle of nearly three tons, and it has no brakes.

There still is some question whether it would be wise to take the huge coach over the whole route. The full six miles would be one of the longest trips it has made in its two centuries of use.

Washington, D. C., April 19.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today nominated four more diplomatic appointees for posts in Europe and Latin America, including Anthony J. Drexel Biddle Jr. of Pennsylvania to be ambassador to Poland.

The executive also sent to the senate the name of Mrs. Florence Jaffray Harriman of the District of Columbia to be minister to Norway, succeeding Biddle. Mrs. Harriman is the widow of J. Borden Harriman, New York banker.

Landlords Get Warning to Keep Water Turned On

Judge Leon Edelman yesterday in the Renters' court threatened action against landlords who shut off the heat and water of nonpaying tenants. The warning that the court might step in was made after Valentine Kislowski and Mrs. Ethel Rashkew testified that Alfred A. Sampson, who sued to evict them from an apartment building at 1300 Oakley avenue, had shut off their water. They had refused to accept a 50 per cent increase in their $20 a month rent.

Foil Efforts to Wreck Chicago to St. Louis Train

Springfield, Ill., April 19.—(AP)—An attempt to wreck an Alton mail train near Carlinville, Ill., was reported tonight by Alton railroad officials. Members of a freight train crew said they found cross ties heaped on the track shortly before the fast Chicago to St. Louis train was due.

PRISON REPORT SPURS ACTION ON PAROLE REFORMS

Representative Elmer J. Schnackenberg, minority leader of the house of representatives, declared yesterday that he had found nothing in the report of the governor's prison commission that conflicts with the parole reform bills he is sponsoring. Schnackenberg is co-sponsor of the bills with Senator Harold G. Ward. The report of the commission, which is headed by Bishop Joseph Schlarman of Peoria, reached the governor and legislature yesterday.

Consequently, Representative Schnackenberg said, he expected to move at once for advancement of the bills to second reading in the house. They have already passed the senate.

New Powers for Judge.

The principal feature in the Schnackenberg-Ward measures, which were drafted for a group headed by Frank J. Loesch, president of the Chicago Crime Commission, gives the trial judge power to fix limits between the minimum and maximum years provided in indeterminate sentences.

At present sentences under the indeterminate law are 1 year to 5 years, 1 year to 10 years, 1 year to 14 years, 1 year to 20 years and 1 year to life. Under the proposed new law the committing judge would be able to fix a sentence, for example, of 3 to 5 years, or 5 to 8 years, or 10 to 15 years, or any other similar designation of years within the minimum and maximum.

Judge John Prystalski of Superior court joined with Mr. Loesch in drafting and recommending the Schnackenberg-Ward bills. Judge Prystalski is also a member of the Schlarman commission, appointed fourteen months ago to study and report on prison and parole conditions.

Favorable to Present Law.

The secretary of the Schlarman commission, Col. Henry Barrett Chamberlin of the Chicago crime commission, was asked yesterday about the attitude of the Schlarman commission on the indeterminate sentence law.

Col. Chamberlin said the commission did not report specifically on the subject because members did not believe the indeterminate sentence law would be changed or repealed.

Gov. Horner transmitted the Schlarman report to the house of representatives without recommendation, as he said he had no opportunity to read it.

CITY DEMANDS 3 TRANSIT LINE TRANSFER PLAN

Universal System Asked at Commerce Hearing.

Broadening of the Illinois commerce commission order, under which limited inter-company transfer privileges are granted by Chicago transit lines, in order to bring about the universal transfer system sponsored by Mayor Kelly, was asked by city representatives yesterday.

A demand that all three transit systems—elevated, surface, and bus lines—issue interline transfers with limits only on time and direction to prevent improper use, was made by James Danaher, assistant corporation counsel, and Maj.. R. F. Kelker, city transit expert, when the commission began hearings on the plan to make the present arrangement final and to determine what modifications should be made.

Ask Speed on Universal Transfers.

City officials contend that a bona fide universal transfer system should be made effective immediately without waiting for adoption of a comprehensive transit ordinance which now is being negotiated. Such a franchise, it is expected, will contain provisions for universal transfers.

As the result of a move initiated by Mayor Kelly three years ago, the commission in 1935 ordered interchange of transfers between the Chicago Surface and the Chicago Rapid Transit company [elevated lines] beginning Sept. 22, 1935, for an experimental period of one year.

First Order Extended.

The order has been extended by the commission pending hearings on whether the ruling should be made permanent and how the fares should be divided between the two systems. In January, 1936, the interline transfer arrangement was broadened to include the exchange between the elevated and the Chicago Motor Coach company.

Subsequently the commission conducted hearings on the proposed interchange between the surface lines and the bus company. Although this case was closed a year ago, the commission has failed to report a finding.

Transfers between the elevated and surface lines may be made at 55 points and between the elevated and bus lines at 27 points.

City transit experts contend that the use of interline transfers would increase at least 50 per cent if present restrictions were removed. During the first year the arrangement between the elevated and surface lines was in effect 29,974,720 persons used the transfer privileges, or more than twice as many as engineers had predicted before the system was put into effect.

HAGENBECK SHOW IS PURCHASED BY RINGLING SCOUT

Purchase of the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus, one of the oldest in the United States, was announced last night by Howard J. Barry of Philadelphia.

Barry has long been foreign explorer and scout for the Ringling Brothers-Barnum and Bailey circus.

The deal was completed in the Coliseum, where the circus is now playing. The price paid in the transaction was not disclosed, but the show is valued at about $300,000.

Barry bought the circus from the John Ringling interests, which obtained it from the American Circus corporation in 1929. The show had its inception in 1905 when the Wallace circus acquired the menagerie with which Carl Hagenbeck, pioneer wild animal dealer of Hamburg, Germany, had toured the United States the previous year.

SNAKE SHOW IN TOWN ON EVE OF DENHARDT TRIAL

New Castle, Ky., April 19.—(AP)—With two routine theft cases cleared from the docket, preliminaries ended late today for the trial of Brig. Gen. Henry D. Denhardt, charged with the murder of his attractive fiancée, Verna Garr Taylor, which opens tomorrow morning.

This quiet rural community hummed with excitement tonight as the townsfolk, numbering some 500, mingled with strangers who have flocked to this village and filled its lone hotel to capacity.

With the crowd milling through the streets during the day, a medicine man added to the fanfare by setting up his show in the Henry county courtyard. Strumming a banjo, he entertained the curious crowd with hill-billy songs. School girls paused on their way home to watch the medicine man curl evil looking snakes around his neck as he boosted his cure-all remedy.

GAS KILLS TWO EMPLOYES IN STEEL WORKS

Two men were killed yesterday morning by carbon monoxide as they were apparently trying to repair a broken seal on a machine used to "wash" the gas in the power house of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation's south works at 3426 East 89th street. The victims were Teofil Wawiaroski, 57 years old, 8919 Escanaba avenue, and Frank Novak, 63 years old, 8447 Burnham avenue.

Their bodies were found in a pit 6 feet deep, next to the precipitator which removes water and impurities from gas coming from gasoline power engines.

A company statement declared the men may have accidentally dropped their tools into the pit and were recovering them when they were overcome. Wawiaroski had been employed at the plant for thirty-five years and Novak for nineteen years.

Jailed in Drive Against Medical Quacks.

Doc Ali Mohamed, a dark eyed, dark skinned vender of herbs at 714 East 43d street, was sentenced yesterday by Judge Albert E. Isley of Jasper county, sitting in the County court, to sixty days in jail for violation of the state medical practice act. He was the first to be tried under the latest drive against medical quacks begun last week by the state department of registration and education.

Only two alleged quacks, for whom warants have been obtained, remain at large. Seventeen have been arrested and freed on bond. Another, J. E. Bradley, 1549 North Western avenue, surrendered yesterday. He persuaded Judge Isley to release him on the surety of a marvelous patented parachute which would permit transport airplanes to descend safely in case of trouble.

Court Like Drug Store.

During Doc Mohamed's trial Judge Isley's courtroom resembled a prescription counter in an old fashioned drug store. Oddly shaped bottles and packets, bearing strange names and queer promises, lined the counsel tables.

The occasion was an attempt by Ali's lawyer, Joseph Calvin Webb, to prove that his client sold medicines but did not practice. Earlier an investigator testified that Ali prescribed a nauseous brown liquor and red oak bark for hernia.

Maid Is Summoned.

Attorney Webb summoned as a witness Lee Ethel Billings, 18 years old, colored, who said she has been nursemaid, cook, and general helper at $3 a week in the Mohamed establishment for three months. Then the lawyer began producing his assortment of vials, unguents, and lotions.

There was the Hindu Herb Killer. It was Ali's biggest seller. Kill Pest was identified by Miss Billings as being injurious to bedbugs. Bengal Incense, said Miss Billings, was effective for something, but she couldn't quite remember what. There also were John the Conqueror Root, the Hindu Jinx Remover, Imported Bay Leaves from Calcutta, India, flower pots, and a box labeled Lode Stones.

Boy, 3, Dies of Bullet Wound from Father's Revolver

A blood transfusion failed to save the life of Vincenzo De Nardo, 3 years old, who accidentally shot himself Sunday afternoon while playing with his father's revolver in the De Nardo home at 1412 Flournoy street. A brother, Frank, 16 years old, furnished blood for the transfusion but the child died yesterday.

DECREE SIGNED FOR WINNETKA FIREMAN'S WIFE

Judge Joseph Burke yesterday signed a decree awarding Mrs. Gertrude Wood separate maintenance from her husband, David, village fire captain of Winnetka. Last month the court found "Precious Dave" guilty of misconduct with Mrs. Carol de Windt Gardner, socially prominent Winnetkan.

Mrs. Wood receives $85 a month until Oct. 5, when the support order for herself and two children is increased to $100. Capt. Wood was also ordered to appear Monday to show why he allegedly violated an injunction last Friday which restrained him from molesting his wife. Morris K. Levinson, attorney for Mrs. Wood, said Capt. Wood visited her home and started an argument.

CHANGE OF VENUE DELAYS McKINLAY BRIBERY TRIAL

A change of venue caused another delay yesterday in the trial of Robert W. McKinlay, a federal court receiver, on charges of conspiracy and bribery of a juror in the first embezzlement trial of Frank V. Zintak, ousted Superior court clerk.

Defense Attorneys Benedict J. Short and George Guenther obtained the venue change from Judge Rudolph F. Desort in the Criminal court on a formal petition alleging prejudice, which also named Judge George Fred Rush. Chief Justice Michael L. McKinley reassigned the case to Judge Robert Jerome Dunne, who set the trial for May 3.

ASK JURY QUIZ INTO SNOOPING ON GOVERNOR

Denver, Colo., April 19.—[Special.] —The suggestion was made to the state Supreme court today that a grand jury investigation be made of the recent placing of microphones in the office of Gov. Teller Ammons and of the information obtained through the apparatus.

Gov. Teller Ammons.

The suggestion that a grand jury look into the matter was offered by Erl H. Ellis, an attorney, in defending a disbarment action brought against him by Attorney General Byron G. Rogers.

Ellis admitted he caused the installation of the microphones in the governor's office as a part of a general plan to "disclose for the benefit of the people the methods, malfeasances and misfeasances of some representatives of the state government."

The attorney asserted that proof had been obtained "by the execution of such plan showing the involvement of many persons, both attorneys and laymen." Ellis formerly was chairman of the grievance committee of the state bar association.

POLICE STENOGRAPHER ROBBED.

Miss Carrie Kohout, 4319 West 21st place, stenographer for James McSweeney, secretary of police, reported yesterday that her purse containing $11 had been stolen while she was trying on a blouse in a loop department store.

COTTON WORKERS DESTROY FUTURE WITH A STRIKE

Operators Simply Close Model Town Mill.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Tupelo, Miss., April 19.—[Special.] —Blueprints of balanced industry and agriculture based on facts and figures and mankind in the abstract, make a very pretty picture of a promised land of milk and honey. But when it comes to working out in terms of life, in form and in individuals, the picture may be marred and distorted.

This is what seems to be happening in this model TVA city, which was to serve as an example of the benefits of cheap power and diversified labor, the beginning of the great plan for lifting the millions of the Tennessee valley into the more abundant life.

The 12 days' sitdown strike in the Tupelo cotton mills here seems unjustified in view of any real coöperation between labor and management, unnecessary in view of opportunities, and yet here it is.

Jeopardize Own Welfare.

The unpredictable human element is jeopardizing not only its welfare but the plan to make Mississippi and the south a haven for strike harassed northern industry, a good place for capital, and a blessed opportunity to combine factory work with farm life.

It may be that the plan will work yet. It seems a good one, but this shortsighted labor group in the cotton mills, without any union organization, run by local and not "foreign" capital, insists on having its cut of profits right now, and they have made no move to get out on the land and hoe potatoes in off hours. They are sitting in a row of old fashioned company cottages waiting for higher wages.

Doomed for Failure.

It does not look as though the strike would succeed. It was borne on the wings of some "radical" seed blown down from the north.

"Why do you strike?" one cotton worker was asked. "You are making $10 a week, good wages."

"Well, the strikers always win, don't they?" she asked.

In this case, while there is talk of compromise today, the company is likely to let the sitters remain in the factory until they get ready to liquidate. They might make more money liquidating than in making cloth. At any rate they have posted a notice, dated April 7, that all employment was terminated on that date. The strikers have taken possession of the plant in shifts, with no court move to get them out. Such a move would be obeyed in this state, and the governor probably would call the troops if necessary.

The workers average from $12.50 a week to $13.50, but they pay only a nominal house rent and they need little fuel. They probably would be satisfied with a dollar more a week, but this in turn would cut out the close profits the company makes on its contracts. TVA probably has lowered power costs in the factory enough to pay this extra dollar a week, but these two facts do not hitch.

STRIKERS REBEL AGAINST C. I. O. ON CANADA PACT

for wage and hour concessions without recognition of their local of the United Automobile Workers' union.

The proposal was made to them at a massmeeting by Mayor Alex Hall of Oshawa. The mayor had a statement of concessions signed by J. B. Highfield, general manager of plants for General Motors of Canada.

Under the proposed agreement the men were to return to work while their grievances were negotiated. They refused, however, to repudiate their Committee for Industrial Organization connections and the company refused to negotiate unless they did.

"Duped," Declares Hall.

As the meeting broke up Mayor Hall cried: "You've been duped, you've been fooled, you've been hoodwinked."

However, Hugh Thompson, C. I. O. organizer assigned to Oshawa, lauded the action of the strikers in turning down the proposed settlement.

"By unanimous consent," he said, "you have decided not to go back to work until you have something substantial. I am happy that you are going after the things you want. Nothing can stop you if you keep together. This is the greatest disciplined strike I have ever had anything to do with."

"There was something offered and it was not good enough," continued the C. I. O. organizer. "You know what you want, the things you have to get before you will sell your labor to General Motors. But I believe we have made a step forward. I don't know whether the door is still open or not to future negotiations, but I appeal to the good sense of General Motors to keep it open."

Hall spent all day conferring with Highfield and Thompson. The mayor indicated that the agreement was acceptable to Thompson before the strikers voted on it.

The vote was taken at a secret session of the union. Preceding the secret meeting, the press had been admitted while Hall presented the proposals to the union.

The strikers' refusal to surrender came after Thompson had pleaded with them for an hour in the closed meeting to accept it, according to the men. Homer Martin, international president of the U. A. W. A., was reported to have approved the agreement by telephone from Washington.

"They offered us something, but it was not enough," Thompson said after the meeting. "Now we are prepared to stay on strike, indefinitly if necessary, until the C. I. O. is recognized in Canada."

Offered 44 Hour Week.

Concessions offered by the company included a 44 hour week of four nine hour days and one eight hour day; time and a half for overtime, and an increased wage schedule.

Tonight's meeting of the auto strikers was scheduled for 8 o'clock, but was delayed an hour pending the arrival of Thompson and Mayor Hall. The mayor was met with mingled boos and applause.

Hall's opening remarks were drowned out with cries of: "We don't want to hear him."

After the vote, the mayor shouted: "Sooner or later you're going to know I'm right and I'm going to help you then." There were tears in his eyes and his voice quavered.

"What one promise was made to you that has been kept?" he demanded.

"What one cent have you received?" he asked.

He was stopped by boos.

WILHELM'S LOVE MAKING AFTER WEDDING TOLD

"I'm Romeo," Witness in Will Suit Quotes Him.

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

The courtship of August Wilhelm did not end with his marriage to Mary Scully Fagan, 75 years old, testimony introduced yesterday in the court of Judge Grover C. Niemeyer indicated. Fifteen nieces and nephews of Mrs. Wilhelm, who died in 1933, four months after she was wedded to Wilhelm, then 37 years old, are seeking to invalidate the marriage and reëstablish a 1930 will, leaving her $500,000 estate to the nieces and nephews.

A month before Mrs. Wilhelm died, Miss Cecilia Talbot of 436 North Menard avenue, testified before the jury in behalf of the complainants, Wilhelm spoke romantic words to her between highballs.

After Mrs. Wilhelm had drunk three or four gin highballs, mixed by Wilhelm, said the witness, he put his arm around his wife and led her out on the roof of the sun parlor in their Wilmette home [221 Linden avenue], declaring:

Fraud Is Charged.

The complainants, through Attorney John E. Northup, charge that Mrs. Wilhelm was mentally incompetent when she wed her young suitor, and that he used fraud in allegedly pretending undying affection for her in order to effect the marriage. They charge that he hastened her death by encouraging her to dance, drink, and smoke, and that he used fraud in having her transfer more than $150,000 worth of real estate to him under joint tenancy.

Miss Talbot said that Mrs. Fagan always was dressed in black until 1931, when she met Wilhelm, and began wearing print dresses and light stockings, using much rouge and lipstick.

As Mrs. Fagan, she used to dance jigs, play the piano and sing, "Rowdy-dowdy-down, I'm the Gayest Girl in Town." This was long before she met Augie. In those days she never smoked nor drank.

In October, 1932, Miss Talbot said, Augie and Mrs. Fagan were guests at her home. She described their behavior at the gathering:

"Augie played and she sang. She thought his playing wonderful. We were talking about marriage and love and such things and Augie looked at her and said: 'In every one's life comes one true love.' She beamed at him."

Defense Opposes Testimony.

At the wake held after Mrs. Wilhelm's death, Miss Talbot testified, Augie said: "I married her, and whether she was my wife four years, four months, or four hours, she's still my wife."

This testimony was given after the subject of it was debated outside of the presence of the jury, and ruled as admissable. Attorneys Leslie C. Whipp and Dwight McKay, for the defense, opposed it.

"Why, there's nothing more sweet and considerate he could have said," said Attorney Whipp.

"Then it isn't detrimental to your cause," smiled Judge Niemeyer.

"It might be construed so, because Mr. Northup is going to argue to the jury that he killed her," said Attorney Whipp.

TAKE STATE DAM SYSTEM PLAN TO GOVERNOR TODAY

State Senator Charles F. Baumrucker [Dem., River Forest], will confer today with Gov. Horner at Springfield about drawing up a bill to provide for construction of between 7,000 and 10,000 small dams in Illinois for water conservation. The cost of the program, over a ten year period would be from $21,700,000 to $31,000,000.

Gov. Horner has already indicated he favors some such water conservation measure, Sen. Baumrucker said, and downstate senators and leaders of the agricultural bloc have also expressed approval.

Federal Aid Planned.

Under the present plan, the state would bear 25 per cent of the cost. The Works Progress administration or its successor work relief agency would pay 65 per cent and local communities 10 per cent. Usually there would be no expense to local communities, it was said, because their 10 per cent of the cost would be spent for surveys and other work done by regular employés.

Points Out Need for Dams.

Sen. Baumrucker pointed out that last month was the driest March in 18 years in central and south Illinois, but that with proper dams, waters from recent floods would have been available.

"The level of Illinois underground water reservoir has dropped 10 to 30 feet in the last 15 years," he said. "Deforestation and farming have destroyed the sponge surface of the land, so that rain runs off instead of soaking in. Dams in ravines and gullies would catch this run off, minimize floods, arrest soil erosion, restore the ground water level and prevent drouth."

DIES AS RESULT OF FALL.

Injuries suffered in a fall at 4746 North Racine avenue on Saturday caused the death in the Martha Wasington hospital yesterday of Anthony Marous, 36 years old, 3807 Lexington street.

APPEALS COURT UPSETS VERDICTS FOR VOTE FRAUDS

The Illinois Appellate court yesterday reversed guilty verdicts carrying sentences of one year in jail imposed in May, 1936, by Judge Edmund K. Jarecki on two Democratic judges of the 48th precinct of the 27th ward for alleged fraud in the primary, April 10, 1934. The high court criticized extreme delay in trying such cases and remanded them for rehearing.

The two officials were Mrs. Mercedes E. Tuttle, 46 years old, 1261 Washington boulevard, wife of the Democratic precinct captain, and Mrs. Viola Wojcik, 35, of 1137 Washington boulevard.

The court's opinion, written by Justice David F. Matchett, stated that such severe punishment should not be inflicted upon uncertain and doubtful evidence.

PEEVISH

What authorities say about "Calcium Hunger"

A WORLD FAMOUS NUTRITION AUTHORITY: American dietaries are probably more often deficient in calcium than in any other element. For children, at least twice as much as the maintenance requirement of an average man is needed.

ONE OF AMERICA'S MOST DISTINGUISHED PHYSICIANS: Calcium is often lacking in the average mixed diet. The need for calcium is especially great in women and children.

THE CHIEF PSYCHO-CLINICIAN AT A CELEBRATED SCHOOL FOR PROBLEM CHILDREN: Children who cannot concentrate due to an over-sensitive nervous system are often markedly deficient in calcium. Lack of calcium (lime) is a common cause of serious instability.

A NOTED PHYSICIAN AND ENDOCRINOLOGIST: Observations upon nervous children in schools of Rome, New York, showed 85% were markedly improved in a short time by a diet rich in lime (calcium). Calcium starvation is the commonest form of malnutrition in America.

A U. S. GOVERNMENT BULLETIN: Most important of all the body's building materials, calcium is the food factor on which diets are most likely to go short.

KRAFTONE—delicious new chocolate-flavor food drink—provides a health aid available in no other food drink! Concentrated MILK CALCIUM

Today there is new knowledge of the child with poor appetite, of the child who is peevish. These children may be exhibiting a form of nervousness possibly not apparent in any other way.

And the underlying causes of these troubles are also now more clearly understood. It is recognized today that nervousness in children can be due to one very simple cause—a lack of sufficient food calcium in the diet. Calcium is the food mineral of which milk is our chief source.

Child needs as much calcium as two grown men

Because of the demands of growing teeth and bones, a child needs as much food calcium daily as two grown men. When there is a shortage "calcium hunger" results . . . delicate nervous systems are apt to suffer and normal appetites to grow finicky.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

DOES BLADDER IRREGULARITY WAKE YOU UP?

You can make this simple test. When irregularity bothers help the bladder as you would the bowels. Help nature eliminate waste and excess acids which can cause the irregularity that results in getting up nights, scanty flow, frequent desire, burning, backache, or leg pains. WHEN THE GRASS GROWS GREENER

By CALEB

WHEN the snows are gone and the cold and crisp lake winds relax—there come dallying breezes from Texas and the Kansas plains. People on their way to work at morningtime look up at the sky, and sniff. These days begin to turn one's thoughts to the great outdoors. But the grass is hardly greening. And the trees are bare. And people only sniff—before they shiver a little and gladly go indoors to their work.

Then comes a morning when the grass is greener. Buds on the bushes and trees have burst into delicate leaves—lacy and refreshing. The sky is sunny and clouds lingering from Aurora's early shift are delicate in color. By noon the air is balmy and warm. Clouds are white—and the bowl of the sky is blue. This day the sniffing turns to a faint nostalgia.

When the grass grows greener, it's great—a few miles out of the city. Snow-white washes billow and flutter in backyards. Telephone conversations give way to good old-fashioned back fence conferences. Spring raking is done—and the smoke of damp leaves scents the air with a fresh and pungent fragrance. Men and women steal spare time to root deep in the clean earth of their gardens.

On sidewalks are chalk-marks—where hopscotch was in session the evening before. In every alley—or on every block—a knot of boys is playing "mibs" or ball.

When the grass grows greener, there's a stimulating something in the air. People who were crabbed and cranky soften a little. It may be crocuses. Or it may the warmth of spring lubricating the complaining winter-ridden joints of human relationships.

Whoever has lived in a small town or a suburb, and who now works indoors, is apt to watch lingeringly our shining trucks on the streets. Workers who once knew the outdoors are likely at this time of year to think the delivery man has a great job.

They forget—these nostalgic ones—that Old Man Winter huffs and puffs and sends howling snow-laden storms to bury the streets. They forget the last few days before Christmas when the business of old Saint Nicholas fills the city with people who anxiously await parcels—or when the blizzards of February blow bitterness off the lake and over the town. Then our hundreds of drivers assume a never-say-die responsibility to complete their jobs. The fellow who has what looks like a snap, generally has another side to his job as well!

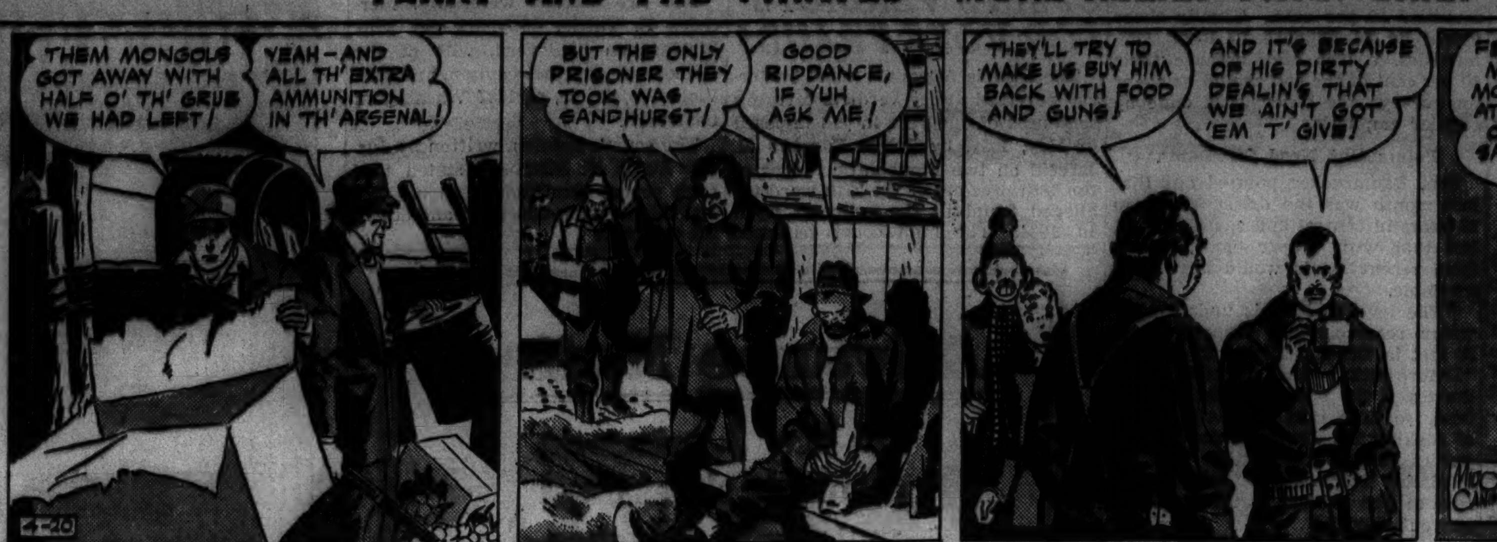
TERRY AND THE PIRATES—MORE RELIEF THAN GRIEF



MRS. ROOSEVELT DENIES TIPPLING AT WHITE HOUSE

No Liquor Befuddled Guests, She Says.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 19.—[Special.]—Guests leaving White House receptions and dinners may sometimes be in a befuddled condition, but not as a result of the drinks served there, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt remarked at her press conference today.

Mrs. Roosevelt was told that Capt. Edward Page Gaston, founder of the World Prohibition Foundation, had informed a Sunday school class that more alcoholic beverages are being served at the White House than ever before.

The gift of cases of potent Virgin Islands rum to the President and cabinet members may cause people to come home from official functions in a more befuddled state than ever, Gaston declared.

"I doubt if anybody could arrive home in a befuddled condition from what they drink in the White House," Mrs. Roosevelt said. "Rarely is anything but wine served in the executive mansion, and that in small quantities."

The President's wife said that the Virgin Islands rum had not arrived to her knowledge. Asked what she would do with the rum when it arrives, she said:

"I am terribly sorry to tell you that I don't know how to use rum. If it is used, it will be in moderation."

Mrs. Roosevelt asserted she did not know Capt. Gaston.

HOUSE BILL LIMITS FILING LIBEL SUITS TO CERTAIN COUNTY

Springfield, Ill., April 19.—[Special.]—Two bills intended to prevent the institution of libel suits against Illinois newspapers and magazines in parts of the state distant from the place of publication were introduced in the house of representatives by Benjamin S. Adamowski, Democratic floor leader. They provide that in prosecutions for libel the jurisdiction shall be in the county in which the libel was "composed or printed." The provision concerning libel in papers published outside the state is that the jurisdiction shall be in any county in which the libel was circulated. The bills were referred to the judiciary committee.

JAIL TERM FOR BIG BOY CANNADY PAL IS AFFIRMED

CRIMINAL COURT.

Alfred E. Hartford, rape, sentenced to 3 years in the penitentiary by Judge Rudolph Desort.

Leo Garbowicz, Tony Dombrowski, and Walter Skrzydel, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life each in the penitentiary by Judge Robert C. O'Connell.

The Illinois Appellate court yesterday affirmed a 90 day jail sentence imposed on Benny Berof, alias Bersky, Barossky, Berfsky, and Barosky, by Judge Cecil Smith of the Municipal court. Judge Smith sentenced Berof, a professional bondsman, for making false statements in providing a worthless bond for Louis Swinberg, a pickpocket. William [Big Boy] Cannady, an 11th ward politician who vouched for Swinberg and Berof before Judge Smith and Swinberg have been sought for eleven months.

Kendallville, Ind., April 19.—[Special.]—Clarence Reade, despondent over ill health, committed suicide at his home near Woodruff today with a shotgun.

PARK BOARD TO ARGUE TODAY FOR 9 MILLION LEVY

Opposition May Block Horner's Program.

Springfield, Ill., April 19.—[Special.]—Robert J. Dunham, president of the Chicago park board, the four other commissioners, and nearly all the directors of the park system arrived in Springfield tonight prepared to argue tomorrow for a 9 million dollar pegged levy.

Their case is pending before a conference committee, consisting of seven members of the house and seven senators, which will get down to work tomorrow. This committee was appointed recently after the senate had voted a levy of 9 million dollars, the house had chopped that to $7,600,000, and neither chamber would accept the other's figure.

The seven members from the house are believed to be solidly in favor of the lower figure as is Gov. Horner. The corresponding senate group is said to favor the 9 million figure. At the committee's first meeting last week, with one senator absent, the house members refused to agree to a proposal for a meeting in Chicago where park records would be readily available, necessitating today's trip by the park officials.

There have been reports that reprisals might be taken against the governor's legislative program because of his attitude toward the pegged levy bill.

Specifically mentioned in the reports was the bill now awaiting passage in the house which would extend the 3 per cent cent sales tax from May 1, 1937, to July 1, 1939, without the reduction of one cent on the former date which is now provided by the statute.

The bills to do away with the reduction require a two-thirds vote to become effective before May 1. If a few members are out in the cloak rooms or sit silent when their names are called, the governor's program will be in danger.

DR. PHILIP FOX CHOSEN CHIEF OF MUSEUM OF SCIENCE AND INDUSTRY

Dr. Philip Fox, director of Adler planetarium, yesterday was elected director of the Museum of Science and Industry. The museum trustees, headed by Rufus Dawes, selected him to fill the position left vacant by the resignation of O. T. Kreusser, who last fall joined the research staf of the General Motors corporation.

Dr. Fox served in France during the world war and in the Philippines under Gen. Funston. At present he is a colonel of infantry in the reserve corps. He gained prominence on the staf of the University of Chicago's Yerkes observatory at Williams Bay, Wis., and later went to Northwestern university as professor of astronomy and director of its Dearborn observatory.

3,200,000 CIRCULATION

3,200,000 is a dramatic number . . . yes. But one significant fact is missing which doubles its real force.

Post circulation is increasing in the face of a restriction no other magazine places on its sales. Every Post must be sold for full published price. Cash in advance. No premiums. No discounts. No combinations. No installments.

To fence out undesirable circulation, and still lead the field by such a wide margin, is a genuine tribute to the unapproached vitality of the Post. The Post brings advertisers no diluted audience. The Post is bought to read.

Circulation gains in the last four months show an average advance of 70,000 copies per issue over the previous year. And the first three months of 1937 will show an average of over 3,100,000 circulation. Such steady, consistent progress reflects the widening influence of the Post.

HERE ARE THE 1937 FIGURES

Advertisers year after year recognize this superior audience. Post advertising revenue for 1936 exceeds the revenue of all other weekly magazines combined. The Post gain of four and a quarter million dollars is more than that of any other two magazines.

There is one proved way to sell the American public any product, any service, any idea. It is through the reader interest and confidence built into the pages of The Saturday Evening Post.

THE PETTENGILL BILL.

The house of representatives has again voted its approval of the Pettengill bill to give railroads greater leeway in meeting the competition of water carriers and trucks. The bill to repeal the so-called long and short haul clause of the inter state commerce act was indorsed by the house at the last session by a vote of 215 to 41. This time it was passed by a vote of 268 to 120.

The long and short haul clause has been a brake on the progress of this area for many years. The law as it stands provides, in effect, that in ordinary circumstances the railroads may not charge less for a longer haul than for a shorter one on the same route in the same direction. The railroads are thus forbidden to make a rate on shipments from Chicago to San Francisco which will permit them to compete with shipments by way of the Panama canal from New York unless the rail rates to all the intervening cities and towns are lowered in proportion.

The consequence has been that manufacturers and wholesalers all through the central states have lost business on the west coast. What we lost has been gained by competitors along the Atlantic seaboard. The injury to inland business houses has been reflected, also, in a heavy loss of revenue to the railroads. They were obliged to maintain a rate structure so high that the ships captured trafic which the railroads could have carried profitably if they had been permitted to readjust their rates to meet the competition.

The overwhelming vote in favor of Mr. Pettengill's bill indicates that a long campaign of education is at length producing results. It has been an uphill fight. Congressmen from the states which suffered most from the long and short haul clause for years refused to take any action in the interest of their own section. These congressmen said the repealer was legislation for the benefit of railroads and, therefore, the voters would condemn it.

Evidently common sense has caught up with this silly argument. Now the opposition is confined with some exceptions to the eastern seaboard and the so-called intermountain territory back of the Pacific coast. If there had been an effective mid-western chamber of commerce in the last ten or fifteen years, progress toward a rational rewriting of the law would have been materially faster.

The bill was not voted on in the senate at the last session and has yet to be considered in the senate at this one. It is to be hoped that the measure will be given prompt consideration in the upper house in the spirit displayed by Representative Wadsworth of New York. A narrow sectionalism might have led him to oppose the bill introduced by his colleague from Indiana. Mr. Wadsworth voted for the bill because he saw that it promoted the larger national interest. If senators show a corresponding regard for the welfare of the country, as a whole, the Pettengill bill will become law.

NEW TRAINS AND NEW IDEAS.

The spring crop of new trains which has become an annual affair since the railways undertook to renovate their passenger service is commencing to make its appearance. The harbinger in the speed class is the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Zipper which will leave Chicago at noon to arrive at St. Louis at 5 o'clock, showing an average speed of fifty-eight miles an hour for the entire distance. In the accommodation class is the new Shenandoah of the Baltimore and Ohio, which will offer "family" service from Chicago to New York and intermediate points.

The last mentioned train is perhaps the most interesting from the viewpoint of the student of railway transportation because it so clearly reflects the influence of the bus and private automobile in the evolution of railway travel. Railway fares are now so low that it will scarcely pay an individual to drive his own car. He can, however, take the whole family along for the same cost; hence, the competitive condition suggests a family train. Family fares might reasonably follow.

The method of delivery at New York is also interesting. Passengers are transferred from train to bus at Jersey City and the latter vehicle makes at least a dozen stops in New York. If the plan proves popular, might it not reasonably suggest the removal of railway stations to the outskirts of all metropolitan areas where transfers would be made to buses and taxicabs for distribution fan-wise over a wide area? The present system presupposes that the passenger wishes to penetrate as far as possible toward the center of the city, which is true of business men, but not of the family. THE TRIBUNE is not suggesting that such changes are necessary or even desirable, but they are worth study because the bus certainly performs extensive pick-up service along the city streets, and such conveniences are the most valuable attributes of the private automobile.

The railways are being made over by their competitors into better and more useful public servants. It is a pity that congress cannot take this long range view and modernize the patchwork regulatory laws that are founded on theories that the railway methods of 1906 were substantially the acme of perfection for this form of transportation. The trend of government regulation is always to emphasize precedent and tradition. That a rule, regulation, practice, rate or fare has been in effect for a long period of years is regarded as substantial proof of its reasonableness. Why not loosen the shackles a bit and see what happens under the new stresses set up by modern conditions?

THE SIXTH THOUSAND.

Whether Chicago motorists are actually increasing the speed of their vehicles or pedestrians are becoming less cautious, the fact remains that the bloody record of the massacre clock has passed the six thousand mark nearly a month ahead of the 1936 schedule in the matter of both killed and injured. It is commencing to appear that nothing can be done about it except to wait, wait, wait until public opinion forces those in power to act. The way is clear—build elevated highways that will protect the pedestrian from the high speed motor trafic.

The habits of the average driver seem not to have changed one iota in spite of police and press campaigns. One has merely to watch the trafic for a moment. A substantial section of the motoring public appear to consider that their sole obligation is to sound their horn before running over a victim. There may be a half dozen children playing in the street, and upon touching the button the motorist expects to see them scatter, as they usually do, but he does not get his car under control so that he could stop instantly if one of them slipped.

Another driver is a stickler for his rights. He is driving on a boulevard protected at the intersections with "stop" lights. He does not consider that these warnings are occasionally, if not frequently, violated, and makes no effort to have his car under control at the crossings. In his estimation, his course is right. He does not reckon that after his life is crushed out against the steering wheel he will be just as dead as if he had been in the wrong. Perhaps the strangest part of the whole frightful experience is that each of these motorists knows in his heart of hearts that he is relying on luck to keep him out of the hospital or jail. Why—he cannot tell you.

WALL STREET IN THE FORD-LEWIS AFFAIR.

Henry Ford's experience in Wall street was unpleasant. When he inquired about a loan from big bankers some years ago the conditions which they sought to impose were considered by him to be unfair. Ever since then he has suspected that financiers in New York were out to get him.

When Mr. Lewis, having finished his labors for the time being at the General Motors and Chrysler plants, announced that Ford was next, it was inevitable that Mr. Ford should suspect the international bankers of making trouble for him again.

Offhand, most people would dismiss as nonsense any suggestion that the C. I. O. drive on the Ford plants was inspired and supported by the New York financial district, and that Mr. Lewis is a tool of the international bankers. Nevertheless, the fact is that Mr. Lewis has had very pleasant relationships with Wall street and was supported by a prominent Wall street bank in at least one important controversy with employers. Mr. Ford, on the other hand, is Wall street's historic enemy.

In 1922, in the midst of a great strike, the treasury of the United Mine Workers of America ran dry. Funds were needed to buy tents and food to make it possible for the miners to hold out for their demands. Mr. Lewis went down to Wall street and borrowed $200,000 on an unsecured note signed by him, William Green, then secretary treasurer of the union, and P. H. Murray, the union vice president. The lender was the Harriman National bank, now defunct, widely known as a Wall street bank.

In an interview on Sept. 12, 1922, an officer of the bank, in telling of the loan made two months before, said that the officers of the union could walk into the bank the next day and borrow $5,000,000 if they wanted it.

There was, of course, nothing reprehensible about the loan from the standpoint of either the union or the bank. The union, with a dependable source of revenue from dues under the check-off system, was able to borrow money in Wall street on fair conditions. Mr. Ford thought he was not. The incident merely lends color to Mr. Ford's statement about the inspiration for the drive on him. Mr. Lewis' mine workers' union, backbone of C. I. O., is reported to have a very large cash balance. C. I. O. has been well financed. It would be interesting to learn whether any of the money is borrowed, and if it is, from whom.

Editorial of the Day

PLEASE BE CAREFUL, PROFESSORS.
[Cedar Rapids (Ia.) Gazette.]

Among others who bring 'em back alive is Harold Compere, a prominent entomologist, who has provided the University of California citrus experiment station with seven little bugs from South Africa. That wasn't easy, either. In addition to all the work of trapping them on the dark continent, the patience of Job and no less than nine successive shipments of the insects were required to get these seven tiny specimens to California alive and in reasonably good spirits.

These bugs are called habrolepis by those who are in the know. From these seven the University of California plans to breed millions of others and turn them loose in the citrus groves. The hope is that the bugs will get rid of the red scale which is a troublesome pest out there. Production of the insect army will get under way as soon as the university entomologists determine definitly that the seven bugs are free from parasitic infestation.

We suppose this is all right, but we sincerely hope the entomologists who are handling this experiment are less absent-minded than the bug chasers we used to meet frequently in the pages of juvenile novels. This country is pretty well supplied with insects as it is, and adding a new one to the collection is a very serious step, to be taken only with the utmost caution.

We never saw a bug yet that didn't have its shortcomings, whatever its charm, and it makes us uneasy to think that a few scientists, perhaps too much wrapped up in protecting lemon trees from red scale, are about to turn loose on us another crawling horde. Before they start cultivating this exotic variety of picnic lunch destroyer we earnestly implore them to weigh the possible disadvantages against the expected benefits, allowing a 25 per cent margin for unforeseen disadvantages. The Washington visionaries can upset the balance of nature and the nation's peace of mind enough without the assistance of any African bugs that didn't want to come here in the first place.

WHO'S BALOONEY NOW?

A short time ago a former patient of Doc's came in and paid $40 on a bill so old that it had been outlawed for ten years. Investigation showed that the payer had just been released from the asylum, where he had been stopping for the last two years. I wondered whether he was cured. The dentist, whom I asked about it, said the man undoubtedly was crazy if he paid Doc for something that didn't do him any good. Then I asked a school teacher friend, and she said the bill probably drove the poor fellow crazy—because he couldn't pay it sooner. Oh, well, the only thing I can be sure of is that the shock of getting the forty bucks nearly put Doc off his head. Florence.

P. S.—The man's guardian came into the office today and tried to make Doc give back the money because the bill was outlawed.

PRODIGAL.

The gypsies came down all the roads of spring,
The siren stars went gayly down the sky,
And my torn heart cried out, remembering
A bright far hill I glimpsed once, passing by.

Nor all your tranquil love could hold me then
Who knew the surgence of the wind's caress,
Who heard the red gods call their own again:
I had to find this dream of loveliness.

Now I have learned the thousand lovely names
In all the wanderer's dear litany,
And I have seen the farthest hill in flames,
And is this all? One moment's ecstasy?

Oh, I'd give twice the treasures of each mile
To know once more the haven of your smile!

NOTHING WAS THE SAME.

In Hometown, many years ago, lived a neighbor who was known—nobody ever knew why—as Johnny Vaseline. He was not much of a hand for traveling, and when he announced he was going to Chicago with his hogs it gave us something of a shock. . . . He returned unharmed, but much puzzled. He said he liked the city, "but everybody was goin' somewheres." Then, when my brother asked him what his hogs averaged, he replied: "Well, some of 'em averaged more'n others." Mattune.

ONE IN EVERY TAVERN.

I went down to pour out my troubles to Joe, but it was his day off and the rustic sign hanging in front of the mirror informed me the bartender on duty was Mike. The usual gang of steadies was there. Tom from the water pipe extension was telling about the good old days under Carter H.; Packey, the switchman, was setting out a cut of cars for the "Belt"; Swede, the carpenter, was hanging doors in a loop skyscraper; Adolf was running an electric crane overhead; Carl, the conductor, was refusing to take a phony street car transfer, and Charlie, my wife's cousin, was wondering when congress would pass a world war pension bill. Then an interstate truck pulled up and the driver came in and asked for a straight up. "Light or dark?" says Mike. "Dark," says the T. D. Having just read "How to Win Friends and Influence People," and wanting to welcome him to our city, I went to work. I asked him about his wife and children, the trucking business, conditions on the road, what he thought of the Wagner act, President Roosevelt and the Supreme court, the Quin O'Brien case, Mrs. Simpson, Father Coughlin, Dr. Townsend, and the situation in Spain. He didn't answer me. Then I tried him out with a double-header, "Were you ever held up or shook down in your interstate travels?" "Brother," he said, "you ast too many dam fool questions; down in my country they would shoot a guy like you." Thomas K. Davey.

AVOID THE HILLS AND THE VALLEYS.

WE may define an optimist as one who expects and anticipates that all will be well always. More often than not he is mistaken and he is likely to hope for much more than he will ever receive or accomplish. The pessimist, on the other hand, never expects anything and therefore gets less out of life than the optimist. Obviously the best course to follow is to take life as it is and not be unduly disappointed when plans fail to materialize, nor inordinately elated when they come to fruition.

Every one should cultivate a state of mind which will bring the optimum of satisfaction, happiness, and productivity. Call it disposition, character, or what you will—once acquired, it becomes a habit. The inveterate "jollier," either of himself or of others, rarely gets anywhere. He may be full of words of cheer, manifest a spirit of friendliness which he does not feel deeply, and delude himself with his euphoric attitude. He is chasing a fantom or an illusion, and there never was a particle of contentment in such a pursuit. Sooner or later his friends discount everything that he says and does. His stock is quoted at seven or eight rather than at par.

At the outset every young man should possess a generous supply of confidence and rose-colored paint. But all too frequently he will take a glowing view of every situation, whether or not it is justified. It was this attitude that lay behind Coue's method of healing: "Every day in every way I am getting better and better." One had but to repeat this formula to himself a hundred or a thousand times a day when, presto! disease would vanish. It was a species of self-hypnotism or auto-delusion.

But it is tragic whenever the faith of youth in their elders is destroyed. Every youngster should have an ideal—a character in history upon whose life he may pattern his own; or perhaps some one close to him—a business associate or a friend of the family. Much of our present day unrest has arisen because young America has observed what appear to be betrayals of trust in high places.

Sooner or later, however, it must be recognized that while there are charlatans, quacks, and fakers in all walks of life, including government and politics, honest men and women in great numbers are participating in world affairs. The danger lies in the formation of ideals. Is the grafter more admired than the one who carries out sacredly the trust reposed in him?

The pessimist is the trouble hunter. He may do far more thinking than the optimist, understand better the rules of logic, and defend his notions with facts. What we do not like about him is that he is dejected most of the time. He is always a bear on the stock exchange. "Yes, it is all right," he will say, "but . . ." Then, too, he is likely to exhibit numerous periods of melancholy, so many, in fact, that "blue" days may predominate. Some of our pessimists are cynics who believe that there is but little good in any one; that there are no pure motives in the world.

The scientist, on the other hand, comes nearer truth than any other. He is trained to differentiate the false from the authentic, and to divorce himself from every emotional impulse when weighing data gathered from experiment. But outside of his laboratory he can put on his overcoat of emotion and allow his imagination to run riot. After all, we would be a more harmonious, constructive people if possessed of the faculty of seeing things as they are. But therein lies the word "if" in letters a foot high. Who sees reality? Who knows reality? A mountain of chaff must be threshed over to winnow a few basic principles.

There is far more danger in following the professional optimist than the pessimist. It is much easier and pleasanter to accept the doctrins of the former, as it requires less thought and judgment. Most desirable of all, perhaps, is the ability to differentiate between actuality and castle building.

NERVE IRRITATION.

A. C. writes: My mother is troubled with intense itching of the nose and drying of the throat. She has lost 20 pounds in a year and complains of marked weakness and inability to perform her household tasks. Her lymph glands are slightly enlarged. A physician diagnosed her trouble as atrophy of the nose and glandular trouble induced by the menopause. However, she passed the change of life about six years ago when she had a hysterectomy with radium later. Do you think she might have Hodgkin's disease?

REPLY.

There is evidently some irritation of the nerve endings in the nasal mucous membrane. Use a diet high in vitamins, particularly vitamin A. A blood examination will disclose the exact situation so far as Hodgkin's disease is concerned. If anemia is present, your physician will know what to do.

MAY BE ALLERGY.

L. V. writes: When I go out in the sun my face and arms break out into a very dark rash which takes about a month to clear away. This occurs summer and winter. In fact, I get the eruption if the sun merely shines on my desk. I can't participate in outdoor sports in the summer time. Is there a cure for this condition?

REPLY.

Your skin sensitization to sunlight is in the nature of an allergy. The use of creams containing substances such as disodium napthal sulphonate, which screens out the ultra-violet rays of sunshine, should prove beneficial. Treatment of the underlying deficiency in pigmentation probably lies in controled exposure to ultra-violet light in minute quantities. An expert in allergy should be consulted.

BLADDER TUMOR.

O. R. writes: My mother had a tumor removed from the mouth of the bladder about five months ago. Ulcers were present, also. Before the operation she had very severe pain but now there is discomfort of the gnawing type. In addition, there is pain on urination. Should she submit to further examination or will time take care of the difficulty? She is 60 years old.

REPLY.

There may be an infection in the bladder or the urethra. The condition causing the original ulcers may still be present. Further examination is advised.

ISLANDS BUT NO SAFETY.

Chicago, April 15.—It is terrifying to wait for or try to board street cars from these so-called safety islands because of speeding automobiles. They come flying at pedestrians at a dreadful rate of speed on both sides of the islands. Many look like they are aiming for the middle of the island until they are almost upon us, then swerve quickly to the right or left, just missing us. Even if drivers keep to the car track they are only about a foot away, but some insist on straddling the rail next to the island, almost knocking us down. Penalty signs, warning all vehicles to slow down to a definite speed, should be posted in prominent places on the islands.

Speed in wet weather doubly perils the pedestrian. Many accidents from skidding would be avoided if drivers would only slow down. Another wet weather outrage of the motorist is the shower bath given gratis. Yesterday morning on my way to work, mind you, a speeder passed me very closely, running through a long lane of water, spraying me from head to foot with dirty, muddy water. I was ashamed to even board the street car in such a condition. I hope the trafic courts will renew their drive against such abuses. WORKING GIRL.

TO THE COAST BY AIR.

Chicago, April 9.—THE TRIBUNE's artist erred in the map today, captioned "How Travelers from Different Parts of Country Will Fly to Europe," as he failed to include the pioneer and important airway, United Air Lines' midcontinent route which links Chicago not only to San Francisco but to Los Angeles and Seattle. The map should have visualized to the reader that United's route links Chicago to every Pacific coast city of 100,000 population, it being the only line which offers Chicago direct service to all Pacific coast cities. The midcontinent airway, which was pushed across the country twenty years ago, has radiations from Salt Lake City northwesterly to Seattle and all Pacific northwest cities, due west to San Francisco, and southwesterly to Los Angeles.

The omission by your artist of the Salt Lake-Los Angeles and Salt Lake-Seattle units of the Chicago-Pacific coast service resulted in the elimination of the two oldest air mail-passenger routes in the United States. HAROLD CRARY,
Vice President, United Air Lines.

POINSETTIAS IN BLOOM.

Chicago, April 14.—I read in Tuesday's paper, April 13, of Mrs. W. E. Holbeck's poinsettia plant blooming now. She said she never heard of any one having a blooming poinsettia this time of the year.

Well, I have a poinsettia plant that is 7 years old and blooms almost every year and the flowers stay on for five months. This winter the flower came in the first week of November, the largest flower I have ever seen; it measured 13 inches long and 12 inches wide. Part of the flower is still on, but the leaves of the plant dropped off during January. Each leaf was larger than my whole hand. The first week in April another flower came on, about 12 inches, in back of the first flower, so it now has two flowers. The plant is 90 inches tall.

A year ago I cut it down to within 30 inches of the pot, and it has all grown up since then. It was like a tree with many branches. MISS H. SCHEVELAND.

GRAMMARIAN'S LAMENT.

Chicago, April 11.—Now that Dr. Walter Barnes, English professor of N. Y. U., condones, nay urges, the use of split infinitives, and the use of the object pronoun "me" with the copula "is," I suppose that those of us who observe rules of grammar will be considered out of date. Need one go to college, or even high school, to learn to say "It is me"? Woe is me. HARRY KRONE.

RACKETS.

Chicago, April 8.—This town is as bad as New York. I am trying to make a decent living selling gas, washing cars, and greasing. Some one comes around and puts on pressure for protection to the tune of $60 per year. I am trying to pay for our home and an improvement association wants $5 to keep out undesirables. I just gave them $2 about four months ago. It certainly looks like the rackets are still with us. CITIZEN.

HE ONCE LIVED IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, April 14.—It isn't bad enough with Cermak and Pulaski decorating our main streets; now they are trying to get Masaryk planted all over the city. What is the matter with some American statesmen? What did Masaryk ever do for us? If they like him so much let them decorate the streets of Europe with his name and let all these foreigners go back and look at it. J. W. CALKINS.

DISTRIBUTION OF ESTATE.

Chicago, April 17.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My mother willed me a lot. 1. The first date of probate was late in July, 1936, the second date in September, 1936. It was a small estate, no claims, no bills.

2. What is the earliest the will could be cleaned up? She died in June, a resident of Illinois. Last November I signed a slip of paper authorizing a party to find a prospective buyer and inclosed his fee of $1, giving him until September, 1937, to sell. Have written him several times but had no response. My affairs have so adjusted themselves that I do not care to sell the lot.

3. Shall I notify him to that effect? If lot is valued at $1,000 and has a clear title [4] can I get a $500 loan on it and [5] where?

6. Who pays the taxes on a piece of property while in probate? T. I. B.

1. We do not understand what you mean by the distinction between these two dates.

2. Distribution cannot be expected until the expiration of the year for filing claims and this runs from the granting of letters testamentary or of administration.

3. If you gave him a binding agreement to pay him a commission if he produced a purchaser before September, 1937, you would not be in a position to avoid that agreement merely because you have changed your mind.

4. Not on ordinary terms.

5. We suggest that you talk the matter over with your local banker.

6. If you mean real estate the wording of the will would control, if there is a will. If there is no will the administrator does not necessarily have anything to do with the real estate. Hence it would be to the interest of the heirs to pay. We do not have sufficient facts to advise you to advantage.
TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

20 Years Ago Today

APRIL 20, 1917.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—National prohibition of the liquor trafic as a measure to promote military and economic efficiency looms large on the legislative horizon. A proposal to make such legislation a part of the war program of congress at this session was indorsed in a caucus of house Democrats by a vote of 87 to 60.

CHICAGO.—Allied governments, dealing through local brokers, are credited with having made a profit of $3,600,000 in the last two months in "turns" on the wheat market. The allied governments are said to have taken a considerable fortune in the sale of 2,000,000 bushels of July futures at from $2 to $2.07½ a bushel, prices greater than any recalled by members.

LONDON.—The valiant troops of Gen. Nivelle, "the old fox of the French army," successfully applied the well known "pinching" tactics to the German salient which projects into the French lines northeast of Soissons. The French continued to press heavily against the German forces, but desisted from the smashing blows they delivered since the offensive opened on Monday.

CHICAGO.—Many letters urging universal service and selective draft are being received by Illinois congressmen from mothers, club women, and social leaders. Among those recently sent from Chicago is one from Mrs. Cyrus Hall McCormick of 50 East Huron street, who urges congress to heed the mistakes made by England early in the war and profit thereby.

PETROGRAD—The newspaper Reth prints an inspired article preparing the people for a possible attack on Petrograd by German troops. Transports have been concentrated at Baltic ports and parts of the German fleet now are at Libau. Probably landings will be at Pernau or Reval on the Finnish gulf.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Impressed by the formidable opposition to the administration army bill in congress, particularly in the ranks of his own party, President Wilson issued a public appeal for the support of the principle of selective conscription.

NEW YORK.—Herbert Hoover, chairman of the national food commission, in a cablegram to James E. West, chief Scout executive of the Boy Scouts of America, urged that the services of the quarter of a million members of the organization be employed in planting beans.

CHICAGO.—The males who have swarmed into the marriage license bureau since the outbreak of war and transformed themselves into "husbands with dependent wives" have not succeeded in evading military service. The war department announced that this would constitute no defense at all when the recruiting officer comes around.

U. S. MAY HELP CHICAGO OBTAIN BIGGER AIRPORT

New Estimate on Cost to Remove Tracks Given.

Two major developments came yesterday in the program to clear Chicago airport of the Chicago and Western Indiana railroad tracks. They were:

1. Discovery that the war department is considering advisability of joining in the fight to move the tracks so the airport can be enlarged to a size which will permit safe operation therefrom of the air corps' new giant bombers.

2. Presentation of a new estimate of track removal costs by Chicago and Western Indiana officials to Mayor Kelly. Tentative costs previously estimated at $500,000 now are placed at $889,180 by railroad engineers.

City officials were not informed of the reason for the increase over the earlier estimate.

Need Larger Field for Bomber.

Interest of the war department in the city's airport, it was learned, is prompted by the fact that army airmen hesitate to bring any of the new "flying fortress" bombers—the new Boeing Y1B-17 four engined planes now being delivered to various bombardment squadrons—into Chicago's air field.

This type of airplane weighs 45,000 pounds, and—like the four engined commercial planes which will be flying the country's airways before the end of the year—cannot safely be flown off fields where runways are less than a mile long. One runway on Chicago's field is 4,800 feet long; all the rest are less than 2,900 feet.

Called Key Air Base.

The air corps regards Chicago as potentially a key air base to be used by army planes for maintenance and service during transcontinental trips for wartime concentration. But it cannot be so considered as long as it is too small for the bombardment planes.

Air corps staf members feel it is essential to enlarge the Chicago field because it is the only airport in this area with full radio and lighting equipment, and is the only airport in the Chicagoland area with hard surfaced runways which the heavy bombers need.

While there has been no official statement that the air corps is interested, it is known that full details of the negotiations between the railroad and the city are being reported to Washington.

What Railroad Expects.

The new estimate of the cost of track removal was presented to Mayor Kelly by A. N. Williams, president, and F. E. Morrow, chief engineer of the railroad.

Their figures are based on the assumption that the city will purchase a new right of way for the railroad, will pay for the cost of removal and reinstallation of the tracks, and also provide a capital sum to repay the railroad for the increased annual cost of operations and maintenance over the new right of way.

In return the railroad is expected to deed its right of way along the line of 59th street between Cicero and Central avenues to the city. This could clear the square mile bounded by 55th and 63d streets and Cicero and Central avenues for airport purposes. At present only the 320 acres south of the tracks are improved.

Would Use Belt Tracks.

As the railroad officials outlined the costs they proposed that the C. & W. I. use a portion of the Indiana Harbor Belt railroad right of way along 54th street, and rent one of the I. H. B. tracks pending acquisition of a thirty-seven foot strip of land adjacent to the south of the I. H. B. tracks for a permanent right of way. They estimate the cost thus:

Right of way	$229,000
Construction	412,000
Increased maintenance and operation Annual cost, $10,374.
Capitalized at 4 per cent	259,000
Cost of solidifying tracks	9,220
Switch tenders for temporary connection, 9 for 2 years	33,310
Total	$942,530
Less salvage and old material, etc.	53,350
Total cost to city	$889,180

This accounting does not include the rental for the temporary use of the I. H. B. tracks.

J. L. GRANT JR., 14, IS ALLOTTED $1,500 MONTHLY

Judge John F. O'Connell of the Probate court yesterday approved payment of $1,500 monthly to maintain John L. Grant Jr., 14 years old, 5555 Everett avenue, who recently inherited a $1,500,000 estate. The bulk of the estate came from his grandfather, the late James F. Meagher, former president of the People's Gas Light and Coke company.

The boy's father, who is in the railway supply business, also was reimbursed for $17,250 which he spent to maintain their home since May 18, 1936. Mrs. Grant died May 25. A petition filed with the court states that it is necessary to use the $40,000 annual income of the estate to supply necessities, education, recreation, and entertainment for the boy.

A state inheritance tax return valuing the estate of Sidney Kiser, retired Chicago wholesale furrier, at $145,939.06 and putting the tax at $[illegible],037.56 was filed in the Lake county court in Waukegan yesterday by Mrs. Bessy Kiser, the widow and executrix. Mr. Kiser died Dec. 7 in his home at Lake Marie, near Antioch, at the age of 66.

Thomas Inglesby Dies; Former 15th Ward Leader

Thomas P. Inglesby, 80 years old, 1465 North Kedvale avenue, a former Democratic leader in the Fifteenth ward, died at home yesterday after an illness of two weeks. Mr. Inglesby, who had lived in Chicago since 1893, was a steel erector. He raised the metal framework of the Chicago Stadium, the Uptown theater, and several city bridges.

LA GRANGE PARK BOY BICYCLIST IS KILLED BY AUTO

Driver Held; 5 Other Trafic Deaths.

Clayton Peterson, 10 years old, 42 East 31st street, La Grange Park, was injured fatally yesterday when his bicycle was struck by an automobile at Jackson avenue and La Grange road in the suburb.

Edward Miller, 19 years old, of Waite Park, Minn., driver of the car, took the injured boy to the Hines Memorial hospital where he died. Miller and his uncle, Chris Wolle, 36 years old, of Pontiac, Mich., who owns the car, were held by the La Grange Park police for the inquest.

Michael Petrigala, 32 years old, 2318 South Cicero avenue, Cicero, died in the County hospital yesterday of injuries inflicted by the car of a hit and run driver as Petrigala was walking at 49th court and Cermak road in the suburb.

Another Boy Killed.

Eugene W. Yanke Jr., 7 years old, 1403 West 82d street, was fatally injured by an automobile near his home yesterday. The driver of the car was Frank Hulman, 60, 8244 Loomis street.

Bad Breath

That Comes from Constipation

Don't try to cover up bad breath with pleasant-smelling preparations, for it often comes from a deeper-lying cause—constipation. In such cases conquer the constipation and your breath will become fresh and sweet and your health and spirits will improve also.

Constipation is dangerous for anybody. Nujol is safe for everybody. It does not affect the stomach and is not absorbed by the body. Medical authorities approve Nujol because it is so safe, so gentle and so natural in its action.

Nujol makes up for a deficiency of natural lubricant in the intestines. It softens the waste matter and thus permits thorough and regular bowel movements without griping.

Just try Nujol regularly for the next month and see if you don't feel better than you ever suspected you could.

Ask your druggist for Nujol and insist on the genuine.

COURT REBUKES DAUGHTER WHILE AIMEE LOOKS ON

Judge Reprimands Her Outburst.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 19.—(AP)—An assertion that "Roberta Semple is a tool in the hands of Jacob Moidel," brought an outcry from the daughter of Aimee Semple McPherson today which threatened to upset the orderly trial of her $150,000 slander suit against her mother's lawyer, Willedd Andrews.

The statement that Moidel, former Angelus temple lawyer, dominated Roberta was made by Joseph Scott, defense counsel, when he said:

"We take the position that Roberta Semple is and was a tool in the hands of Jacob Moidel; he tells her what to do and she does it. He dominates her. The best evidence of this is that Moidel told Roberta to get her clothes and leave the temple——"

The daughter leaped to her feet, her blue eyes flashing.

"And did I?" she screamed.

Reprimand by Judge.

Miss Semple's two lawyers pulled her down into her chair. Aimee, sitting beside Scott, opened her mouth to reply but Judge Clarence Kincaid reprimanded Roberta before any one else could speak.

Miss Semple was expelled from Angelus temple last October. In the slander suit she accused Andrews of saying the expulsion resulted from Roberta Semple and Attorney Jacob Moidel, in whose hands she "is just a tool," according to charge made in Los Angeles trial.

When Roberta left the temple, Mrs. McPherson has testified, it was at the behest of Moidel, who had just engaged in a serious argument with Mrs. McPherson.

Aimee said Moidel grabbed Roberta by the hand, pulled her out the door, and shaking his fist at the temple, cried:

"You've gone in that place for the last time."

Fill War Chest.

Members of Angelus temple's congregation donated so heavily to Mrs. McPherson's "war chest," Giles Knight, business manager, said today, three men were required last night to carry the huge bowl to the counting room.

Cash, wedding rings, and even gold teeth were dropped into the container as the evangelist started her defense fund in the $1,080,000 damage suit brought by Rheba Crawford, former "Angel of Broadway" and temple co-pastor.

Miss Crawford did not remain silent at her home. "I am deeply humiliated," she said, "that I should be the means used by Mrs. McPherson and Giles Knight to separate the faithful Angelus temple flock from their few pitiful remaining material possessions."

AGREE ON PLAN TO RUSH REVISION OF BUILDING CODE

A method of speeding up the work of revising the city's building code, a task that has been in progress for ten years, was agreed upon yesterday by Ald. James J. McDermott [14th], chairman of the code subcommittee of the city council, and F. J. Thielbar, chairman of the citizens' committee which has drafted a new code.

The plan, originated by Ald. McDermott, authorizes Robert Knight, deputy building commissioner, and Architect Joseph McCarthy, a member of the citizens' committee, to review the old and proposed new codes and recommend which is to be adopted in its entirety or merely amend certain sections of the old code.

The subcommittee has been discussing the new code in innumerable hearings that once threatened to last two or three years more.

D.A.R. Hears Revolution Son Blast Roosevelt's Court Plan

BY RUTH DE YOUNG.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 19.—[Special.]—An unexpected blast against President Roosevelt's Supreme court packing scheme added interest here tonight to the pageantry and ceremony opening the 46th continental congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution in Constitution hall. Five thousand delegates from 48 states were in attendance.

"The grafting of six unneeded members on the Supreme court will not help us to walk better but instead will cause us to lose our balance," Messmore Kendall of New York City, president general of the Sons of the American Revolution, declared in a five minute speech that was listed as "greetings."

"We are here because our forefathers fought, bled, and died to give us a sturdy constitution which would sustain us to a hale and hearty old age," Mr. Kendall began.

Assails Half Baked Theories.

"They gave us hands to do any work we choose to perform without dictation from any superior agency and without regimentation; tongues to proclaim to the world the blessings and the liberty guaranteed by the bill of rights and with which to plead before an independent court for the protection of those rights from all aggressors and usurpers; hearts to sustain our unfaltering determination; and brains to thwart all un-American arguments and half baked theories.

"We need no doctors with foreign nostrums who would inject communistic bacilli into our national life. We must do our duty to ourselves and our children. We must watch for streptococci that would pollute our red, white, and blue blood and must dissuade surgeons who would operate on our checks and balances and amputate our rights."

Senator A. Harry Moore [D., N. J.] sounded the keynote of the four day congress when he emphasized that the American youth movement must be part of the whole effort toward preserving and developing the American way of life.

"It is a noble thing to perpetuate the traditions and deeds of those who have gone before," Senator Moore said. "It is a nobler thing to train and inspire the youth of America in the faith of their fathers."

Urges Halt in Armament Race.

Mrs. William A. Becker, president general, said "To youth let us turn for in our hands we hold its fate; in its hands lies the destiny of the state." She then introduced the 48 high school girls who were the winners of good citizenship pilgrimages to Washington for the congress. Illinois is represented by Miss Lorraine Ploszek, of Oak Lawn, a student in the Argo-Summit High school. While here these winners are visiting all of the historic shrines in and about the city.

Sumner Welles, assistant secretary of state, declared "unless the existing armament race is halted, the entire world will experience an economic collapse utterly destructive of the civilization we have built up. We thus would take part and bear our full share in all international efforts to secure military and economic disarmament."

William O'Malley Named Master in Chancery

Chief Justice Harry M. Fisher of the Circuit court yesterday announced the appointment of Attorney William O'Malley, 8225 South Hermitage avenue, as a master in chancery to succeed William R. Swissler. After serving three two year terms, Swissler's reappointment was not confirmed last December.

COURT PACKING OPPONENTS WILL PUSH LYNCH BILL

Roosevelt Scheme to Be Delayed or Killed.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 19.—[Special.]—Opponents of President Roosevelt's plan to pack the Supreme court with six New Dealers disclosed today that their strategy will include an effort to force the senate to act first on the Wagner-Gavagan anti-lynching bill, already passed by the house, for the purpose of alienating southerners on whom the administration is counting to support the judiciary bill.

All previous efforts to get enactment of federal anti-lynching legislation have been defeated by senate filibusters, the last being in 1934. The senate now, however, is believed to be overwhelmingly in favor of such legislation and both the President and Postmaster General James A. Farley are said to be working quietly for action at this session.

Major Issue in Fight.

The foes of Mr. Roosevelt's court packing scheme, including those who sincerely favor a federal anti-lynching law and some who do not, express the belief that the Wagner-Gavagan bill will be major fact in the judiciary fight.

If the anti-lynching bill were passed first, they declare, southern senators hardly could support the President's project to enlarge the Supreme court with six new justices who would take a more "enlightened" view of the constitution.

The southerners, including such vociferous supporters of the court packing bill as Hugo Black of Alabama, James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, and Majority Leader Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, contend that the anti-lynching bill is unconstitutional, since it invades the police powers of the states and does violence to due process, among other things.

However, supporters of the anti-lynching measure maintain that it is constitutional and would be so construed by an "enlightened" court. Senator Tom Connally [D., Tex.], who violently opposes both the court packing and anti-lynching measures, already has elicited for the record the statement of John P. Davis, secretary of the National Negro congress, that the Supreme court if reconstituted by Mr. Roosevelt would uphold the Wagner-Gavagan bill.

While the foes of the court packing bill are by no means convinced that the anti-lynching measure can be put through the senate, they believe its defeat by a prolonged filibuster would serve their purposes. With the administration openly supporting the measure, party loyalties necessarily would be strained, and the debate would impress upon the southerners a future possibility which they would not care to contemplate.

YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED

Even Slender Silhouette Needs Some Control.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1937: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

A few facts about foundation garments, as they have been catalogued by foundation garment manufacturers, are presented here. We would like, however, to introduce the fact first and foremost, to be recognized by women in connection with their 1937 appearance, that every figure, no matter how slight, is better looking for foundation garment control. Every dress fits better over such basic line influence. A slim figure may need only a tiny girdle, but controling the ever so slight kind of wiggle this year is demanded of the well dressed girl or woman.

One of the notes from the source above mentioned is that new foundation garments being shown for summer wear are made of tropical cloth and cool nets, with some of the garments weighing as little as seven ounces.

Another item submitted is that Virginia Ottoson, 21 year old model, well known for her perfect figure, recently told a convention of women who sell corsets that she has worn a foundation garment since she was 16, as "figure insurance."

Stout women, one learns from the corsetieres, are easier to help with their figure problems than are others, because they have no false illusions about their appearance.

We learn in another paragraph of corset news that at least an hour should be spent in choosing a foundation garment. You want to be leisurely in your selection and expertly fitted.

Well made foundation garments, we are reminded, thrive on laundering. A good corset may be laundered as frequently as once a week.

Measurements for a foundation garment must be taken sitting down as well as standing up, for the body has a spread of three inches when in a sitting position.

A correctly fitted foundation garment will take away as much as three inches of unwanted girth by a redistribution of flesh.

Many women find that a corset having a slightly shorter skirt line in front than in the back gives the utmost fredom in walking.

It's wise economy, we learn, to buy two foundations at a time. "Resting" each garment in between wearings lengthens the life of each.

We close with the reminder that a cheap dress over a good foundation garment will look a million times better than an expensive frock over a badly fitted undergarment, a fact you know as well as any one else, but sometimes forget to apply to your appearance.

Culbertson's "Gold Book of Bidding and Play"

Herewith is presented another portion of Mr. Culbertson's latest work on contract, the "Gold Book of Bidding and Play," which is being reproduced in this column in daily instalments.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE TAKE-OUT DOUBLE.

[Copyright: 1937: By Ely Culbertson.]

The take-out double is one of the most important of the prepared bids. An opponent already has opened the bidding, advertising possession of a hand which, at the very least, probably will win three defensive tricks.

The opener's partner may sit behind the doubler with the balance of power. In the face of this opposing strength the defender, by doubling, commands his partner to bid with a possible Yarborough.

Before making a take-out double, the doubler should make certain that if his partner is forced to respond on a minimum hand his support for partner's suit will be such that the result will not be disastrous. If there is any suit in which partner may respond, and which the doubler is not prepared to support strongly, then the doubler should have in his hand a rebiddable trump suit of his own.

The bidding at match point duplicate:

East	South	West	North
Pass	Pass	1 spade	Pass
2 spades	Pass	Pass	Double
Pass	3 diamonds	Pass	Pass
3 spades	4 clubs	Pass	Pass
Double	Pass	Pass	Pass

The bidding was essentially "match point bidding." In rubber bridge North's delayed double of two spades would be strictly for penalties; in duplicate it still is technically of the penalty variety, but at the same time may mean that the doubler requires close coöperation from partner. East's double also was justified only at duplicate.

The opening lead of the king of spades was won by the ace, and a low diamond from dummy was passed by East, South winning with the jack. The problem was to establish diamonds and, if a trump were to be lost, as seemed likely, to snatch at least one heart trick. Diamonds could be continued from either hand, but hearts had to be led up to dummy. Declarer therefore led a heart and, when West ducked, went right up with the king on the sound assumption that if East held the diamond ace, as virtually had been proved, West must hold the heart ace for his bid. The king winning, the diamond queen was continued. East won and forced declarer with a spade. The ten of diamonds having dropped from West on the second round, declarer saw that it might be necessary to ruff out the suit, hence led a low diamond and ruffed it. The ace and another club then confined the defenders to the club king as their third trick.

Had declarer failed to pick off his heart trick at an early stage [before knocking out the club king] he would have found himself too short of trumps to do this and at the same time bring home his diamond suit.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: I opened the bidding with one diamond. Opponents did not enter the bidding. Partner responded with one heart. What is my proper response with:
♠ 10 4 ♥ 9 3 ♦ A K 9 6 3 ♣ A Q 7 5?
Answer: Two clubs.

Mr. Culbertson will discuss this hand in tomorrow's article.

A JO-JOTTE POINTER.

When you have cards in a Jo-Jotte hand that will produce 40 scoring points for you, then you usually should make a bid. These 40 points should be made up of aces, tens, and high trumps. You have learned that there are other points to be scored for combinations known as "honor melds." For example, any sequence [such as J-10-9, etc.] has a value, and four of a kind is of great value, counting 100 points. But the scoring value of the single cards in your hand is the first consideration. Here are two hands:

1—♠ J Q 8 ♥ A ♦ 10 9 ♣ None
2—♠ 10 9 8 ♥ 9 7 ♦ K ♣ None

Hand No. 1 totals 40 points, if spades are trump, for then the jack becomes the highest spade, worth 20 points; the ace and ten are worth 10 each. Hand No. 2 will score if spades are trump, 15 for the nine of spades and 10 for the ten of spades, a total of 25. The 10-9-8 sequence counts 20 points, making a grand total of 45 points. Yet hand No. 1 should be bid, and hand No. 2 should be passed. You need, for a bid, 40 points in pay cards. The value of honor melds must not be included in this total.

Invalid Wishes Striking Clock.

A recent offer of a striking clock brought many pitiful requests from invalids anxious to have one. If any reader has one she no longer cares to keep, we will be glad to place it.

Among the requests was one for Miss M., who has been an invalid for several years. She suffers greatly during the night hours and a clock would be a comfort to her, as she feels the hours would not seem so long if she knew the time. She is 73 years old and lost her home just before the depression. Since she is alone in the world, without relatives, she is being supported by the county. Her address is on the west side of the city.

Nagging Makes Food Repellent to Youngster

Eating Should Be Natural Thing, Not Issue.

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

"My baby won't eat."

"My little girl won't eat."

"My little boy won't eat."

This is what the child doctor hears about 40 per cent, it is estimated, of the children who are brought to him. Of course we must bear in mind that figures always need interpretation—and that this doesn't mean that 40 per cent of all children won't eat, but only that proportion of those who come to him. The pediatrician has a name for it. He calls lack of appetite anorexia.

The nursery school teacher, taking a beloved tiny son or daughter from its mother's hands at the door, hears the same story over and over again.

Whenever a problem is as widespread as this, those of us who make a study of children look for causes.

Yesterday we observed that this condition probably did not exist as generally in the "good old days." If not, why not? Or, if it exists now to a greater degree, why does it?

Probably for several reasons. Certainly a generation ago not as much was known by doctors about feeding children as is known now. Not as much was known by parents about nutrition as is known now. Consequently not as much effort was made to get into the baby and growing child the foods needed, not only for immediate growth, but for ultimate building of bones and tissues.

With this knowledge often comes anxiety. Often the child's diet becomes a fetish. Anxiety, which is bad enough, or over-anxiety, which is fatal to good eating habits, develops in parents and forthwith sprout those psychological factors which preside, like the evil genii, at each child's repast.

What good does it do you to be informed about what your child should eat if you can't get it into him? We can help you with that problem.

In connection with this article we have a fully written leaflet on "Mealtime Troubles or Why Your Child Won't Eat." It will be sent on receipt of a large, 3 cent, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Dirndl for Youngest Set

JUVENILE DRESS.

Yes, it's a dirndl dress and designed especially for modish misses ranging in age from 2 to 10. It's a comfortable and practical as well as dainty model. It will please the fashion tendencies of the youngest set and the sensible eye which mothers always have for juvenile attire. The bodice is form-fitting, the neckline either square and plain or high and collared, the sleeves are puffed and gathered into tight bands, and the skirt is shirred voluminously into the slim little waistline.

If a particularly dainty fabric is selected this dress is perfect for parties. But little girls have a way of getting into things just before party time. Sessions in the playroom often have disastrous results, so to keep the frock spic and span before it is time to leave for the gala time, there is a dainty apron to be worn as protection. It has scalloped edges and is trimmed with rickrack braid. It boasts of two pockets, too, for precious trifles which must be toted around. There's another idea, too. Very small hostesses often like to assist in party arrangements. Nothing quite like a dainty apron for this purpose, is there?

All of the sheer and dainty cottons make up beautifully in this pattern. For more practical purposes there are sturdier cottons, linen, and gingham to be considered.

Style No. 3311 is designed for sizes 2, 4, 6, 8, and 10 years. Size 4 requires 2 yards of 35 inch material for the dress, with 1⅞ yards of 35 inch fabric for the apron, collar and cuffs, and 5¼ yards of braid.

Dressy Opera Opens Season of Coronation

American Notables Seen at Covent Garden.

BY MAY BIRKHEAD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 19.—The first gun of the coronation season was fired socially, so to speak, with the opening tonight of the opera at Covent Garden.

With women wearing diamond diadems and necklaces and ermine, silver fox, mink and sable over silver and gold dresses, the audience was impressive. Sir Thomas Beecham, conductor of the orchestra, and singers gave a thrilling interpretation of "Othello."

As is the case with many things in London these days, the affair had more than one American angle. Giovanni Martinelli, a favorite Metropolitan tenor, sang the grand rôle of Othello.

Americans in the audience were curious to see if, with the different acoustics of Covent Garden, he would acquit himself as well as in New York. But every one applauded him vigorously after he had warmed up for the second act. According to the souvenir coronation program the entire season is to be brilliant and is being increased from six weeks to eleven. For the next three weeks the house is sold out.

Among the operatic stars who have just come from America to sing here are Soprano Madame Kirsten Flagstad, who sang for the first time in London last season; Baritone Lawrence Tibbett, who sings here for the first time, and Tenor Lauritz Melchoir.

Notables of American birth or well known in the United States were numerous in the dressy audience. Cameras were clicking when Lord Ivor Churchill, son of the former Consuelo Vanderbilt and the late duke of Marlborough, was chatting between acts with the tall, handsome and slender countess of Munster. She was wearing pale blue with a wreath of gold leaves around her neck. The duke of Windsor, former King Edward VIII. of England, considered seriously renting her place in Austria.

Among boxholders were Lady Cunard of American birth; Mrs. Arthur Glasgow, who is from a Virginia family; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Beatty, and Mrs. Herbert Shipman.

The American stage was represented by Mary Lewis who has returned to opera after essaying movies and other forms of art.

Also seen were Lady Curzon, Mr. and Mrs. Ormond Lawson-Johnston, close friends of the duke of Windsor and Mrs. Wallis Simpson. Others present included the Hon. Malcolm Bowes-Lyon, cousin of Queen Elizabeth of England, and his wife; Lord and Lady Dawson of Penn, and the Right Hon. Walter Runciman, president of the board of trade, who was recently in America.

Americans are arriving almost by the minute to swell the throng that is reaching London from everywhere. They include Mr. and Mrs. Winston Guest—she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCann who preceded her to London to take a house for the coronation and is a first cousin of Barbara Hutton, the Countess Haugwitz-Raventlow. Mrs. McCann is one of the Woolworth sisters. The Winston Guests are active in the smart younger set here.

Charles Chaplin has taken the duke of Westminster's house.

Mrs. Benjamin Thaw has arrived. She is in mourning for her husband who was for some time first secretary of the American embassy here. She is a sister of Lady Furness and Mrs. Reginald Vanderbilt and was the first of the family to meet the duke of Windsor when he was prince of Wales. She first saw him at Buenos Aires when her husband was first secretary of the embassy there and danced with the prince at many parties. Their friendship was renewed when she came to London. It was Mrs. Thaw, not her sister Lady Furness as so often has been wrongly said, who introduced Mrs. Simpson to the then prince of Wales.

[ADVERTISMENT]

HE ATE ALL-BRAN AND IMPROVED WONDERFULLY

Read this voluntary letter: "In regard to your ALL-BRAN, it is marked on the package 'best as a cereal, best for cooking,' and, as far as I am concerned, you might add best for health. Since I have begun to eat it, I have improved wonderfully."—Mr. H. E. Poole, 312 W. Franklin Street, Jackson, Mich.

ALL-BRAN corrects common constipation, due to meals low in "bulk." Within the body, it absorbs water and forms a soft mass, gently sponging out the system.

ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B to tone up the intestines, and iron for the blood. Isn't this food better than taking weakening pills and drugs?

Eat two tablespoonfuls daily, either as a cereal with milk or cream, or in recipes. In chronic cases, with each meal. Sold by all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Women Plan Early Drive to Aid Orchestra

Map Ticket Sale Project at Meeting Today.

BY JUDITH CASS.

FOR the fourth time the woman's committee of the Chicago Symphony orchestra is going to start work selling subscriptions for the next season's concerts and to start the work the chairman, Mrs. Bartholomay Osborne, has called a meeting for this afternoon at 3 o clock. Mrs. Osborne, who is just back from a vacation at Vero Beach in Florida, will meet her co-workers in the directors' room at Orchestra hall.

Mrs. Clyde M. Carr, Mrs. Charles H. Swift and Mrs. Frederic W. Upham are honorary chairmen of the committee of which Mrs. Carl Meyer, Mrs. Thomas I. Underwood and Mrs. John Paul Welling are vice chairmen and Mrs. Herbert Kennedy secretary.

The Thursday night audiences this year have been considerably larger because of the work of the woman's committee, which hopes to be even more successful than before in disposing of the boxes and main floor seats for the evening concerts next season. The last concert of this season will be on Friday afternoon, April 30, and the opening one of next season will be on Thursday night, Oct. 14.

Assign Committees to Various Districts.

Among those who have worked with Mrs. Osborne and who will continue to assist the orchestra are Mrs. Edison Dick of Lake Forest and Miss Frances Jeffery, who are co-chairmen of the box committee; Mrs. Bradley Downing, Miss Helen Howe and Miss Agnes Benson, who interest the schools; Mrs. Henry B. Vanzwoll and Mrs. George N. Oberne, who head the club committee; Mrs. Joseph McNulty, Mrs. William W. Dixon, Mrs. William J. Stenson, Miss Julianna Holmes and Mrs. Frank D. Mayer of the north side committee.

Mrs. Ralph Bettman and Mrs. Lester E. Frankenthal Jr. are co-chairmen of the south side committee, Mrs. Raymond Gifford and Mrs. Nelson Brewer of the Beverly Hills one, Mrs. Gilbert M. Smith of the Evanston group, Mrs. Werner of Wieboldt of the Highland Park committee, Mrs. Lithgow Mitchell of Lake Forest, Mrs. Telfer MacArthur of Oak Park and River Forest, Mrs. Walter Knupfer and Mrs. C. L. Ostrom of Wilmette, and Mrs. E. V. L. Brown and Mrs. Dwight Orcutt of Winnetka and Glencoe.

Northwestern Festival Committee Meets.

Another musical project to which Mrs. Osborne is lending time and energy these days is the Evanston Music festival to be given from May 11 to 15 in the Patten gymnasium at Northwestern university. She is a member of the Chicago committee of which Mrs. Walter R. Kirk is chairman and Mrs. Arthur Meeker, Mrs. Theodore W. Robinson, Mrs. Loyal Davis, Mrs. Sewell Avery and Mrs. Silas H. Strawn are vice chairmen.

The committee met for tea yesterday at Mrs. Meeker's and Edwin E. Mills talked about the festival and the splendid programs, the first of which will present Kirsten Flagstad as soloist.

Mrs. Walter Paepcke, smart in a light brown suit, presided at the tea table and Miss Janet Fairbank, in becoming brownish tweeds, helped with the serving of sherry to those who preferred it to tea and coffee.

Next Monday Mrs. Kirk will be hostess to the committee. Some of those who attended yesterday's meeting were Mrs. Walter B. Wolf, Mrs. Jason Whitney, Mrs. Mark W. Trude, Mrs. Richard Cooper Jr., Mrs. Franklin M. Miller, Mrs. Daggett Harvey, Mrs. Gilbert Smith, Mrs. John Hurley, Mrs. L. Hamilton McCormick, Mrs. Paul Rowan, Mrs. Irene Sidley, Mrs. William A. A VOLUNTEER stooge relays an incident that occurred in Judge Graber's courtroom one morning last week when license cases were being heard. During the proceedings the clerk called out in a loud voice "Ruby Taylor." The spectators looked around to see who would answer the call and a smile spread over the courtroom when a colored woman approached the bar—a woman about the right age to be Amos 'n' Andy's Ruby Taylor. Judge Graber dropped some of his judicial dignity for a moment and said to her, "I thought you had changed your name." Ruby Taylor saw no humor in the matter and at the conclusion of her testimony stalked back to her seat with an air of injured dignity.

REMEMBER the item about the colored maid who was hurrying along Michigan avenue carrying a tray with two old fashioneds on it for a matron having a fitting? If you didn't see the item, the maid did. Her letter follows:

"I thank you for mentioning me in your column. I am the maid who was carrying the two old fashioneds, but you made a mistake. I am not a maid in a restaurant. I am honored to be a maid in one of the most exclusive dress shops on Michigan avenue. The old fashioneds made the fittings go better. Thank you.

MRS. MONICA MAST BOGGS of the De Paul university school of music observed William Montgomery McGovern, author and professor, stalking across the lobby at the Northwestern University choir recital one evening last week, in evening clothes, a pipe in his mouth, his hair a little shaggy, as usual. His appearance reminded her of the typographical error an organization made in its announcements when it said Dr. McGovern had once disguised himself as a collie to gain entrance to Tibet. It meant coolie, of course.

Good Morning!

You can believe the ads. What they say about "Wake Up and Live" is true. It's a swell picture.

Musical revues, pattering after and patterned after one another like so many giddy sheep we are familiar with and a bit tired of. But here's one that's different.

Adapted from Dorothea Brande's widely read book, it has:

A BRAND NEW plot idea.

UNUSUAL COMEDY SITUATIONS that are REALLY FUNNY.

DIALOG that's REALLY CLEVER.

MUSIC that's downright CATCHY.

ENOUGH but not too many big ensemble numbers.

A BANG UP CAST whose headliners, Ben Bernie, Walter Winchell, Alice Faye and Jack Haley give you double your money's worth in SNAPPY ENTERTAINMENT, and whose SUPPORTING PLAYERS are WOWS, individually and collectively.

ACE DIRECTION.

SPEED.

FINISH.

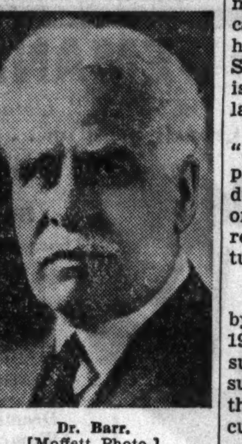
I COULD go into details—but why should I?

READ the ads. Believe 'em. Go see "Wake Up and Live" for yourselves and write me a letter telling me that I'm a guiding star that guides aright.

I thank you.

See you tomorrow.

Dr. Barr to Retire



Dr. Barr.
[Moffett Photo.]

The Rev. Dr. Norman B. Barr, for the last 40 years superintendent of Olivet institute, 1500 Hudson avenue, announced yesterday that he would retire from leadership of that Presbyterian church and social center on May 19. Dr. Barr said his successor has not been chosen. A special committee of the institute board is considering candidates.

Dr. Barr was asked by the Olivet church board 40 years ago to take charge until they could "find a man who would be satisfactory." Since that time the property of the church and social center was built up and is now valued at $600,000. Dr. Barr said that he will visit Europe after his retirement.

Gypsy Rose Lee Dons Lot of Clothes for Her Role in Movie

Hollywood, Cal., April 19.—(AP)—Gypsy Rose Lee, the strip tease girl from New York, spent her first day in Hollywood trying on clothes that scarcely revealed an ankle.

"I'm glad to be here, but frightfully busy," she said. "Imagine—I just arrived yesterday and they had me down at 9 o'clock this morning to try on dresses."

She will not dance, or strip, or sing in the picture on which she is about to start work.

"I can't dance," she said. "I haven't danced for eight or nine years. Strip tease, yes—but that's not dancing.

"Of course, I would rather play straight dramatic rôles than continue burlesque work. Who wouldn't? And I know that my strip tease act helped me a great deal. It gave me more poise and grace."

Spring Season of San Carlo Troupe Opens

"L'ORACOLO."

THE CAST:

Chin-Fen	Mario Valle
Ah-Yoe	Hizi Koyke
Win-Shee	Harold Kravitt
Hu-Tsin	Stefan Kozakevich
Win-San-Lui	Rolf Gerard
Hu-Chi	A Child
Hua-Qui	Charlotte Bruno

Conductor, Carlo Peroni.

BY EDWARD BARRY.

To its small and cannily chosen répertoire of popular favorites the San Carlo Opera company has lately added Leoni's "L'Oracolo." This gory little one acter was sung in English at the Auditorium theater last night as the first offering of the troupe's seven day spring engagement here.

For the benefit of those youths and maidens who do not remember previous performances of "L'Oracolo" in the Auditorium and at Ravinia, the scene of the opera is laid in Chinatown, San Francisco, and its principal character, Chin-Fen, is a combination opium seller, kidnaper, and murderer. Because of his many sins, he becomes a murderee, too, at the very end of the piece.

Although the libretto makes this unsavory fellow a Chinese, the opera is by no means to be considered a reflection on the race. The good characters also are Chinese—Ah-Yoe, the maiden whose beauty is the innocent cause of all the trouble; Win-San-Lui, her sincere and distracted lover; Win-Shee, an honest man whose one fault is a lamentable habit of taking the law into his own hands.

The composer, a Milanese, produced "L'Oracolo" in 1905. It is rich in pleasant, flowing melody, but indulges occasionally in some pseudo-oriental effects that are disturbingly reminiscent of the movies' "Adventures of Kathleen" era.

The story's tragedy is unrelieved by any intentional comedy. For a 1937 audience the latter element is supplied by occasional moments of superdrama and by a stage fight that is even harder to take than the customary operatic hand-to-hand.

"L'Oracolo" served to introduce the gifted little Japanese soprano, Hizi Koyke, in a rôle other than her familiar Butterfly. She gave a vocally beautiful and dramatically convincing characterization but was not exempt from the diction difficulties that beset almost every one in the cast. The performance, in fact, must have been very discouraging for opera in English enthusiasts. The words were difficult, often impossible to understand, although this was partly due to the sometimes excessive volume of the orchestra.

The ballet, "Viennese Life," followed the short opera and provided a much needed contrast. It is bright and sunny, based on the taking melodies of Johann Strauss, and boasts a profusion of pretty girls and cheery costumes. Its high point is a caricature of the Viennese waltz danced by two tipsy ladies and their escorts of the moment.

SPRING COLORS APPEAR

BY BETTY BROWNING.

Every box in both upper and lower tiers was filled and late arrivals on the main floor were obliged to share programs in the best "first night" tradition for the San Carlo Opera company's opening performance of the spring season.

The women who had sold tickets to benefit the Church Mission of Help were able to congratulate themselves that they had produced a sequel as successful as the original benefit opera opening sponsored by them just a year ago.

Bright spring colors blossomed forth in the boxes, where one of the gayest parties was that of Joseph T. Ryerson and the young Joseph T. Ryersons. With them were Miss Mary Bryant, who is here from Boston visiting Mrs. Ryerson, and Albert de W. Erskine Jr. Mrs. Ryerson was charming in chartreuse satin and her guest wore a flame colored gown.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

The second step in a three-step beauty treatment made simple by a compact cylinder containing three essential preparations for skin care consists of massage with a good tissue cream. The eyes are given special attention.

We are a stanch advocate of simplicity in the beauty routine. Our views on this subject are partly responsible for our enthusiasm for a three step beauty treatment package, simple and inexpensive, that holds about three months' supply of three essential preparations. There's heaps of sense to this, if you ask us. But, aside from this very personal approval of its simplicity, we can assure you that the preparations are GOOD!

In the little red cylinder the three preparations are stacked one on top of another. Right smack on the top, in first place because it's logically used first, is your cleansing cream—one of the best that beauty science has ever given us. It's rich, soothing, a softener in itself. The packages are individualized for dry and oily skin. In the dry skin package you have this same cleanser with special lubricating qualities added.

The second jar in the cylinder contains the cream for your second step in this simplest of beauty routines—a subtle, lubricating tissue cream that makes your skin softer after one application. Use it faithfully and you can lay claim to a really dewy, satin-smooth complexion.

The third step involves the use of a foundation—a makeup film in fashion-right shades that not only protects but serves as a flattering base. It's delightful at any time, but particularly nice in summer.

This three-step treatment package is sensible, economical—and beauty insurance.

THE STAGE

Katharine Cornell's spring tour in "The Wingless Victory" and Shaw's "Candida" will bring her to Chicago, at a theater not yet selected, for a two weeks' engagement beginning May 31. The engagement was originally announced to open on May 3, but extension of the New York run has caused a postponement. Miss Cornell will visit only three cities—Philadelphia, Boston, and Chicago. Her run in New York will end on May 8.

Brems, Danish Singer, Great as Interpreter

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Else Brems, extremely personable and capable mezzo from the Royal Danish opera of Copenhagen, sang a recital in the Chicago Woman's Club theater yesterday afternoon under Musicians Club of Women auspices.

In a program that leaped from Lully and Paradies to Schubert and then to the moderns, Mme. Brems proved that she is first of all a great interpreter. She manages to make each song hers, to enter so completely into its spirit that even the wordless content is quite comprehensible to a listener.

In this respect her work is strongly reminiscent of that of her countrywoman, Povla Frijsh. One is tempted to jump right into a generalization which is doubtless extremely dangerous, and claim that all Danish sopranos sing with notable fervency.

In a charming language which she called English, Mme. Brems read the translations of several of her songs. This proceeding added still further to the informal bonhommie of the recital.

The singer's variety and intensity of tone colorings are unusual, likewise her sense of effective phrasing. She had the advantage yesterday of Charles Lurvey's extraordinary accompaniments.

Spring Lingerie Takes Breath and Adjectives

Black Lace Trims Vaporous Pinks and Whites.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Whether you have a decidedly meager source of money or can buy without a quiver of your conscience, spring lingerie collections are capable of taking the last cent from the most tight-fisted female. You run out of adjectives as well as breath when you see the new arrivals. And it's a Puritan plain nightgown these nights that hasn't a ruffle around the hem.

Among the expensive loot, but well worth all the shekels you'll put forth, are the vaporous chiffons and sheers. Two utterly lovely things come in pink or white chiffon garlanded with black lace, positively the most deliriously wicked affairs we've ever yerned to own. The black lace is delicately fine, swoops around a very full skirt and flutters in rows of three around the very deep V front and back. Lace as fine as mist is used for bridal white and shell pink affairs with knife plaited chiffon, the lace forming the clever and unusual yokes, and tops.

Shell pink, in fact, all kinds of luscious pink tints, are back, as well as delectable pale blues. Printed chiffons lovely enough to wear as dance dresses come in fine sheer organzas with butterfly short sleeves, appliqued yokes and full skirts. Clinging ninons, also fluttering with printed designs, have shirred tops and V necklines.

Long chiffon coats cover these nightgowns, the coats with gouged out sleeves, quantities of shirrings and fine handworked details, achieving ensembles of indescribable charm.

At the other end of the spending possibilities are the fetching little cotton nightgowns, made of sprigged thin crisp cottons, trimmed with narrow lace, made in the same appealing streamlines as the more expensive models and tied with contrasting colored ribbons. Yellow, lettuce green, apricot and the coolest looking white, with old fashioned small nosegays, make these cotton beauties as irresistible as the chiffons.

TRUTH TO TELL

By Alice Grant Rosman

[Copyright: 1937: By Alice Grant Rosman.]

SYNOPSIS.

Malcolm and Susan Dubenny's parents died in a flu epidemic during the war. Susan was taken by her mother's parents, the Somervilles. Mrs. Somerville refused the boy in hatred of his father, who had eloped with her daughter. Malcolm went to live with his Aunt Lorna and Uncle Hugh Lowell, his father's half-brother. When 15, Malcolm, who had not seen his little sister for nine years, went on a secret mission to Crofter's End, the Somerville estate. In the woods of the estate the children met. Susan, not knowing, denied she had a brother. Malcolm left, deeply hurt. Mr. Somerville's sister, Alison Loftus, returns to England after a long absence and visits Crofter's End. She antagonizes Mrs. Somerville by her concern about the fate of the boy, Malcolm, and her visit is cut short. Mrs. Somerville fires a faithful servant, Ella Winch, without notice for falling in love. Sue flies to her defense. Mr. Somerville makes up the injustice. Sue questions her grandmother about her parents and is told her father was a scoundrel. Mr. Lowell suffers an accident and Malcolm leaves school to enter his uncle's newly established firm. He is romantically interested in Sylvia Field, his chum's sister.

INSTALMENT XXXII.

SUSAN LEARNS HER IDENTITY.

As soon as possible Sue left the table, and presently granny sighed and said she would lie down. Miss Pender rose officiously to guide her out, as though she were incapable of walking alone, but Jonathan Somerville called her back.

"One moment, Miss Pender, if you please."

"O—er—can you manage, darling? . . . Yes, certainly Mr. Somerville."

He waited until she had walked back into the dining room and then crossed over and closed the door.

"As the question of Miss Somerville's name has arisen and you have been good enough to remind me that she is now growing up, I think it would be more suitable if you were to use her formal title in future, Miss Pender," he said. "And without emphasis, if you please."

"Well, really," said the companion, affecting a laugh. "Why should you imagine I would emphasize it, Mr. Somerville? I am quite at a loss."

"I think not, Miss Pender. After Mrs. Somerville, my granddaughter is in authority here. Is that quite clear?"

"Yes, of course, if you say so."

"I do say so," said the old man sternly.

This incident never came to Susan's ears, and Miss Pender took her revenge, as might have been expected, calling her "Miss Somerville" with such frequency and ostentation, except in her grandfather's presence, that the girl began to avoid any part of the house where she might be met.

She was furious at the treachery of her grandparents, helpless and without a friend. The holidays of the past had at least held the prospect of a new term ahead, but now there was nothing but a frightening succession of empty days, months, and years.

"You know me," blurted Sue.

When she did succeed in finding her grandmother alone she begged to be allowed to go to town to classes and fit herself for some kind of a career, but was told it would be most unsuitable, her grandfather would never hear of it, and granny needed her at home to be the daughter of the house.

She grew pale and nervous, and in a frantic effort to deal with herself began to take long walks in spite of the heat. She went mechanically by one road after another, keeping her eyes on the ground when cars approached and then, feeling that this was weak, staring at them, to conquer her envy.

It was a September afternoon and pleasantly cool when the small blue car passed her at a slow pace and drew up some way ahead close to the woods of Crofter's End.

She fancied she had seen it before in the neighborhood; it was driven by a girl alone and looked very smart and new. As she approached she saw that the driver had dismounted and was doing things to the car, in a knowing manner, kneeling on the dashboard, careless of her yellow washing frock, one slim foot on the ground and the other bent beneath her. Now she was standing up, hatless, and looking to right and left.

"Do you happen to know anything about cars?" inquired the stranger hopefully of Sue.

"No." Sue's interested glance went from the car to the entrancingly pretty face of the driver. "Won't it go?" she asked. "There is a garage in the village—I expect they could tell you what's wrong."

"I know, but you see I'm newish at it and have probably forgotten to turn something off or on, and I should look such a fool. . . . I'll tell you what, if you'll hop in and guide her for me, I'll push into the shade beneath these woods and have my tea. I may be brighter then, and some one's sure to come along if I'm not."

So Susan hopped in and took the wheel, her envious eyes on all the attractive knobs and gadgets and the dark green upholstery.

"She is a beauty," she exclaimed, dismounting again.

"Not half bad. I'm awfully obliged and all that. . . . What about sharing my picnic and damning ceremony, since you've been so helpful? I have plenty for two," suggested the stranger.

"Thanks very much, but they will be expecting me at home," said Sue regretfully, and then with a rush, "I wish I could."

"O, you live in this neighborhood?" exclaimed the other in apparent astonishment. "I simply come out from town looking for quiet roads to practice a bit . . . not wanting to be run in for murder. . . . Then if you live about here I wonder if you know a girl named Dubenny—Susan Dubenny?"

"No, I've never heard of her. I know most people though."

"Perhaps I'm in the wrong spot. Place called Crofter's End. She lives with some frightfully snobby grandparents called Somerville. I was curious about her because her brother is a friend of mine. I've known him all my life."

"O," said Sue with a faint gasp. "No, I've never heard of him."

"You wouldn't know Malcolm," exclaimed the stranger. "He doesn't live here, and these Somervilles don't acknowledge his existence . . . or his beastly young sister either."

"Why?" The question came faintly, but the girl in the yellow frock did not seem to notice that.

"Because they are all snobs together, I imagine. They hated his father for marrying their daughter, and vent it on him. Well, I ask you—the poor old lad wasn't even born. Nice people . . . want boiling in oil and all that. . . . Good thing they are not friends of yours as I'm being so polite about 'em. . . . What's up? . . . you havent got a touch of the sun, have you? . . . Sit down here," she exclaimed suddenly, seeing Sue's white face, and drawing her on to the dashboard of the car. "Faint, are you?"

"You know me," blurted Sue.

Sylvia nodded.

Sue, breathless and at white heat, rushed into the house in search of the arch enemy, her grandfather. Indoors or out she was ready to face him now, while the whole world looked on, if need be; but he was nowhere to be found, teatime still nearly an hour away and the old house quiet, as though deserted.

What she had to say could not wait, however, so she stumbled upstairs and knocked at her grandmother's door.

"I'm afraid you can't come in at present, Miss Somerville. We are just getting up," said the smirking Pender.

"Go OUT."

Miss Pender, never having met this peremptory young woman before, looked appealingly at the bed, but receiving no encouragement, went.

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER: Objections Overruled

Jealousy Seen Equalized by Happy Nature

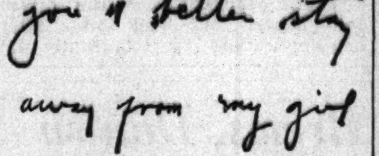
Girl Sends Man's Writing In for Analysis.

BY MURIEL STAFFORD.

[Copyright: 1937: By Muriel Stafford.]

Are you jealous? Or, more important to you, is there some one for whom you care who seems to be jealous? Although jealousy is a perfectly natural emotion, it can cause much distress when carried to an extreme.

No matter how ardent a person may be, he usually dislikes to admit jealousy. Depend upon it, if your handwriting chart or that of your boy friend is marked "intense and ardent" or "overemotional" there is almost sure to be jealousy.



This is the handwriting of a young man who is obviously jealous, yet from the happy upward slant of the lines I should say he was too healthy and happy hearted to suffer very much.

The small, narrow, sharply pointed letters do reveal a naturally ardent, possessive, and somewhat repressed emotional nature and such people cannot help their jealousy nor a tendency to be oversuspicious.

The young woman who submitted this handwriting says: "This writer has always wanted his handwriting read but I hope you don't say anything too awful about him. I have taken a sample from a note he wrote to some one regarding me. The cause was wholly unjustified. I suspect he was playing a joke."

In spite of the strong indications of jealousy and temper shown in this writing the person who wrote it balances all of this by his strong sense of humor. Notice the wavy t-bars and the wavy beginning in the letter m. His jealousy never would allow him to be absurd.

It is not wise to arouse jealousy in some one whose handwriting is overemotional. Writing reveals emotional tendencies more readily than anything else, so have your boy friend's handwriting analyzed and treat him accordingly.

Your Handwriting Analyzed

Any Tribune reader can obtain a personal graphology chart showing his or her assets, handicaps, talents, and emotions by following these rules:

1. Send sample of handwriting to Muriel Stafford, Chicago Tribune, postoffice box 1720.
2. Inclose 10 cents (carefully wrapped) for each sample of handwriting you wish analyzed.
3. Inclose a self-addressed, STAMPED envelope, folded once.

Maj. William Dunckel will take the leading rôle in the play, which is a take off on Pancho Villa, Mexican bad man. Mrs. Dunkel will play the feminine lead. Capt. Edwin G. Greiner, whose wife is directing the performance, Mrs. Alfred Barnes and Lieut. Herbert Platt have other featured rôles.

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1937: By The Chicago Tribune.]

The unleavened bread and cakes baked by Jewish housewives are distinctly unusual, and to the palate not used to them some of these may at first seem unappealing. A second or third trial usually has agreeable results. There are many "kosher" foods which make an instantaneous hit, too. Among these are cheese knoedels, cheese balls, and cake meal jelly roll, recipes for which are printed here.

The matzo meal and cake meal used in these recipes are whole wheat products, readily obtainable in many groceries.

Cheese Knoedels.
[One Dozen.]

3 eggs
3 tablespoons melted butter
3 tablespoons milk
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup matzo meal
1 cup cottage cheese
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon sugar

Beat the eggs and add butter, milk, and ½ teaspoon salt. Add matzo meal slowly, mix well, and let stand for ten minutes. Mix cheese with ½ teaspoon salt and the sugar. Shape dough into balls, making an indentation in each. Place a tablespoonful of the cheese mixture in each dent, then mold the dough over the cheese so that it is completely sealed in the ball. Drop the balls in boiling, salted water and boil for fifteen minutes. Serve warm with sour cream poured over them.

Cheese Balls.
[Ten Balls.]

½ cup matzo meal
1 cup grated mild cheese
1 egg, beaten
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Mix all ingredients well and shape into small balls. Roll balls in additional matzo meal and fry them in deep fat until browned. Serve with fruit salad.

Kosher Jelly Roll.

4 eggs
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
Grated rind ½ orange or lemon

Beat egg yolks and sugar together until light. Add the grated orange or lemon rind and the cake meal, which has been sifted several times. Add salt to egg whites and whip them until stiff. Fold into the batter. Line a pan, 8 by 12 inches, with waxed paper and spread the jelly roll batter evenly in it. Bake for twelve minutes at 350 degrees. Remove from the oven to a damp cloth, lifting the cake from the pan by the edges of the waxed paper. After a few seconds invert the cake on another piece of waxed paper, which has been sprinkled with confectioner's sugar. Remove paper from bottom of cake and spread with jelly. Roll. Wrap in waxed paper and then in a damp cloth for fifteen minutes so that the roll will hold its shape. Remove wrappings and dust with confectioner's sugar.

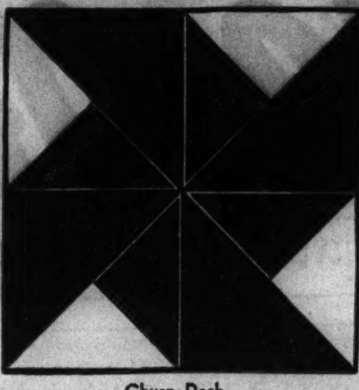
Domestic Churn Basic Design of Old Quilt Block



Churn Dash.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

"Churn Dash" derived its name from women's familiarity with an old time domestic task, churning. The dasher was an agitating instrument used in a churn. This same block also is known as "Whirlwind," or "Pinwheel." The pattern is old and well known, and it is the varied combinations of materials and colors which change its identity. "Churn Dash" is made of one color and white, the pieced blocks being set together with alternate blocks of plain white. The blocks are small, measuring 10 inches square, but it takes no time to finish one square. Thirty-two pieced blocks, set together with 31 white blocks and surrounded by an 8½ inch border, furnish a completed coverlet measuring 87 by 107 inches.

Native Daughters.

The annual meeting and spring luncheon of the Native Daughters of Illinois will be held at 12:30 o'clock today at the Congress hotel. Mrs. M. J. Marland is chairman.

Rhythmic Hour Has Whiteman in His Best Role

Out of Scenery Business in W-G-N Concert.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Rarely has Paul Whiteman been heard to the best advantage in the last season or two on sponsored programs. Altogether too often he has been used to provide musical scenery for such items as Bob Burns, Judy Canova and her clan, or other comedy or variety headliners. Sunday night, however, Paul put on a Rhythmic concert—one full hour over W-G-N-Mutual—in the genuine Whiteman manner.

Most unusual item of the concert was the recitative tone poem "All Points West" by Richard Rodgers and Lorenz Hart with Bob Lawrence, baritone, doing the dramatic singing and speaking portion. This sketch pictures the thoughts of a train announcer as he watches people parading by. The singing portions describe graphically the person he watches.

The announcer yearns, too, to go somewhere, and gets his wish in a surprising fashion. A felon, destined for Sing Sing, gets loose and in the ensuing fracas kills the announcer. Whiteman also presented melodic Kern and Stephens Collins Foster medleys and his flowing "Essay on Waltzes." Next Sunday an all Gershwin concert including the "Rhapsody in Blue" and "An American in Paris." These concerts are worth lending an ear to.

The Pickard Family, Dad, Mother, Ruth, Bubb, Charles, Ann, and Bubb's little daughter, Letsy, still under three, bowed in with their rural rhythm over W-G-N at 6 p. m. yesterday. They'll be heard regularly at this period.

Ben Bernie is to present the entire cast of his new picture "Wake Up and Live" at 8 tonight on WLS.

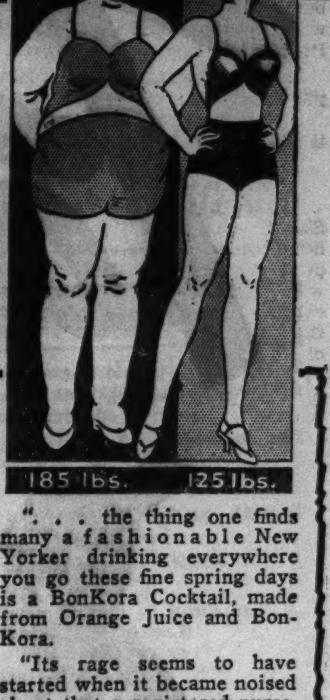
PROBLEMS MADE EASY

Did This New Orange Juice And BonKora Cocktail Way Make Her Lose 45 Lbs. Fat Fast?



". . . the thing one finds many a fashionable New Yorker drinking everywhere you go these fine spring days is a BonKora Cocktail, made from Orange Juice and BonKora.

"Its rage seems to have started when it became noised about that a registered nurse, who could no longer work on account of her weak, fatty condition, lost 45 pounds and 10 inches off her hips with the result that she was able to go back to work again mainly by resorting to this pungent BonKora Cocktail method."

No Dangerous Drugs—No Thyroid—No Dinitrophenol No Starvation

How the BonKora Cocktail Way Has Helped Many People to Lose Pounds of Ugly Fat

"Drinking a glassful of chilled Orange Juice mixed with a tablespoonful of BonKora, two times a day, and eating their fill of the delicious foods, as shown in the BonKora package, it is claimed, has made many people lose from 7 to 67 pounds, and has made their waist and bust measurements go down from 3 to 11 inches.

"The reason why this Orange Juice and BonKora way seems to produce such amazing results is first, the Orange Juice provides for the necessary vitamins to maintain health and supplies the elements to counteract the harmful over-acid conditions that develop while reducing and, second, the BonKora helps to provide for the proper elimination of the toxins or poisons which often interfere with normal metabolism and make reduction of weight very difficult if not impossible."

Will You Try This Orange Juice and BonKora Way To See if You Can Lose Pounds of Excess Fat?

"Where any person is bothered with avoidable and reducible overweight caused by poor elimination, overeating or overdrinking, which is held responsible for a large percentage of all overweight conditions, it is said that this new method often causes a loss of excess fat that is little short of sensational—Also, new enthusiasts will probably be much interested to know how much better those who have tried it say they feel, how much better they say they sleep and how much better fitted for work they say they are."

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., April 19.—The White Sox, the same gay fellows who warmed up by polishing off the Cubs and Pirates, will have a part tomorrow in launching the American league's idea of a new deal hereabouts. The Browns, deep in financial and playing misery for many years, are in the hands of different keepers, and the hope is that the newcomers will lead the way to recovery of the prestige the club owned locally until their rivals, the Cardinals, began winning pennants back in 1926.

Oral Hildebrand.

Strangely, or otherwise, the man who was responsible for putting the Cardinals in the front rank here in 1926 is the same man who now is ambitious to bring back to the American league what he took away. The name is Rogers Hornsby, manager of the Browns. Whether he will succeed financially, there being no expectation of a pennant, is doubtful. But, at least for tomorrow's opener, the new deal promises to be successful. Nothing less than a 15,000 turnout is expected, and that is something for a club which has become accustomed to a few hundred daily.

Kennedy Starts on Mound.

For the kickoff of a campaign which the World Champion Yankees should win, Manager Jim Dykes of the White Sox will stick to his original choice of Vernon Kennedy for the pitching chores. Kennedy's twenty-one victories last season earned him the honor. A year ago at this time John Whitehead was accorded the privilege, a job he wasn't able to complete although the Sox won. Since that time Big John has fallen into disgrace and the date of his first 1937 start is doubtful. It is likely that Dykes will provide him with a few rescuing assignments to prove his condition.

When the Sox arrived here late this afternoon they believed that success or failure tomorrow would depend on their ability to function against the high tempered Oral Hildebrand, obtained by Hornsby during the winter in a deal with the Cleveland Indians. The Sox are smart enough to appreciate that a little bench jockying has greater effectiveness than base hits on the slim ex-Indian. The jockying will be well handled by Mule Haas, who will have nothing else to do during the day.

Dykes Won't Play Today.

Dykes will be present only in a managerial capacity tomorrow. Circumstances are such that he should be playing third base for the Sox, but at the age of 40 years he has encountered physical shortcomings. He started against the Cubs yesterday and intended this as a warmup for the championship campaign, but after delivery of a single he learned that one of his two legs was balking. He withdrew from action immediately and is not going to attempt a return until the Sox open at Comiskey park next Friday. Meanwhile Tony Piet, whose honest double drove in the winning run in the tenth inning against the Cubs yesterday, will operate at third.

Except for the position he will play a one time or another, Dykes' lineup tomorrow will be the same he has hopes of employing throughout the six months race. The outfield, from left to right, will be Radcliff, Rosenthal, and Walker. The infield from right to left will be Bonura, Hayes, Appling, and Piet. The catching will be handled by Luke Sewell. The only doubtful item in this layout is Rosenthal, who was a hitting flop during the spring games. Dykes still has faith in the lad and promises to start him tomorrow even if the foxy Hornsby should surprise fans by starting Elon [Lefty] Hogsett instead of Hildebrand.

Makes No Pennant Predictions.

Dykes, knowing the power of the Yankees and suspecting the Tigers and Indians might prove tough as

Rookie's Double Clinches Game, 4 to 3.

Washington, D. C., April 19.—(AP)—Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, presented a freshman battery today which combined to defeat the Washington Senators in a ten inning game which started the American league baseball season. The score was 4 to 3.

Even the presence of President Roosevelt, who never had seen Washington lose since he entered the White House, failed to offset the pitching wizardry of Rookie Almon Williams and a timely hit by Catcher Earl Brucker, a 30 year old newcomer to the Athletics.

32,000 See Battle.

A capacity crowd of approximately 32,000, many in short sleeves and thin dresses, saw Joe Cascarella of the Senators engage Williams, a 23 year old right hander from Atlanta, in a pitchers' battle.

Brucker broke up the game in the tenth when he doubled deep into center field to score Bob Johnson with the winning run. Johnson had walked.

Mr. Roosevelt drew a cheer from the fans when he drove into the park just before game time. After Vice President Garner had raised a flag in center field, the President greeted the rival managers, Mack and Bucky Harris, and performed his annual chore of pitching the first ball.

Lewis Gets Ball.

His toss was a high lob that Buddy Lewis, Washington third baseman, grabbed after a scramble with players of both teams.

Then the President settled down to enjoy the contest. He laughed and chatted with members of his party, including his son James. He grinned and waved at the crowd in the tenth when a foul landed in his box and narrowly missed him. Score:

Meet Irish Heavyweight Boxing Champ

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, April 19.—Dominick Lydon, from Ballina in County Mayo, is Ireland's latest and best amateur heavyweight. Gene Tunney's Mayo should be proud of this splendid fighter, who is now employed in the Dublin Garda and is stationed with Ernie Smith, another member of the Irish boxing team.

Lydon is the Irish amateur champion. He won that honor by his ability to pound both hands to the body as well as box splendidly with his left at long range. Gen. W. R. E. Murphy, president of the Irish Boxing association, had the following comment to make after seeing Lydon win the title: "He's as fast as a lightweight. He has a wicked dig with both hands."

An Experienced Fighter.

Lydon is an experienced internationalist. Last year he fought in Detroit, scoring a decisive victory over an American. He whipped Ray Kelly in Boston, but also lost to Tom Osborne, the bout being stopped because of a cut over the Irishman's eye. Lydon's greatest triumph occurred last December when he defeated Erich Schnarre, 24 year old German.

His record last year included victories over Jens Jorgensen of Denmark and Ferenc Nagy of Hungary. He defeated Nagy at Cork after losing at Dublin.

Draws Huge Entry.

Dublin believes Lydon will win the European championship at Milan, May 5 to 9. This tournament is more important to Ireland than the Olympics, for Ireland has refused to enter the Olympics claiming itself entitled to the same standing as any other country. Under the Olympic rules, Irish boxers must first win in England's preliminaries before they can compete for Olympic titles.

The Milan tournament will break all records for competition, according to Arthur de Kankovszky, secretary of the International Boxing association. Teams are now entered from Ireland, France, Austria, Hungary, Germany, Italy, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Belgium, Denmark, Holland, Norway, Sweden, Finland, Jugo-Slavia and Lithuania. The reason for the large entry is because the winners will get a trip to Chicago to meet the Golden Gloves team May 28.

Homer by Arnovich Wins Opener Before 10,000.

Boston, Mass., April 19.—(AP)—The Phillies, generally consigned to last place in the National league, won a Patriots' day double-header that opened the league season today. They defeated the Bees, 2 to 1, in the forenoon and scored a 1 to 0 shutout in the afternoon. A crowd of 10,000 turned out for the morning game and 25,000 saw the second contest.

An eleventh inning home run by Morris Arnovich broke up the morning hurling duel between the Veterans Guy Bush of the Bees and Sylvester Johnson, Philly right hander. Johnson held the Bees to four hits while the visitors were rapping out eight off Bush. Johnson was replaced by Wayne La Master in the ninth inning after the Bees put two men on bases with one out. La Master pitched hitless ball until Arnovich's game winning hit.

Walters Celebrates.

Bucky Walters celebrated his 27th birthday in the afternoon by turning in a four hit pitching performance at the expense of Danny MacFayden. Only in one inning, the fourth, were the Bees able to advance a runner beyond first base. Eddie Mayo and Vince Di Maggio opened the inning with successive singles, but Frank McGowan hit into the first of three double plays completed by the Phillies. Tony Cuccinello ended the inning by striking out.

The Phils' winning run was made in the fourth. With one out, Atwood reached first base on Warstler's error, took third on a single by Norris and scored when Cuccinello juggled Scharein's slow grounder.

Berger Breaks Finger.

Wally Berger, Bees' center fielder, fractured a finger during the afternoon's pre-game practice and was forced to the sidelines. Scores:

COURT DISPUTE DOGS PRESIDENT AT BALL GAME

Washington, D. C., April 19.—(AP)—An airplane flew over the Washington-Philadelphia baseball game at Griffith stadium today carrying a huge red sign which said:

"Play the game. Don't pack the court."

President Roosevelt, who proposes to reorganize the Supreme court, was a spectator at the game. His son, James, called his attention to the sign, and both laughed.

William L. Burall, president of a Baltimore advertising firm, said that his company had sent the plane up, having been engaged to do so by a group of Washington men whom he would not name.

Talking It Over

[Copyright: 1937: By The Chicago Tribune.]

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 19.—Another major league baseball season is upon us. . . . The teams are back from the training camps, or more appropriately, the ballyhoo camps, and there will be almost continuous action until early October. . . . Theoretically, spring training is a program devoted to reducing girths and loosening stiffened sinews, but its most material benefits from the front office point of view is the sustained razzle dazzle that reawakens the drowsy customers and heralds the approach of opening day. . . . Chicago came to life earlier than usual this spring because of the rivalry between its two local clubs, who drew a midseason crowd two days before the first league game was scheduled to be played. . . .

The average age of the players in the big leagues this season is about 26 and few athletes of those years are far out of condition. . . . A week or two of work at the most would be sufficient to put them in shape. . . . Most of them reek with health. . . . The extra four or five weeks in camp are important only in so far as they contribute to the steamup. . . . The idea that a training camp is a laboratory where gray haired scientists of baseball toil tirelessly over tender young pitchers' arms and weigh studiously the base hit content of new batting eyes is largely the bunk. . . . The makeup of the various clubs is pretty definitly known before they start south. . . . The exciting adventure of uncovering a phenomenon in California, Florida, or Texas no longer exists for the reason that the unknowns are widely publicized before they report. . . .

St. Louis anticipates the most successful opening the Browns have had in years. . . . This isn't anything to wax enthusiastic about because the club drew only 1,300 paid admissions to its 1936 opening and less than 1,800 in 1935. . . . The team is operating under new ownership this season and the directors, headed by Donald Barnes, head of a prominent investment company, really are whooping it up. . . . Bill De Witt, formerly of the Cardinals' front office, who now is serving as business manager of the Browns, predicts that 15,000 will be in Sportsman's park tomorrow afternoon, which ought to give you some idea of the hysteria in St. Louis tonight. . . . The chamber of commerce sponsored a mammoth banquet tonight to which the Browns, the Cardinals, and the White Sox, who will provide the opposition for Rogers Hornsby's boys tomorrow, were invited. . . . President William Harridge of the American league was the principal speaker. . . .

As evidence that they do things in a big way, the Browns will have two governors, Henry Horner of Illinois and Lloyd Stark of Missouri, as headliners in the opening day ceremonies. . . . One or the other, or maybe both, will throw out the first ball, thereby preserving a ritual that dates back to the early days of the sport. . . . Baseball is the only sport to which governors, and even the President, lend a baptismal hand. . . . By their presence they help to materialize the illusion that baseball is the game of the American people. . . . This is a healthy blurb for the game and also for the state and federal executives. . . . Baseball is prospering especially well in this regard at the moment because they say President Roosevelt reacts ecstatically to the drama of the game. . . . Calvin Coolidge showed

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Cubs and the Pittsburgh Pirates, both red hot contenders for the National league pennant, will open the league season at Wrigley field at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The Cub ticket department announced that a capacity crowd of 42,000 has been indicated by a record advance sale of box seats and that a turnout of 38,000 or 40,000 is certain unless unexpected bad weather develops.

Larry French, for many years a Pirate mainstay, will pitch for the Cubs—launching his third year as a member of the Chicago ensemble. He will be opposed by the ancient and still able right hander, Red Lucas.

Third Meeting of Year.

This afternoon's opener will be the third meeting of the teams this year. There was, however, little in two early meetings in California to supply dope on today's probable winner. The Pirates beat the Cubs 10 to 4 in Los Angeles on March 27 and the Cubs were victors in San Bernardino, the Pirate camp, on March 29, 23 to 14.

French appeared in neither game. Lucas pitched the first four innings of the second game and had the Cubs licked 5 to 1 when he retired. The Cubs did their later rioting at the expense of Brandt, Heintzelman, and Munschel. The Pirates made five runs off Wesley Flowers, now with the San Francisco Seals, and Kirby Higbe, who is said to still be lurking in Cub company.

New Faces to Be Seen.

Both teams will present some new faces and some familiar faces in new positions. On the Pirate side John Dickshot has supplanted Woody Jensen in left field and Fred Schulte will get the call over Lloyd Waner in center field. Lee Handley, made a free agent during the winter by Commissioner K. M. Landis and signed by the Pirates on a bonus of $20,000, has chased Pep Young off second.

For the Cubs the sprightly Rip Collins will be at first base and Phil Cavarretta, former first baseman and the biggest surprise and development of the training season, will be in center field. Augie Galan, who starred in left field in 1935 and was not so hot after being switched to center in 1936, is back in left. Ken O'Dea will be the opening day catcher. This was decided yesterday in a conference between Manager Charley Grimm and Capt. Gabby Hartnett. Gabby would like to start the season, but the condition of his arm is such that he wants to rest it for several days.

Expect Good Weather.

The weather forecast is for temperatures similar to those that prevailed Saturday and Sunday, when the mercury hit the 70's at Wrigley field. Cloudy skies were forecast, however, but the general indications were for a most comfortable afternoon.

Anent the attendance probabilities, George Doyle, Wrigley field ticket manager, said late yesterday: "The box seat sale has been tremendous and I wouldn't be at all surprised at a sellout. Don't say anything that will scare any customers away, for the bleachers and grandstand will be on a first come first served basis, as usual. My estimates of 42,000 are based on the usual indications afforded by box seat demands. Weather is a big element, of course. We have been led to believe another great day, like Sunday and yesterday, is in prospect."

Get New Uniforms.

A feature of the opening day will be the unveiling of the new style Cub uniforms. As announced in THE TRIBUNE two months ago Otis Shepard, art director of the Wrigley company, spent many hours last winter with Owner Wrigley, uniform manufacturers, and Hartnett and Stan Hack, serving as mannequins, working out new designs and color schemes. The results of all this artistic effort will be revealed to the public for the first time this afternoon.

Mayor Kelly will throw out the first ball, the Senn High R. O. T. C. will be in charge of the flag raising ceremonies, and Jack Bramhall's band will toot considerably.

PENNANT RACES OPEN.

CHICAGO'S Cubs open their National league pennant chase against the Pittsburgh Pirates at Wrigley field this afternoon. Chicago's White Sox, winners of the rubber contest Sunday in the eleven game spring series with their north side rivals, open against the St. Louis Browns of the American league, who are making the event a civic affair preceded by a banquet for Hornsby's men last night.

Civic pride would like to envisage two pennants and a local world series. Baseball hopes always rise highest in the spring, subject to subsequent revision. Yet two pennants involve somewhat more envisaging than logic. The Cubs quite possibly, even probably. The White Sox, however, are in the same league as the New York Yankees or the picture might be more roseate.

The Cubs were rated the best team in their league last season, yet didn't cop the gonfalon. So let's give it to them this year despite a majority of expert opinion in other cities favoring the Cardinals—with always the proviso that Capt. Hartnett is not seriously incapacitated. Then put down St. Louis, Cincinnati, New York, Pittsburgh in the order named, and let Brooklyn, Philadelphia and Boston fight it out for the three remaining places without attempting to pick their order of finish.

One dislikes to concede the flag in advance to the New York Yankees, yet that 19½ game margin over second place Detroit in 1936 was pretty convincing. Detroit, of course, should be stronger, but we'll stick with the White Sox for the second notch despite assertions they played over their heads last season. At the same time, we'll readily admit the south siders might be fifth just as easily as second with teams behind the Yanks bunched so closely.

There are plenty of "ifs" to Manager Dykes problems. Fans should not feel dissatisfied if the Sox finish in the first division along with New York, Detroit and Cleveland, the latter depending, in part, on what young Bob Feller may or may not do.

Washington, Boston Red Sox, St. Louis Browns and Philadelphia Athletics are relegated to the second division, but this is only April 20 and the race ends Oct. 3.

Wild Life Show Is Tipoff for Vacationists

BY BOB BECKER.

Chicago outdoor fans again were made vacation conscious yesterday when the National Outdoor Life exposition opened in the Sherman hotel in a setting of fragrant cedar trees brought from the north woods. Emphasizing the vacation possibilities of different north woods areas, the show will continue through Saturday night, opening each day at 10 a. m. and closing at 10:30 at night.

Cub bears that enjoy tippling bottles of soft drinks, tame fawns, mounted wild animals, big muskies that have been caught in the north country, and trout frozen in ice are among the displays at the show that are bound to give Chicago outdoor fans a touch of the vacation and fishing fever. One of the features that proved popular yesterday was a 45 minute sound picture presented by the Minnesota tourist bureau showing a canoe trip through the Superior National forest.

Canada Is Represented.

Among the vacation areas represented at the show are the Mercer Turtle Flowage, Chequamegon district of upper 13, Park Falls, Fifield, and the Springstead lakes region . . . all from Wisconsin. Canada and Minnesota are represented by the Lake of the Woods and Rainey lake area, the Minnesota Tourist association, Ely Commercial club, and the Tower Commercial club. The copper country of Michigan also has a display.

To give Chicago outdoor fans a few lessons on how to portage a canoe as well as information on how Wisconsin Indians make their old-fashioned birch bark canoes the Mercer, Wis., area brought Bazil de Coteau, an Indian guide, to the show. De Coteau, known as the "Chief" to many fishermen, has a genuine Indian birch bark canoe on display and daily will tell visitors about the old Indian portage trails in the north country, and the development of the big flowage near Mercer as a muskie and pike fishing area. Heading the Mercer delegation is Charles P. Lacey.

Show Is Vacation Directory.

All of the north woods representatives at the show have directories of resorts, camping grounds, outfitters for canoe cruises, and other information needed by a show visitor who is planning a vacation. The show also has many tips for fishermen on river trips. According to Dan Vickers of Park Falls, an increasing number of Chicago fishermen are interested in trips on Wisconsin rivers for muskies, pike, and bass.

no emotion and Clark Griffith never could tell whether he was interested or bored. . . . At one opening he shook hands with Walter Johnson and called him Hiram, confusing him with the California statesman.

The important thing is that everywhere one finds fresh optimism. . . . As far as we know, every club in both leagues is looking forward to larger crowds, heavier receipts, and more profits for the stockholders. . . . The rise of Bob Feller as a national hero, the change in management of the St. Louis Browns, and the speculation over the strength of the Yankees gives the American league race particular interest. . . . Few baseball leaders, among them Hornsby, give the Yankees anything like the 19 game lead they finished with last year. . . . You couldn't give them much more, of course, and still keep them in the country. . . .

It appears that the National league fight will involve the same three clubs, New York, Chicago, and St. Louis, with Pittsburgh a possibility. . . . The Pirates have what some of our more scholarly colleagues bravely call potentialities. . . . The Yankees have the bulge in the American, but Detroit, with Cochrane and Greenberg back in the game, will provide stronger competition, and don't forget about that feller Feller at Cleveland. . . . He may keep the Indians up there. . . . O, yes, and the White Sox. . . . They just cleaned up on a team that we have conceded a pretty good chance to win the National league gonfalon, as we believe it is called. . . .

Because of our growing stature as an expert [it will be recalled that we came out for the Yankees last August when they were only 15 games ahead] we are encouraged to go farther this year and forecast bitterly waged races in both leagues and that the laurel wreath will go to the most deserving teams. . . . Hornsby admits his Browns are stronger than last year, but they ought to have better pitching. . . . He might have added that the beer in the Browns' park could be improved, too. . . . That 3.2 stuff isn't so hot.

Ten Years Ago Today—The White Sox lost to the Cleveland Indians, 5 to 4, in the American league opener at Comiskey park before 30,000 spectators. . . . Failure of Northwestern and Harvard football officials to agree on dates for a home and home series caused the games to be dropped altogether. . . . Fifteen thousand Chicagoans were expected to see the opening of the turf season at Aurora.

MARINO, DAY ROLL INTO LEADING TEN IN A. B. C. TOURNEY

New York, April 19.—(AP)—Two more changes were recorded in the standings of the American Bowling congress today as the Milwaukee pair of Ned Day and Hank Marino finally lived up to their reputations after a poor showing in the team bowling last night.

Day took second place in the all-events with 2,014, the fifth highest ever shot in A. B. C. competition, while Marino tallied 709 for seventh place in the singles. Day scored 637 in the five man bowling, 688 in doubles, and 689 in singles.

A poor first game, marked by three errors, kept Marino from taking the singles lead. Hank started off with a 156 score, then followed with 276 and 277.

Ollie Rogahn of Milwaukee shot 693 in the singles.

The increase constitutes a total of 33 centers throughout the country which will be in action on May 17 and June 1.

The new districts include Grand Rapids, Mich.; New Orleans, La.; Little Rock, Ark.; Salt Lake City, Utah, and Huntingdon, W. Va. In addition eight changes in the 1936 qualifying bracket have been made. These include the following shifts: from Hartford, Conn., to Providence, R. Thirty-two players are exempt from the sectional trials by reason of having finished among the first thirty and ties in the 1936 tournament at Baltusrol. They are:

LOTS of people think I'm stiff-necked because I insist on making MEISTER BRÄU Beer the way I made it 'way back in 1906. They say I could save time and money with new methods—that the public today doesn't know the difference.
So now I want to tell my side. Because I know there still are those who remember the old-time brews. And wonder why good beer is not so easy to find today.
It's largely a matter of time. Trying to hurry is what spoils many beers.
We could save time by adding sugar or syrups. But that makes a sweet beer.
We could save money by using an inferior grade of hops. But that makes a raw beer. It tastes bitter.
Then we could save both time and money by boiling extra long. That saves cleaning the Malt and Hops because the chaff is boiled away. But it also boils the life out of the beer.
We cut the boiling time in half because we insist our Malt and Hops are cleaned like a food for your table. It takes many extra hours. But keeps the zest, flavor, and sparkle in the brew. The life and foam in MEISTER BRÄU Beer are created in the beer itself, like in Draft Beer. Hence MEISTER BRÄU in bottles or cans has the true draft beer flavor.
Please compare this beer with others. It's now obtainable in this vicinity in cans or bottles. You'll be glad we cling to old-time methods.

YANKEES OPPOSE SENATORS TODAY; EXPECT 50,000

New York Opens Title Defense.

New York, April 19.—(AP)—The world champion New York Yankees, minus their star outfielder, Joe Di Maggio, will meet the Washington Senators tomorrow at Yankee stadium before an estimated crowd of 50,000.

New York's Mayor La Guardia will toss the first ball, Baseball Commissioner Landis will present the Yankees with their 1936 championship trophies, and Left Gomez will oppose either Monte Weaver or Pete Appleton of Washington on the mound.

Despite an injury to the middle finger of his right hand, Lou Gehrig, the Yankees' star first baseman, is expected to start his 1,809th consecutive game. Probable lineups:

St. Louis, Mo., April 19.—(AP)—Paul Dean was not among Cardinal baseball players who boarded a train tonight for Cincinnati and the season opener tomorrow.

Manager Frankie Frisch had stated Paul, who allowed nine hits in two innings against the Browns Saturday, would make the trip, but General Manager Branch Rickey announced today that the younger Dean had experienced additional trouble with his pitching arm and would demain in St. Louis.

"There wasn't any extra pain in the arm," Paul said, "but I could not bear down as I did against the Browns Saturday. The Browns hit me pretty hard, but even so the arm felt loose.

"I'll not retire unless I have to. I still believe the arm will come around all right."

GIANTS PLAY BROOKLYN.

Brooklyn, N. Y., April 19.—(AP)—The New York Giants will start defense of their National league championship against the Brooklyn Dodgers at Ebbets field tomorrow before a prospective crowd of 30,000. Hal Schumacher will pitch for the Giants and Van Lingle Mungo for the Dodgers.

PONZI DEFEATS CRANE; NEARS BILLIARD TITLE

New York, April 19.—(AP)—Andrew Ponzi of New York, the 1935 titleholder, gained his second victory in a round robin play-off to break a fourway tie for the world pocket billiard championship when he defeated Irving Crane of Rochester, N. Y., 125 to 72 in eight innings tonight.

Ponzi defeated Jimmy Caras of Wilmington, Del., the defending champion, last night and needs only a victory over Ralph Greenleaf of New York, thirteen times holder of the crown, to regain the title he did not defend last year.

Caras whipped Greenleaf, 125 to 118, in thirty-six innings in the second game on tonight's program.

runners-up, is making no pennant predictions for his talent. He has provided this information mainly as a guide for the expectant south side constituents. Dykes says fourth place is his objective, whereas he finished third last season, only a half game out of second. Dykes is conceding that the Sox luck in the way of injuries will be bad as usual. If the luck is good, and the worm is due to turn, the Sox will be as good as any of the other second place prospects. Injuries, of course, will ruin the Sox, since replacements are limited.

Dykes' present plans in connection with the pitching department are already arranged. After Kennedy performs for good or bad tomorrow, Monty Stratton will be delegated for the second battle with the Browns. On the third day Merritt [Sugar] Cain will be put to work. Then the Sox will go home to show off on Friday and unless there is something new aflame by that time, Ted Lyons will do the throwing. If the day is cold Lyons probably will ask a reprieve for the arm which even in its 36th year remains skilled enough to give the Yankees and Tigers a battle.

Dixie Walker a Big Figure.

One big item in the Sox possibilities for success between now and world series time is Fred [Dixie Walker, the right fielder. During the training trip Walker, after leisurely conduct, proved his throwing arm was good enough to keep base runners from gambling. He also proved he could hit. He always could field despite an arm injury, which was the only reason the Yankees agreed to sell him last May. If Walker can stay in there all season it will make a marked difference for the better.

Young Victor in Marathon; Kelley Second

Boston, Mass., April 19.—[Special.]—Walter Young, a dark horse entrant from Verdun, Quebec, today won the 26 mile 385 yard marathon of the Boston Athletic association by taking a stretch battle from the favorite, Johnny Kelley of Arlington, Mass.

Young finished the long haul in two hours 33 minutes and 20 seconds, approaching the record of 2:31:1 3-5 set by Les Pawson of Pawtucket, R. I., in 1933.

The winner, his face strained by the exertion of his final sprint, had sufficient stamina to outlast Kelley, who became ill in the last few yards of the race, after having led the field throughout most of it. Kelley, an unemployed florist, did not yield the lead until the last two miles, and even then managed to come home second. His time was 2:39:2 4-5.

Pawson took third position. He was clocked in 2:41:46. Fred Ward of New York's Millrose A. C., was fourth in 2:42:59 2-5.

CAN POMPOON GO DERBY DISTANCE, EXPERTS WONDER

Favorite Comes from a Line of Sprinters.

BY FRENCH LANE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lexington, Ky., April 19.—Unmitigated glee was in the eyes of Brownie Leach, advertising manager of the Blood Horse magazine, as he approached the editorial offices of the firm this morning.

Inside was Joe Palmer, one of the editors, engrossed in the task of proving by blood lines just why Pompoon, the favorite, could not win the Kentucky Derby.

He had reached that thrilling point in his deductions where Pompoon's sire, Pompey, had a distance race, according to his careful compilations, of exactly 7.56 furlongs. He lifted abstracted eyes to the exuberant Brownie Leach. Here was the moment for which Brownie had slaved for the last four years.

Leach Proves His Point.

Careful mating of coal black cats with pure white tabbies had finally resulted in the exciting contents of the basket which he now carried on his arm.

With a dramatic flourish he jerked off the napkin which lay on top. There to the amazement of the editor snoozed a pure white with a coal black tail.

"All the rest of them are black," said Brownie defiantly, "so my bet is still on Pompoon."

According to Joe Palmer, who is one of the two men selected by the American Thoroughbred Breeders association as their authorities on blood lines, "picking races by pedigrees is pretty thankless procedure but picking stayers is hardly so difficult."

Reviews Career of Sire.

"My own theory," says Mr. Palmer, "is that there will be a lot more of Pompoon in the first six furlongs of the Derby than in the last four.

"Pompoon's sire, Pompey, was a racer with very high class but he gave no evidence that he liked distance. In his Derby effort in 1926 he was an indifferent fifth after being prominent for six furlongs. In the Travers, also at a mile and a quarter, he was second, tiring after leading into the stretch.

"The Wood Memorial at a mile and seventy yards was his longest victory while he was a three year old, and a mile was his top effort at four. I won't say that he is strictly a sprinter but will classify him as a middle distance horse.

More of Pompoon's Ancestry.

"Oonagh, Pompoon's dam, raced only as a two year old, winning but one of fifteen starts. Her only foal to race past two was Glyndon Belle, by the sprinter St. James. Glyndon Belle's top distance is six furlongs.

"Oonagh's sire was Friar Rock, sire of the dam's two other Futurity winners, High Strung and Tintagel, which proved to be strictly sprinters.

"Ohone, the mother of Oonagh and the grandmother of Pompoon, won one race at a mile in 13 starts. Ohone's sire, Polymelian, never won at more than six furlongs. Athlone, Pompoon's great grandmother, found a mile her top distance although her sire, Charles O'Malley, could go as far as horses run.

Will Blood Lines Tell?

"There is no reason to say that given the proper sort of mares Pompey could not get horses to go a mile and a quarter. But the distaff side of Pompoon's pedigree is made up of mares which went a mile or less and have produced sprinters rather than stayers.

"So if blood tells anything I would think more of Pompoon if his mother had been Nellie Morse or some other mare that has proven staying qualities. And if blood could talk it ought to exclaim, in very strident voice, 'five to one on Pompoon is mighty short odds!'"

"But you have forgotten my white cat with the black tail," interrupts Mr. Brownie Leach, the advertising manager of the paper.

FLORIDA RACING COMMISSION TO HEAR MICHELL

Miami, Fla., April 19.—(AP)—The state racing commission today granted Bert S. Michell, trainer, a hearing on charges of artificially stimulating one of Mrs. Emil Denemark's horses, for which he recently was ruled off the turf.

The hearing will open Thursday at offices of the commission here. Chairman Joseph Stein said it would be private and the commission would issue no statement until it announces its findings. He said the commission merely would hear what evidence Mitchell might present and no further testimony would be taken to uphold the charge. Stein expected the hearing to last several days.

Attorney Dan Chappell, former gubernatorial candidate who is representing Michell, returned with the trainer from New York. Mr. and Mrs. Denemark are expected later.

Owner, Jay McNamara. Trainer same. Start good. Won driving; place same. Went to post at 4:15. At post 3½ minutes.

FLYING DERE, rated along while within striking distance of the leaders, came with a belated rush in the final eighth and barely got up. ICY WIND, hard ridden throughout, took command going to the first turn, shook off challenges from KALEIDA and FELWYN and hung on gamely in the final drive. FELWYN fought it out willingly. GOLDSPRAY, probably best, was forced wide at the first turn, came between horses to enter contention and tired gradually through the stretch. KALEIDA had good speed for a half. TIANA was shuffled back at the break. SUNDROPS had a flash of early speed.

BOOTLESS, not hurried in the opening quarter, went to the outside for racing room while bettering his position along the backstretch, circled leaders to take command, but had to be placed to punishment to hold BROWN TWIG safe. Latter gained sharply approaching the stretch and then came with good courage in final drive to show an excellent effort. TREFORD tired after reaching top early in the stretch run. HER REIGH was used up setting and forcing the pace with GENIE PALATINE. BLACK BOO trailed throughout.

SWIFTLET, within striking distance of the pace from the start, took command without effort midway of the backstretch, opened a long lead, but had to be kept to a stout drive to last ahead of ROLLICK. Latter saved much ground entering the stretch and closed with a rush. INFILEE, badly outrun for a half, came around horses and closed willingly. SIR REG, forced wide at the first turn, closed well after going wide into the stretch. FEZ tired from hustling tactics in reaching the leaders.

BRAVING DANGER came to the outside entering stretch and, under a drive, won going away. HOLLYHOCK gained sharply on the outside swinging for the stretch, took command and finished willingly, but was no match for the winner. DUTCH UNCLE came with a rush in the closing eighth. MINTON hung in the final drive. SONGSTONE ran idle along into defeat under hustling tactics and stopped badly.

DAY AND LELLO TO HEAD SHOWS AT TWO ARENAS

Davey Meets Baxter; Pete Faces Keyes.

Davey Day, one of Chicago's leading boxers, will head the show at Marigold Gardens next Monday and Pete Lello, his lightweight stablemate from Gary, Ind., is to top the program at Majestic arena Friday.

Day, who lost a disputed decision in ten rounds to Champion Lou Ambers at the New York Hippodrome Feb. 10, is matched to meet Charley Baxter of Pittsburgh, Pa., for ten rounds, and Lello, who has compiled a string of seventeen professional triumphs, will clash with Bucky Keyes, Newark, N. J., for eight sessions.

Day also is expected to appear in the windup bout of a major show at Marigold outdoor arena June 10, while Lello will meet Jackie Sharkey, Minneapolis, in an eight round supplementary conflict to the ten round attraction between Larry Greb and Al Nettlow at Milwaukee a week from tonight.

Lenny Cohen, who lost a hard battle with Jimmy Perrin at New Orleans, La., last week, will compete on the Lello-Keyes card, as will Elmer Apple, Louisville heavyweight, and Billy Miske Jr., St. Paul light heavyweight.

James J. Braddock yesterday worked out at Trafton's gymnasium in anticipation of meeting Joe Louis in a title scrap at Comiskey park June 22. The champion went seven rounds, two each on the light and heavy bags, two skipping rope and one shadow boxing.

Chairman Joe Triner of the Illinois athletic commission yesterday handed Osley [Chief] Sanooke a 90 day suspension for violation of rules in his heavyweight wrestling championship bout with Everett Marshall at the Coliseum April 1. F. M.

AT 11:30 P. M. April 6th, Walter P. Chrysler affixed his signature to a historic document that wrote "finis" across Detroit's brief but slightly hectic chapter of "industrial indigestion." 90,000 Chrysler, Hudson Motor and Briggs Mfg. Co. employees picked up their dinner buckets and hustled back into the pay check receiving line, augmenting the great army of General Motors employees on the job.

TODAY over a half million men and women in the world's busiest industrial empire are at work. The roar of assembly lines, the shrill whine of lathes and the clangor of giant presses boom out a welcome sound of prosperity that finds echo in each of our forty-eight states, for America has come to learn of recent years that as Detroit goes, so goes the nation, economically.

DETROIT is a market in which you may sell with confidence. And you can thoroughly cover its best buyers through The Detroit Free Press, now offering the largest circulation in its history. For forty consecutive months, the circulation of the Sunday Free Press has shown increases over the corresponding month of the previous year. And weekday circulation is at a NEW ALL TIME HIGH.

DETROIT marches on, and the Free Press keeps pace . . . in the value and quantity of its market . . . in the brilliance and humanness of its columns . . . in the scope and power of its influence.

GENL. HOUSEHOLD STOCK WILL BE OFFERED TODAY

Eastern Food Chain to Market Shares.

An issue of 50,000 shares of 5 per cent convertible preference stock of the General Household Utilities company will be offered today by George McGhie & Co. at $10 per share. The stock carries stock purchase warants providing for its conversion into common stock on a share for share basis if converted on or before July 31, 1940.

Net proceeds of the financing will be turned over to the company's general fund, not earmarked for any specific purpose. However, $250,000 will be set aside for payment on accounts payable and approximately $120,000 will be used in the purchase of raw materials for the manufacture of radios and refrigerators.

Consolidate Several Firms.

General Household Utilities is a combination of a number of radio and electric manufacturing companies and represents a consolidation with the Grunow company. On Nov. 19, 1935, it filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy under section 77B of the amended bankruptcy act and a plan of reorganization was completed in July, 1936.

Public offering will also be made today of 78,000 shares of $1 par common stock of the Union Premier Food Stores, Inc., by Childs, Jeffries and Thorndike of New York and Adams, Dunn & Co of Chicago at $11 per share.

Operates in East.

The company and two wholly owned subsidiaries operate 24 food stores in Pennsylvania, Maryland, and New Jersey. Proceeds will be used to redeem stock debentures, pay off current loans, and for additions to working capital.

The city of Tampa, Fla., will sell on April 27, an issue of $5,201,000 of general refunding bonds to be dated May 1, 1937, and mature on May 1, 1938 to 1965. The bonds are to carry interest at a rate not exceeding 4 per cent.

Officials of Boston, Mass., have scheduled for award tomorrow an issue of $5,000,000 of temporary loan notes to be dated April 26, 1937 and mature on Nov. 8, 1937.

Scott Paper.

Investors' Guide: Please give me information and rating on Scott Paper.—Mrs. R. D.

Answer: The Scott Paper company manufactures the widely advertised toilet tissues and tissue towels bearing the names of Scott and Waldorf. World-wide distribution is obtained through wholesalers in the grocery, drug, hardware, furniture, and janitor supply trades and through chain and department stores.

Finished products are turned out at Chester, Pa. A subsidiary, the Nova Scotia Wood Pulp and Paper Company, Ltd., owns pulpwood lands and a fiber and pulp mill.

Considerable expansion has been undertaken in the last three years to meet larger sales requirements. A new subsidiary, Brunswick Pulp and Paper company, was formed jointly with Mead corporation late in 1936 to develop a pulp plant at Brunswick, Ga. To finance the project Scott sold $4,000,000 of 3¼ per cent debentures in March, 1937.

Aside from the debentures, capitalization now consists of 569,980 shares of no par common stock. The number of common shares has been increased from 168,868 by a 50 per cent stock dividend in 1935, sale of 31,669 shares to retire the remaining 16,253 shares of 7 per cent preferred stock on June 3, 1936, and a 100 per cent stock dividend paid Jan. 11, 1937.

Business set a new record in 1936, net income passing the previous peak of 1931. Net income for the first quarter of 1937 is reported to have been slightly better than in the corresponding 1936 period. The record of the last six years:

	Sales.	Net Income.	*Inc. per com. shr.
1936	$11,624,000	$998,000	$1.67
1935	10,207,000	939,000	3.17
1934	9,012,000	906,000	4.53
1933	8,333,000	826,000	4.02
1932	8,007,000	818,000	3.91
1931	8,816,000	997,000	4.94

*Based on shares outstanding—after preferred dividends for the first half of 1936. On present capitalization, 1935 net was $1.41 a share.

The company traces its history back to 1879, and dividends have been paid in varying amounts continuously since the present company was formed in 1922. An annual rate of $1 was established on the present capitalization with payment of a 25 cent quarterly dividend March 15, 1937. Payments in 1936 amounted to $2.15 a share, including an extra of 25 cents.

The stock is high grade.

Everyday Economics

In response to requests from readers for simple explanations of financial terms and brief analyses of factors affecting business and finance, The Tribune presents "Everyday Economics." Letters addressed to "Editor, Everyday Economics," telling him what you would like to see discussed here will be welcomed.

Copper.

Copper is an important commodity in international trade because of its widespread uses, principally in the electrical field. While deposits of the metal are found throughout the world, the United States produces about half of the world's output. Africa is also an important producer. Its output has been steadily mounting in the last few years.

Because of its use in munitions demand for copper during the war was enormous. It touched a peak of 37 cents a pound in 1917, subsequently reacting to a little more than 11 cents in 1921. The peak of recent years was 23⅞ cents in 1929. The low was 4.87 cents in 1932. Lately the metal has been quoted between 15 and 16 cents. War preparations abroad, coupled with revived business activity, have carried the price up sharply in the last year.

Copper futures are traded on the Commodity Exchange, Inc., in New York. The unit of trading is 56,000 pounds of rough or blister copper assaying 99 per cent.

Prices are quoted in hundredths of a cent per pound. One point equals 1-100 cent. The minimum fluctuation, 1 point, amounts to $5.60 on each 56,000 pound contract. A change of a cent equals $560 per contract. Contracts are traded for delivery during each of the twelve calendar months. Price fluctuations are limited to 1 cent above or below the preceding day's close.

Tomorrow: Soy beans.

FIVE BIG EASTERN ROADS FIGHT N. J. TAX PAYMENTS

New York, April 19.—[Special.]—Five big eastern railroads, Lehigh Valley, Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, Erie, New York Central and Central Railroad of New Jersey will seek a permanent injunction restraining the state of New Jersey from attempting to enforce payment of taxes amounting to approximately $37,500,000 in the United States District court in Trenton tomorrow, it was learned today.

Taxes for 1934-'35 and 1936 are in dispute. They total approximately $37,500,000. Of that amount the railroads have paid about $22,500,000 by order of the United States District court, leaving $15,000,000 unpaid. The carriers contend that they should have paid only about 50 per cent of the taxes levied, but paid 60 per cent, or about $22,500,000, because of the court order.

The railroads are also contesting the New Jersey assessments for 1932 and 1933 which are now in litigation before the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in Philadelphia. The amount levied in those two years was about $19,000,000, of which about $10,000,000 has been paid.

INVESTORS CUT HOLDINGS OF U. S. STEEL COMMON

New York, April 19.—(AP)—Investors decreased their holding of United States Steel common stock in the first quarter of 1937, while brokers added to their commitments, the company announced today.

As of March 31, the company stated, investors' common stock holdings totaled 6,543,958 shares, or 75.19 per cent of the aggregate outstanding stock. This compares with 6,621,093, or 76.08 per cent, on Dec. 31, 1936. Stock in brokers' names amounted to 2,159,294, or 24.81 per cent, at the close of the first quarter against 2,082,159, or 23.92 per cent, three months before.

The ratio was reversed with respect to the preferred stock, as investors' holdings increased to 3,199,967 shares, or 88.82 per cent of the total, against 3,194,997, or 88.68 per cent, on Dec. 31. Shares in brokers' names declined to 402,844, or 11.18 per cent, at the end of March from 407,814, or 11.32 per cent at the end of 1936. Foreign holdings of both issues increased during the quarter.

Illinois Coal Production Highest in March Since '28

Springfield, Ill., April 19.—(AP)—James McSherry, director of Mines and Minerals, said today Illinois shipping mines produced 6,518,304 tons of coal in March, the highest volume for the month since 1928. Last month's output represented an increase over the same month last year of 2,785,160 tons and a gain over February, 1937, of 1,127,674 tons. Of the total, 5,184,694 tons were produced in 137 shaft mines employing 32,802 men, while the remainder came from 27 strip mines worked by 2,718 men.

Illinois Central Asks to Sell Equipment Notes

Washington, D. C., April 19.—(AP)—The Illinois Central railroad applied to the interstate commerce commission today for authority to sell $7,050,000 of 3 per cent equipment trust certificates to use toward purchasing $9,410,487 of new rolling stock. The carrier plans to purchase 3,120 freight cars of various kinds. The certificates, the application said, would be sold to the highest bidder.

URGES U. S. PUSH CENSUS TO SHOW NUMBER OF IDLE

New York, April 19.—(AP)—Suggestion that the 1940 census be taken now rather than when scheduled was put forward today by Roland P. Falkner of the information division of the national industrial conference board, in response to the plea of Senator Vandenberg [R., Mich.] for an accurate count of the unemployed.

Falkner advanced the suggestion personally, he said, and not as a spokesman for the board, a research organization maintained by large industrial corporations. Figures made public by the board today estimated unemployment in the country at 8,914,000, whereas the Michigan senator calculated those without work at only about 2,975,000.

Falkner, a former assistant director of the census, asserted the only way to determine actually the unemployment picture was through a full census of the population in which detailed questions concerning the individual's status would be asked.

Court Forbids Sale of Beer Below Price Set by Brewer

Judge Cornelius Harrington of the Circuit court yesterday issued an order restraining Frank Pellegrini of the Mil-Mont fruit and vegetable market from selling beer made by the Atlantic Brewing company under the minimum price stipulated by the brewing concern. The order was issued under the Illinois fair trade act, which provides for the selling of branded products at a minimum price. The United States Supreme court recently ruled that the act was constitutional.

"INTUITION"

Successful investors are often credited with having investment intuition—some sixth sense which enables them to "spot" good investment values and avoid poor ones. In many such cases, their reputed intuition is but the result of sound Investment Counsel of the type we provide.

Every successful investor knows that security selection based on "hunches", scraps of investment information picked up at random, or on impromptu advice fails to produce consistently good results. Modern economic and investment factors are too complicated to permit accurate diagnosis by such haphazard methods.

The competent, unprejudiced and vigilant professional investment control we offer is worth many times its nominal cost.

We invite inquiries from investors with funds of $100,000 or more.

Smaller Gain Shown in U. S. Markets.

CHICAGO GRAIN PRICES

	Yesdy.	Satdy.	Wk.ago.	Mo.ago.
Wheat	$1.21½	$1.19⅞	$1.23¾	$1.26¼
Corn	1.17½	1.16¾	1.20½	1.07
Oats	.45⅝	.45¾	.46⅝	.43¾
Rye	1.04⅝	1.03¾	1.07½	1.06
Soy beans	1.73	1.71	1.68	1.53½

Sensational advances in European wheat markets with gains ranging up to 9⅝ cents a bushel, dominated the action or American grain markets yesterday. While the best prices were not maintained due to profit taking, North American markets closed 1⅛ to 3¾ cents a bushel higher with Winnipeg in the lead. The Canadian market was affected to a great extent by buying to remove hedges against export sales of cash wheat which were estimated as high as 2,000,000 bushels.

The reason for the sharp climb in European markets was explained by Chicago traders as a readjustment of prices which got out of line with American quotations Saturday. European markets dipped as much as six cents a bushel during the short session Saturday, while North American markets advanced 1 to 2¼ cents after the close in Liverpool and Rotterdam. There were reports of a decided pickup in world demand.

Other Grains Advance.

Corn and other grains were affected to some extent by the action of wheat. May corn advanced 1½ cent a bushel. Oats were unsettled with May gaining ½ cent and September declining a full cent. Rye was up as much as 2⅛ cents higher and soy beans 2⅝ cents above Saturday.

Price fluctuations in wheat futures in the worlds market have been extremely wide in the last two weeks. The highest level of the season was touched on April 6 in a majority of markets, followed by a break of 14¼ cents to 27⅜ by April 17. Yesterday's upturn carried prices up 5⅞ cents to 9⅝ cents from the low of the preceding business day.

	High. April 19.	Low. April 17.	High. April 6.
Chicago	$1.34⅞	$1.29	$1.45½
Kansas City	1.27⅞	1.22	1.36¼
Winnipeg	1.37½	1.30	1.51⅝
Liverpool	1.39¼	1.29⅜	1.57⅛
Buenos Aires	1.21½	1.12¼	1.32⅝
Rotterdam	1.35½	1.26⅛	1.48

Price movements in all grains became extremely nervous late in the day owing to revival of fears ot a change in the price of gold. In some quarters the belief prevailed that the late reaction in many commodities was a secondary break, representing liquidation by speculators, who were taking advantage of a strong upturn in prices to even up their position in the market.

May Delivery Strong.

A feature of the trading in wheat futures yesterday was the persistent buying of the May delivery attributed to cash houses who in many instances transfered their hedges into the July. This resulted in widening the difference in price between the two months, May wheat gaining 1½ cent a bushel on the July. Commercial sales of 163,000 bushels ot wheat were reported yesterday by Chicago handlers but the demand for corn and other grains was light.

Dust storms prevailed over a large area in western Kansas, Nebraska and western Saskatchewan and Alberta.

A decrease of 1,147,000 bushels in the visible supply of wheat brought the total down to 23,741,000 bushels, the smallest holding at this season since 1921. There were also reductions of over 1,000,000 bushels in the visible supply of corn and oats.

The rye market was helped by reports that Germany had purchased 65,000 bushels of Canadian rye, making 300,000 bushels estimated to have been taken in the last few days.

Reserve Members Confer on U. S. Bond Situation

Washington, D. C., April 19.—(AP)—Members of the federal reserve board's open market committee met today for a canvass of the government bond market situation. The executive committee of the open market group conferred all morning on reserve board policies in the purchase of federal securities. The open market committee dictates reserve policy in buying and selling government obligations. It recently stepped into the market to steady government issues.

Plan Another Fast Train to Pacific Coast

A new fast train—the Forty-Niner—to run between Chicago and San Francisco and supplement the service of the streamliner, City of San Francisco, was announced yesterday by the Chicago and North Western, Union Pacific, and Southern Pacific railroads. Eastbound the 2,261 mile trip will be made in forty-nine hours and westbound it will be made in fifty hours and forty-two minutes. It will go into service about June 15.

The Forty-Niner will consist of eight Pullman cars, partially streamlined, and will be drawn by a steam locomotive. The last two cars will consist of the streamlined, articulated unit which the Pullman company has had in service on railroads throughout the country for experimental purposes.

Will Have Bedroom Car.

The forward car of the articulated unit is a sixteen bedroom car, with seven bedrooms upstairs and nine at the regular level. These bedrooms have transverse beds, which form sofas by day. The rear car is the observation section.

Five round trips will be made each month. All stops made by the City of San Francisco will be made by the new train. The schedule will be staggered with that of the City of San Francisco in order to give more frequent fast service.

Leaving Chicago at 10:10 a. m. on a Monday, for example, the Forty-Niner will arrive in San Francisco at 10:52 a. m., Pacific time, on Wednesday. The monthly schedule calls for departure from San Francisco on the 5th, 11th, 17th, 23d, and 29th of each month and departure from Chicago will be on the 2d, 8th, 14th, 20th, and 26th of each month.

Extra Fare to Be Charged.

The Forty-Niner will be a de luxe type train and an extra charge of $10 will be made for tickets on it. Officials of the North Western said yesterday the City of San Francisco has been so popular that reservations have been made on it as far in advance as December. This does not mean all space has been sold, however.

The three railroads also announced that the giant new Diesel-electric powered City of San Francisco, now being constructed at the Pullman works here, will be placed in service early next autumn.

PUBLIC SPENDS BIG SUM YEARLY FOR NEWSPAPERS

The American public depends upon the newspapers to the extent that it spends more than 380 million dollars a year for its daily and Sunday editions, Chesser M. Campbell, advertising manager of THE TRIBUNE, said in a talk prepared for delivery last night as one of the Chicago Federated Advertising club's series of lectures at the Steuben club.

In the absence of Mr. Campbell, who was called to New York on business, M. T. Reilly of THE TRIBUNE's business survey department presented the address.

This amount, said Campbell's paper, is five times as much as is spent during the year for all general magazines, and more than twice the amount spent for books and all other forms of reading matter. Pointing out that 90 per cent of retail advertising is done in newspapers, he said:

"All in all, the newspaper is something of a work horse. It works day in and day out. It is the heavy duty implement of present day merchandising. It carries a bigger and more diversified load of advertising than any other medium. The great bulk of this advertising is of a character which must move goods immediately."

FRANCE, GERMANY MAKE BIG GAINS IN FOREIGN TRADE

PARIS, April 19.—[Special.]—Foreign trade of both France and Germany showed sharp increases during March, according to official reports compiled here today.

German exports were valued at 462,100,000 marks, compared with 406,000,000 in February, and 379,000,000 in March, 1936. Imports totaled 408,500,000 marks, against 347,000,000 in February, and 356,000,000 in March, last year. The export surplus for March, this year, was 53,600,000 marks, down from the 59,000,000 marks reported in February, but far above the 23,000,000 in March a year ago.

French imports during March were 3,277,000,000 francs, an increase of 1,270,000 francs over the month last year, while exports totaled 1,837,000,000, an increase of 593,000,000 francs.

AL SIMMONS GOES OUT ON FLY(ER) IN ATLAS TACK STOCK

Washington, D. C., April 19.—(AP)—Al Simmons, the Washington Senators' new outfielder, told the Securities and Exchange commission today he lost $1,100 on a transaction in Atlas Tack corporation stock in the fall of 1936.

Al Simmons.

Simmons, recently acquired from the Detroit Tigers, was called as a witness at the commission hearing on charges against W. E. Hutton & Co. of manipulating Atlas Tack stock. Simmons recited details of his purchase of 200 shares of Atlas Tack late in 1935 and early 1936.

He said he bought the securities after receiving a letter from Mickey Cochrane, manager of the Detroit Tigers. Commission Counsel Jacob Gruber attempted to show that Cochrane had been advised to buy Atlas Tack by Jerry McCarthy, customers' man in the Hutton Detroit office.

Asked by Gruber why he had received information about Atlas stock from Cochrane, Simmons asserted that "Mickey and I had been teammates for years—whenever he had a tip which might make us a few dollars he passed it on to me, and I did the same."

WRIGHT AERO TO ENLARGE ITS AIRCRAFT PLANT

About $1,350,000 will be spent on building three additions to the Wright Aeronautical corporation plant at Paterson, N. J., Guy W. Vaughan, president of Curtiss-Wright corporation, of which Wright Aeronautical is a subsidiary, announced yesterday.

Vaughan said the program is in order to relieve congestion and prepare for an anticipated 25 per cent increase in production of engines. During 1937 approximately 1,800 Wright engines will be delivered, he asserted. The company at the same time reported that 26 of its newest production engines, delivering 1,500 horse power, have been sold to Pan-American Airways.

In 1936 the engine business amounted to $11,000,000, based on delivery of 1,300 engines, the largest for any year since the world war. From the unit standpoint, 70 per cent of Wright sales in 1936 were in the commercial field, Vaughan said.

Boost Freight Rates on Many Commodities

Washington, D. C., April 19.—(AP)—Increased freight rates on a large group of commodities will become effective on class 1 railroads at midnight tonight.

The railroads filed higher rate schedules for eighty commodity groups with the interstate commerce commission thirty days ago. Of the eighty schedules the commission suspended six, allowing the others to become effective automatically.

None of the increases thus allowed was for commodity groups involved in the general freight rate investigation being conducted before the commission.

Commodities subjected to the higher rates included the following groups: Chrome ore and concentrates, magnanese ore and concentrates, paper boxes, grease, ground Iron ore, paints and varnishes, oxide of iron, sulphate or iron, Portland cement, magnesite, tankage, barn equipment, tobacco leaf, flaxseed and linseed, vegetable plants, explosives, fireworks, drums, pails or tubs, wooden barrels, casks.

The schedules which the commission suspended, for a six months period, included those proposed on bones, moss and fiber in carloads, certain types of barrels, casks and drums sodium acetate, and carbon black in carloads.

FOREIGN GOLD CONTINUES FLOW TO UNITED STATES

Gold continued to flow into the United States from abroad yesterday as the pound sterling rose to a new high for the year in the New York market on demand by capitalists preparing to finance gold shipments from England to this country.

The pound reached $4.92½ and closed at $4.92⅛, up ¼ cent for the day. Other currencies also gained slightly, French francs rising .00⅜ cent and Swiss francs, .02 cent.

Reports came from Washington that the administration is studying means for checking the flood of gold into this country, although the engagement of an additional $1,040,000 of the metal was made in England for shipment here.

At the same time $8,529,600 in gold arrived at New York from England. Bankers expected additional arrivals of about $38,000,000 of the metal reported to have been engaged last week, chiefly in England, for shipment to New York.

RECORD STEEL INGOT OUTPUT IS PREDICTED FOR CURRENT WEEK

Steel ingot production in the United States this week will set a new all time weekly record of 1,196,000 tons, the American Iron and Steel institute estimated yesterday. The largest weekly output on record was in May, 1929, when the weekly average for the month was 1,193,284 tons.

Operations this week are scheduled at 91.3 per cent of capacity, up one point from last week. Operations during May, 1929, were at about 100 per cent of capacity, but increased facilities for steel production have made possible heavier output at a lower operative rate.

A month ago the indicated rate of operations was 89.6 per cent, and a year ago it was 70.4 per cent. Steel ingot production in the Chicago district is scheduled at 82 per cent of capacity, up 0.6 of a point from last week. Except for three or four furnaces temporarily out of service for repairs, producers in the Chicago district are running at practical capacity.

FIND USED CARS NO HANDICAP TO NEW AUTO SALES

New York, April 19.—(AP)—Automobile trade circles said today the used car situation should prove no obstacle to sales of new motors this spring. Several months ago the used car supply was said to have occasioned some concern to dealers. Observers noted that apparently large numbers of second hand motors had accumulated in and around major cities.

Motor men who keep in close touch with dealers currently report the total of new cars has been reduced materially in the last few months. The reason for this, they say, was that production shutdowns by General Motors and Chrysler gave dealers a chance to concentrate on clearing out numerous old cars which otherwise might now be an appreciable handicap to sales of new models.

Sales of used cars normally follow the same seasonal pattern as new motors, advancing sharply to a top in April or May, and then falling gradually for the rest of the year.

American Rolling Mill Shipments Set High Mark

First quarter shipments of American Rolling Mill company were larger than that for any other first quarter in the company's history, with March exceeding any preceding month by about 175,000 tons, the company reported yesterday.

BIG FARM GROUP HITS ROOSEVELT COURT PROGRAM

Asks Meat Imports Be Restricted.

Washington, D. C., April 19.—[Special.]—The National Grange, one of the largest farm organizations, broke with the administration today on three important items of its legislative program, demanding rejection of President Roosevelt's judiciary reorganization plan, restrictions on imports of foreign meat products, and continuance of the present 3½ per cent interest rate on mortgages held by federal land banks.

The stand taken by the grange was outlined in a list of ten demands drawn up at the conclusion of a directors' meeting attended by L. J. Taber, master of the organization, Fred J. Freestone of New York, Ray W. Grill of Oregon, and F. A. Eckert of Illinois, all members of the executive committee.

Urges Protecting Home Market.

Besides the demand for an equitable share of agriculture in the national wealth, the committee recommended:

"So long as the protective system prevails, it is of prime importance that the American farmer be given the American market to the extent that he is able to supply it. Proper steps should be taken to curb the large volume of pork and canned meat products pouring into this country from abroad.

"Until the economic balance of agriculture is restored, it is essential that the present interest rate of 3½ per cent on mortgages held by the federal land banks be continued.

Outlines Agricultural Program.

"Use ever normal granary plan, soil conservation, crop insurance, and similar measures to protect agriculture, and enact legislation to reduce farm tenancy. Our primary concern should be to encourage and maintain the family sized farm.

"To protect the public against discriminations in rail rates the proposal for the repeal of the long and short haul clause of the transportation act should be defeated.

"The National Grange has long been on record for the maintenance of an independent judiciary. We, therefore, urge the defeat of the pending proposal in congress relative to enlarging the Supreme court.

SEVERAL ROADS REPORT GAIN IN FREIGHT TRAFIC

Freight car loadings last week as reported yesterday by several railroads were above those reported for the preceding week. The Baltimore and Ohio railroad reported a gain of nearly 3,000 cars over the week ended April 10. Individual reports with comparisons follow:

U. S. Launches New Program of Borrowing

Washington, D. C., April 19.—[Special.]—The United States treasury today embarked on a new borrowing operation that bids fair to be more expensive than similar operations conducted in recent years.

Secretary Morgenthau opened bids on $50,000,000 of treasury discount bills which will be retired from third quarter income tax receipts. He also announced that he expects to borrow $50,000,000 for an indefinite period in order to maintain the treasury cash working balance.

Sell More Treasury Bills.

Today's sale of treasury bills consisted of a $50,025,000 issue running for 148 days and maturing on Sept. 16, 1937, the day after income tax payments for the third quarter are due. These bills were sold at an average price of 99.776, or at an average interest rate of 0.545 per cent annually.

While there have been no recent issues of 148 day bills, the treasury has been forced to pay increasing interest rates on similar treasury issues. Morgenthau also announced that $50,300,000 of 273 day bills, maturing Jan. 19, 1938, had been sold at an average price of 99.469, or at an average interest rate of 0.701 per cent annually. This was the regular weekly issue to meet current maturities. The last previous offering of corresponding maturity, sold on April 5, carried an average rate of 0.661 per cent.

Discuss Additional Bonds.

The new borrowing program caused discussion among federal financial authorities as to whether additional bond issues would be necessary in June. Discount bills totaling $300,000,000 mature coincident with the June 15 tax receipts.

Authoritative persons said the administration hopes to start the new fiscal year on July 1 with a substantial cash balance, and that it thus may refinance the maturing bills in June. At present, the treasury's working cash stands at $834,359,000. Secretary Morgenthau has said he hopes to keep it at the billion dollar level.

KRESGE STORES, TOKHEIM OIL PAY INITIAL DIVIDENDS

Initial dividends were declared yesterday by Kresge Department Stores and by the Tokheim Oil Tank and Pump company, the former declaring $1 on the new 4 per cent first preferred stock, and the latter declaring 25 cents on its capital stock.

The E. L. Bruce company declared a dividend of $1.75 on the new $3.50 preferred for the period from Oct. 1, 1936, to March 31, 1937, and $1.75 on the 7 per cent preferred for the period from Jan. 1 to March 31, 1937.

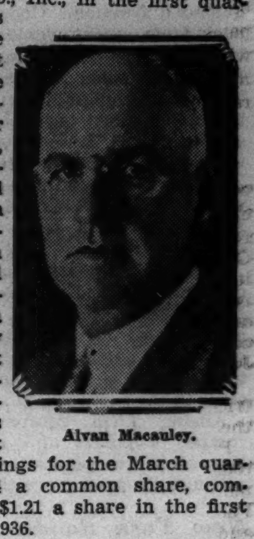
Tire Building Machinery Made for Ford Company

Akron, O., April 19.—(AP)—A statement issued by the National Rubber Machinery company here today confirmed an earlier report that the company was at work on tire building machinery for the Ford Motor company. Company officials said delivery of the order would start June 15 and would be completed within 100 working days. Tire production men here estimated the machinery would be capable of producing 18,000 tires a day.

DU PONT FIRST QUARTER PROFIT BEST SINCE 1930

Equals $1.34 Share; Others Gain.

Earnings of E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., Inc., in the first quarter of this year were the largest since the corresponding quarter of 1930, despite lower dividend income from its large investment in General Motors corporation, a preliminary statement issued yesterday disclosed. This report placed earnings for the March quarter at $1.34 a common share, compared with $1.21 a share in the first quarter of 1936.



Alvan Macauley.

Dividend income from holdings of 10,000,000 shares, or 28 per cent of General Motors' outstanding stock, amounted to only $2,500,000 in the March quarter, against $4,925,954 from this source a year earlier. This indicated the increased earnings resulted solely from du Pont's chemical manufacturing operations. General Motors reduced its quarterly dividend from 50 to 25 ents during the strike tieup in the early part of the year.

Others Report Good Gains.

The du Pont company was one of many leading manufacturing concerns yesterday reporting, either by pamphlet or at annual meetings, that business was moving well ahead of a year ago and that earnings were showing corresponding gains.

Alvan Macauley, president of the Packard Motor Car company, told stockholders at the annual meeting in Detroit that earnings for the first quarter were about twice the $1,248,029, or 8 cents a common share, for the first quarter of last year. He said that despite increased production facilities the company has not been able to keep abreast of demand this year.

M. M. Gilman, general manager, said that production of Packard cars is currently running at the rate of

The One Way TO AVOID RISK

– and to enjoy complete peace of mind – before or after the accident that happens in spite of all precautions – is to carry the right kind of automobile insurance. There is also ONE WAY to recover that part of the cost of automobile insurance which is a reflection of accidents caused by the carelessness of irresponsible drivers. That way is to place your automobile insurance in a strong mutual company that takes only selected risks.

● THE PRIMARY PURPOSE of an EMPLOYERS MUTUAL automobile policy is protection – protection against claims for damages arising from automobile accidents causing bodily injuries to others or damage to the property of others, and protection against loss through damage to the insured's automobile.

● THE MATTER OF SERVICE facilities is of great importance. Through trained, direct company representatives operating from completely equipped branch offices, the interests of policyholders are given prompt, courteous and accurate attention.

● BY DEALING through direct representatives, through careful selection of business, and through accident prevention activities, thereby reducing both loss and expense ratios below average, it has been possible during the entire life of the company to effect substantial savings for policyholders in the form of dividend returns.

● THE COMPANY has operated successfully for many years, is of unquestionable financial standing, maintains fully adequate reserves, receives the highest rating from recognized authorities, and issues a strictly non-assessable automobile policy.

An inquiry, with a description of your automobile, will bring you complete details without obligating you in any manner.

New York Stocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 19.—Prices on the stock exchange closed irregular today. The so-called commodity stocks—oils, rubbers, steels, and coppers—attracted the major share of attention, rails were in demand and utilities drifted along with few takers. Volume for the day was the smallest in several months, with only 817,320 shares moving.

Some brokers attributed the small turnover to a desire on the part of many traders to await the President's budget message. In the absence of heavy selling, it was pointed out the sentiment in the street considered the situation on the whole to be constructive.

Despite early pressure, steel shares pushed forward under the leadership of Bethlehem and U. S. Steel. Big steel eased in late trading, however, but closed higher on the day. Others to work higher were Otis, Republic and Inland Steel.

Motor stocks moved along favorably, although General Motors was sluggish most of the day. Chrysler gained a fraction. Coppers bounded back from recent weakness to make large gains. Anaconda, Cerro, and Kennecott added over a point each. The improvement in rubber prices had a beneficial influence on rubber shares. U. S. Rubber was a leader with a jump of 1⅝ points.

Opening on good sized blocks, oils moved higher. Skelly, Seaboard, and Standard of New Jersey lead in the upswing.

Interest in the rails was believed to continue to reflect improved business from larger farm crops. In the rail equipments Pullman jumped 1¼ points on reports putting first quarter earnings around 78 cents, compared to 31 cents in the same period a year ago.

Among farm equipments Deere jumped 4 points and International Harvester 1¼ points. Case turned soft and dropped more than 2 points.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 19.—It took the bond market considerable time to regain momentum today as it opened another week. Prices were generally higher, but there was so little volume that it left the impression that the market is still exceptionally thin. Turnover for all bonds totaled $9,963,000, face value, compared with $9,451,000 Friday.

Government and domestic railroad loans stepped smartly upward notwithstanding comparatively small scale trading in both sections. Other groups also finished in higher ground, with the possible exception of industrial liens, which faltered a little toward the close.

The federal list, in which less than $1,000,000 of bonds were traded, stood 1-32 to 9-32 of a point higher at the end of the session. Most of the advances were in the upper register of that range.

Chicago Stocks.

Zenith Radio stock registered the outstanding movement of the Chicago exchange yesterday, jumping 2½ points in fairly active trading. The market as a whole was dull with the list closing irregular. Among the more active issues, General Finance rose ⅜, Utah Radio Products, ½, and Armour, ⅛. There were two new highs for the year: Continental Steel preferred at 105, up 2; and Rollins Hosiery at 30¼, closing at 29¾, up 1¾.

Bank Stocks.

First National bank stock declined $4 to $7 a share yesterday as quoted by various dealers. Other leading bank issues were steady.

Commodities

Live Stock.

The advance in live stock and meat markets at the close of last week continued yesterday. Some kinds of meat soared to new 1937 peaks, with lamb leading the rise. Advances of 50 cents to $1 in the wholesale trade carried some lamb cuts to the highest April levels in eight years.

Lamb legs, loins and saddles sold to butcher shops wholesale at $22 to $24 per hundred pounds, or $1 to $3 higher than a year ago, while hotel racks at $24 to $28 showed $7 to $8 advance over 1936 prices. Stewing lambs at $12 to $13 was up $1 to $2. Beef sold steady to 50 cents higher than at the close of last week.

Butcher shops obtained beef loins at $18 to $44, or $4 to $9 higher than a year ago, and ribs at $13 to $30 which were $2 to $5 above 1936. Cheaper cuts, such as rounds, chucks and plates, were 50 cents to $2.50 above a year ago.

Advances of 50 cents were scored in pork during the session, but pork cuts except spareribs and trimmings are selling for less than last year.

Lambs also took the lead in the live stock trade, advancing 15 to 25 cents to a top of $13.35, the highest April mark since 1929. Hogs moved up 5 cents to 10 cents, the market showing a gain for the sixth consecutive day. Both the extreme top and average prices advanced 5 cents to $10.35 and $10.05 respectively. The general cattle market was strong to 25 cents higher.

Cotton.

COTTON—Futures were strong early yesterday but weakened later. General buying was in evidence at the opening based on unexpected strength in Liverpool, but the upturn of around 20c a pound in American markets was followed by commission house liquidation. The close was at the lowest level of the day with net losses in Chicago of .3@.14c. Other American markets lost .01@.15c a pound.

Lard.

Heavy short covering as the result of the general strength in commodity markets lifted lard futures 25 cents in the early trading yesterday, but the upturn brought in a return of scattered commission house liquidation and hedging by cash interests. MAKE PROGRESS ON NEW ILLINOIS COAL MINE SCALE

Operators, Union Heads Resume Wage Parley.

Progress in writing a new contract for Illinois coal miners belonging to the United Mine Workers of America was made at a meeting here yesterday, according to F. S. Wilkie, secretary of the Illinois Coal Operators' association.

The mine workers are asking an agreement substantially the same as that reached between the Appalachian coal operators and their workers. The Illinois miners are asking increases of 50 to 70 cents a day over their present basic wage scale of $5 to $5.50 a day.

Committee Resumes Parley.

A committee of twelve, six representing the Illinois Coal Operators' association and six representing the United Mine Workers, reconvened yesterday after their adjournment on April 10. The operators were headed by D. W. Buchanan, president of the Old Ben Coal corporation, and the United Mine Workers by Ray Edmundson of Springfield, president of District 12 for Illinois. It was said that an agreement may be reached by the end of the week.

During a recess in the negotiations a resolution was adopted by the policy and scale committee of the Illinois district of the United Mine Workers asking that the Progressive Miners of American, a rival union, join United Mine Workers to make a stand against efforts to "break down the wage agreement and working conditions that exist in Illinois."

Union Headed by Lewis.

United Mine Workers is headed by John L. Lewis, leader of the C. I. O. group of unions.

The resolution, which was signed by Edmundson, charged that the Progressive Mine Workers of America has been "cooperating with the Coal Operators of Illinois" and urged officials of the latter organization to negotiate a contract based on the U. M. W. A. demands. It alleged that the Progressive union is deferring action on its contract until the U. M. W. A. negotiations are concluded.

COMMODITIES ERASE GAINS AND CLOSE MIXED

Grains, Rubber and Hides Finish Higher.

World commodities closed irregular yesterday after profit taking late in the day erased early gains. Grains, rubber, and hides were among the few commodities that finished higher. Best prices were posted soon after the opening in most commodities. Dullness in the metal markets apparently discouraged traders and holdings were offered more freely as the day progressed. Cotton and a few other commodities turned early gains into losses.

Rubber was in demand all day despite reports of heavy Malayan shipments. Final prices were nearly ½ cent higher under active commission house buying and short covering. Rubber for delivery in July closed at 23.17 cents a pound bid.

Copper Market Dull.

Export copper markets were dull with only a few sales reported at 14.70 cents a pound, compared with 15.125 cents Saturday. The domestic price remained at 15.50 cents in quiet trading, but another ¼ cent was cut from the price of scrap copper, bringing prices for the refined metal to about 14.25 to 14.50 cents a pound. Copper futures were .01 cent lower to .11 cent higher at the close.

Tin futures declined ⅛ to ⅜ cent a pound. Tin for immediate delivery and nearby months were quoted around 57.50 cents. Zinc futures were fractionally lower and lead futures advanced moderately. Lead and zinc for immediate delivery were unchanged in active trading.

Hides closed .15 to .17 cent higher with the June delivery quoted at 16.43 cents. Both world and domestic sugar contracts also finished with moderate gains. Coffee contracts eased with July Santos coffee closing at 10.64 cents a pound.

Cotton Loses Advance.

Cotton at one time was up $1 a bale or more, but final prices were down 15 to 70 cents. Foreign silver in New York was quoted at 45¼ cents an ounce, unchanged from Saturday, and silver futures in Montreal gained .10 to .20 cent an ounce. Cocoa was virtually unchanged in moderate trading. Wool tops were a few points lower.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

by Frank Ridgway

Crop Insurance.

April 19, 1927.

MEN at the Tribune Experimental farms who have been studying the proposed government wheat insurance plan now pending in Washington have tried to figure out how the program would be applied to a given farm. According to the report of the President's committee on crop insurance, past production figures for the farm and for the county in which it is located would be used to establish premium and indemnity rates. The committee says that agricultural adjustment administration records show the yearly production on many farms since 1930.

Here is an example of how the scheme would figure out for a given farm: Suppose that production in bushels per acre for the farm during the years 1930 to 1935 had been 11, 18, 6, 12, 0, and 13 respectively. This would be a total of 60 bushels or an average for the six years of 10 bushels per year. This would establish 10 bushels per acre as the probable production for the farm and the insurance would be based on that amount the government policy covering 75 per cent of this expected yield, or 7.5 bushels per acre. In other words, the farm would be due indemnities only in case the yield fell below 7.5 bushels per acre.

How Cost Is Figured.

Next comes the question of how much the insurance for this particular farm would cost in terms of bushels of wheat per acre to be paid in premiums for a year's protection. This too would be determined by the production figures given for the years listed above and a premium rate established that would balance the probable indemnity payments.

Had a policy been in effect during those years, indemnities would have been due in only two of the years—1932, when the yield was 6 bushels per acre and 1934 when the crop was a total failure. The amounts of indemnities would have been 1.5 bushels in 1932 and 7.5 bushels in 1934, making a total for the six year period of 9 bushels or an average of 1.5 bushels per acre per year.

County Average Taken.

This would not establish exactly 1.5 bushels per acre as the rate of premium, because all available corresponding figures for wheat farms in the county would be taken into consideration and the average of the county figures and that for the individual farm would be taken as the premium rate for the farm in question. Suppose the figure for the county was 1.25 bushels per acre. Then the average of 1.25 and 1.5 would give 1.375 bushels per acre as the premium rate for this farm.

It is thought that averaging the figures for a given farm and those for all the county in which it is located would tend to iron out extreme fluctuations in premium rates that might work hardships on some farmers and be to the advantage of others. The theory is that any variation from average conditions on a given farm during one period of years likely would not occur during a succeeding period, but might happen on some other farm instead.

BRITISH WHEAT QUOTA PAYMENTS ARE SUSPENDED

LONDON, April 19.—(AP)—Wheat quota payments by British millers and importers of flour were suspended today. The present surplus in the wheat fund, it is estimated, will be sufficient to meet the wheat subsidy for the current cereal year ending July 31. Whether quota payments will be reintroduced later depends on the course of the price of home grown millable wheat.

Quota payments are the contribution which the flour miller and wheat importer makes to the wheat fund, from which the registered wheat grower is paid a subsidy. This subsidy is based on a guaranteed price of 10 shillings [$2.46] per hundredweight, known as the standard price. In practice, the subsidy represents the difference between the ascertained average price the farmer received for his wheat on the market and the standard price.

U. S. Bankers Join Parley on Cuban Debt Settlement

[Copyright: 1937: By the New York Times.]

HAVANA, April 19.—Prof. Dan A. Munro of Princeton university, representing the foreign bondholders' protective council, arrived here this morning to represent claims of the American bondholders to the commission of the Cuban government now seeking a possible formula for settlement of the public works bonds, in default since 1933. Shepard Morgan, vice president of the Chase National bank, and Roger C. Hyatt, vice president of the Continental Illinois Bank and Trust Company of Chicago, also arrived today to take part in the negotiations.

New York, April 19.—[Special.]—The price of advertised brands of milk was reduced another cent a quart today, but unadvertised brands remained unchanged so far as could be learned. Sheffield Farms and Borden cut the price of delivered grade B milk to eleven cents a quart, and reduced their prices to stores accordingly to permit a retail store price of ten cents a quart. Unadvertised brands are sold to stores to retail at eight to nine cents a quart for grade B milk.

By an order of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, New York County, dated July 15, 1935, New York Title and Mortgage Company was placed in liquidation pursuant to Article XI of the Insurance Law.

By a further order in this proceeding dated April 5, 1937, the Supreme Court has ordered all persons who claim title to any moneys or properties or assets of any nature, kind or description in the hands of the Superintendent of Insurance of the State of New York, as Liquidator of the New York Title and Mortgage Company, to present and file their claims in writing under oath with the Superintendent of Insurance as Liquidator of said Company or with his Special Deputy Superintendent of Insurance in charge of the said Company on or before September 1 1937.

All trust claims presented and filed on or before September 1, 1937 will be determined and trust assets distributed without further notice to persons failing to file verified proofs of claim clearly designated as trust claims pursuant to this notice on or before that date. Persons so failing to file proofs of claim will be barred from any distribution of trust assets or assets applicable to the payment of trust or preferred claims that may hereafter be made by the Superintendent of Insurance of the State of New York, as Liquidator of New York Title and Mortgage Company, pursuant to the further order of the Court.

It is provided in the order that no trust claim need be presented or filed by any trust claimant who has already filed with the Superintendent of Insurance a verified proof of claim which has set forth the facts on which the alleged trust is based and which has been clearly designated as a trust or preferred claim and that no trust claim need be filed by any trust claimant who has obtained and served an order directing the Superintendent of Insurance to segregate the amount of the funds claimed by such claimant.

MEN FOR

Chicago-Berwyn
Evanston-Whiting
So. Chicago-E. Chicago

I could never begin to put in writing the real meaning of this opportunity. It is difficult to write an ad that will attract the attention of good men due to the fact that so many advertisements appear in the paper.

Our business is wonderful and is getting better every day. Our men are happy in their work, making real money. Lee Zakaib, former truck driver, made $1,154 for four week's work. He has a wife and nine children—never sold before he came with us. J. O. Cardwell, a painter, made $927.71 in twenty-four days. C. Perry came in this business since the first of the year. His earnings for his first week exceeded $100. W. Biruk, another new man [one week with us] earned $156.00 last week. These are facts, they are actual commissions and bonuses earned. I could list fifty names, but it would only take up a lot of space.

It does not matter what line of work you have been following. If you are out of a job, here is a lifetime opportunity that I will prove to you pays more money than any other proposition in the country.

STOLEN!
Buying this beautiful sport sedan at my price of $780 is just like stealin'. Any buyer who knows a bargain will buy this beautiful Lincoln '34 on sight and when he does, he practically has stolen it. Why be satisfied with a mediocre cheap car, when you can own a $5,800 Lincoln for $780? You might say "It costs too much to drive": about $50 additional cost a year, but what's that compared to the comfort, prestige, and safety of a Lincoln?

IT'S LUNCH TIME FOR THE DIONNE QUINTUPLETS AT CALLANDER

Today's pictures in series on day's activities of Dionne quintuplets bring the little girls up to lunch time after a morning of play and work. Yvonne's ablutions are interrupted by the sound of the dinner bell and she turns to see if she is late.

Cecile (left) and Yvonne wash their hands under the watchful eyes of Nurse O'Shaughnessy. It must be a thorough job. There are individual wash cloths and towels for each of the girls and they know their own. [World Copyright: 1937: NEA Service, Inc.]
